THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the bottle, without which none will be genuine.

To the Editor of the National Era:

Inasmuch as you stopped my paper without my request, I had intended to leave it, not knowing why a publisher should be an exception to all other operations, of making payment in advance, believing that even with yourself you do not pay until the labor is completed.

Yes—a newspaper publisher ought to be an exception. Say that the Era has twenty-five thousand subscribers. They are scattered through all the States and Territories of the Union. Suppose it were published on the credit system — there would be forty or fifty thousand dollars due in small sums of $2 or $1.50, from twenty-five thousand debtors, ranging from Maine to Florida, from New York to California. Meantime, the cost of printing this large edition — type-setting, paper, press-work, clerk hire, rent, fuel, lights, office expenses — must be paid weekly, all in advance of the payments to be made by subscribers — and when the time comes to collect the infinitesimal sums due from them, it is out of the question to dream of employing collectors, and at least one half the debt will remain unpaid. This we know. We tried the credit system twelve years, and were always in debt. We have tried the advance system nine years, and will never abandon it We would rather print 5,000 copies for advance payment, than 15,000 copies for credit.

We cannot know personally twenty-five thousand subscribers. We may know that the friend who wrote the foregoing is honest and punctual, but his neighbor may be dishonest or unpunctual. A subscriber at the end of the year may be in debt, or sick, or away from home, or engrossed in business, or shut up in a snow bank, or dead, or careless.

Suppose one half fail in punctuality, the editor is seriously embarrassed, or ruined; he must bear the whole loss. But should he prove dishonest, or unable to continue his paper, nobody is ruined, nobody embarrassed—the aggregate loss is considerable, but it is divided among thousands, each losing not more than a dollar or two.

But, the fact is—it is a thing not to be reasoned about. The Era stands upon the system of advance payment, and can never stand on any other.—Nat. Era.

MARKETING AT WASHINGTON.—The following we extract from Olmstead's "Seaboard Slave States." It is a picture of market day in Washington which is very little complimentary and not at all exaggerated.

The very trifling quantity of articles brought in and exposed for sale by most of the market people was noticeable; a peck of potatoes, three bunches of carrots, two cabbages, six eggs and a chicken, would be about the average stock and trade of all the dealers. Mr F. said that an old negro woman once come to his door with a single large turkey, which she pressed him to buy. Struck with her fatigued appearance, he made some inquiries of her, and ascertained that she had been several days coming from home, had traveled mainly on foot, and had brought the turkey and nothing else with her. "Ole massa had to raise some money somehow, and he could not sell anything else, so he tole me to catch the big gobbler, and tote um down to Washington and see what um would fotch."

FROM SEVEN TO ELEVEN.—Among other little missives asking "the pleasure of your company," we lately received one by the terms of which the "pleasure" was expressly limited to the hours "from seven to eleven o'clock.' We accepted the invitation, and, with not far from one hundred other guests enjoyed the evening right pleasantly. A bountiful supper was served at half past nine, and then the dance went on more lively than ever. By and by the whirling waltz-music sobered into a march. Very few but wondered "what now?" although they unquestionably fell into the train. When all were thus "in marching order" the music changed to "Good night," the host and hostess appeared at a convenient point, and, shaking hands with each one of their guests, bid them a pleasant bon soir. It was ten minutes past eleven o'clock—that was the "what now?"—N Y Sun.

THE CAMELS.—The camels and dromedaries purchased and otherwise procured by Major Wayne and Captain Porter, under the appropriation made for the purpose at the last session of Congress, in Asia Minor, (Feb. 11, 1856,) had embarked, and the vessel would sail with the first fair wind for the United States. The number of the animals procured is 33, viz: 9 male and fifteen female camels; 4 male and 5 female dromedaries.

The vessel is expected to arrive at Indianola, Texas, about the last of April; at which place they will be landed and suffered to recruit before being employed for army transportation purposes. Several of the animals are a present from the Viceroy of Egypt to our Government.—Washington Star, 21st.

AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY.—The receipts of this society for the last month were $56,603, including $22,559 in donations, making a total for ten months of $304,611. The donations exceed those of the corresponding period of the previous year by the sum of $16,000. Grants of publication for the same period over 48,000,000 of pages. The proposed appropriation for the support of the Tract press in Papal and Pagan countries for the year ending April 1, amount to 18,000 or 20,000 in advance of the previous year.—Twenty-four additional colporteurs have just been commissioned, and important plans are maturing for giving efficiency to the Society's labors at the South and West.

THUS IS LIFE.—If we die to-day, the sun will shine as brightly, and the birds sing as sweetly, to-morrow. Business will not be suspended a moment, and the great mass will not bestow a thought upon our memories. Is he dead? will be the solemn inquiry of a few, as they pass to their work. But no one will miss us except our immediate connections, and in a short time they will forget us and laugh as merrily as when we sat beside them. Thus shall we all, now active in life, pass away. Our children crowd close behind us, and they will soon be gone. In a few years not a living being can say, "I remember him." We lived in another age, and did business with those who slumber in the tomb. Thus is life. How rapidly it passes!

Men will have the same veneration for a person who suffers adversity without dejection, as for demolished temples, the very ruins whereof are reverenced and adored.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 26, 1856.

No NEUTRALITY.—A subscriber to the Phenix, who signs his name, and who is therefore entitled to a hearing and answer, says:

"I make one further suggestion, that you will disregard I doubt not. You are not and cannot be neutral in politics."

We never pretended to be neutral in any thing; but we are as independent in politics as we are in regard to temperance, and no more so. We express our views freely on both subjects. If any man agrees with us, well. If he contends against us, we answer him according to our best discretion.

He says further—

"Suppose you strike out that——. It will not cost you one subscriber where it will give you five."

We could easily strike out the line of type, which says "Independent of party in politics and sect in religion,"—but it would not be so easy to strike out our independence of these things, unless our head were stricken off at the same time.

Our independence on both these subjects, where we are best known, is not and cannot be construed into neutrality: we give our views too plainly and too often for this. And as to subscribers; we don't think that line makes one hair white or black. Those who have given in their names under that sign, expect to find, and do find, the statements and the views, of friends and foes, on almost every important question.

And then our friend puts up this ejaculation:

"Success attend the cause, and you only while you serve it."

We like plainness of speech—and we hope the writer does not mean to wish success for us only—because some other men and other editors serve the good cause of temperance as earnestly as we—but we suppose he means to wish us success only while we make a paper serviceable to the good cause of temperance. To this we cannot object.

The same correspondent makes the following suggestion in regard to town agencies.

Agencies should provide but 3 articles, viz: 1, 95 per cent. Alcohol.

2, Otard Brandy; to be delivered only on physicians' prescriptions, giving name of patient, disease and dose.

3, Skin spirits. Take of strongest, cheapest, rawest whiskey 30 gallons; spirits turpentine 1 1-2 gallons.

He puts these questions and makes answer.

1. Can a man drunk and quiet in the highway be arrested?

Ans. Yes.

2. Can a man who has been drunk in weeks past, but now sober, be arrested?

Ans. I think so.

3. Can the selectmen instruct the Agent not to sell at all?

Ans. Clearly so.

Then the assertion that the law compels towns to open grog-shops is false.

It is very clear that towns are not only not obliged to open grog-shops, but that they have no power to do so: for a grog-shop is a place where mixed liquors are drank.

But the letter of the law does require selectmen to keep an agency for medicinal and mechanical purposes: and though the Agent would be held harmless, if he under the selectmen's instruction, refused to sell for such purposes—yet they would be punishable if by instruction or otherwise they nullified the law.

☞ The Newburyport Herald states that an Old Folk's Concert will be given at the City Hall, Newburyport, on Fast night, by about 150 singers, most of them of the old school, some of whom have even seen seventy-five years; and much of the music to be performed is older than they are. It will be one of the greatest and most attractive concerts ever given in the city, says the Herald, and truly.

APPLES AND POTATOES.—A communication from Oxford County, Maine, published in the Portland Advertiser says:

There are certain kinds of produce quite abundant in this region, for which it is desirable to find a market. I allude to Apples and Potatoes. The finest Apples, especially Baldwins, may be found in almost any quantity among the farmers; and yet there is no sale, at remunerating or even at the lowest prices. The same is true of Potatoes.

This looks as if the Oxford county farmers had held on a few months too long.

☞ A caucus of Republican members of Congress, was held in Washington on Monday evening, at which there was a full attendance. The principal speeches were made by Campbell of Pennsylvania, Campbell of Ohio, Seward, Galloway and Pennington. Mr. Giddings urged a thorough union, as in Ohio, on the principle of requiring no one to surrender their convictions on other points, if sound on the Nebraska question.

☞ The Boston Chronicle says, a large quantity of liquor was seized in Weymouth, on Thursday last.

☞ The answer to the Charade in the Morning Chronicle of March 18, and the Weekly of the 22d, is—Miller & Gray.

ORGANIZATION OF THE NEW CITY GOVERNMENT

THURSDAY, March 25.

COMMON COUNCIL.—The Common Council was called to order at 10 o'clock by J. W. Fernald, Esq., Clerk of the previous year. Henry F. Wendell, Esq., was chosen Chairman pro tem.

After the presentation and examination of credentials, it was—

On motion of Mr. Hatch, voted that the Mayor be informed that a majority of the Common Council had assembled, and were ready to take the usual oath of office.

In Convention.—The Mayor and Aldermen elect, came in, and the oath of office was administered to the Mayor elect, Hon. Richard Jenness, by Hon. Horton D. Walker, Mayor last year; after which the oath was administered to the Aldermen and Common Council by Mayor Jenness.

On motion of Ald. Rundlett the Convention rose.

Common Council.—On motion of T. H. Odion proceeded to the election of President.

H. F. Wendell	1—

and Albert R. Hatch was declared elected President. Upon taking the chair, Mr. Hatch addressed the Council as follows;—

Gentlemen:

I thank you for the confidence you have reposed in me. I have ever regarded it as a higher honor to receive the approbation of my townsmen and neighbors, than it would be to receive for any office, however exalted, the votes of distant towns or even States, where one is known only by the principles or party he represents. I shall rely upon your indulgence and courtesy to aid me in the discharge of the duties you have imposed, and to pass lightly over the errors and faults which I know are too likely to attend me. I assure you that no diligence shall be wanting on my part to merit your confidence, and secure the continuance of your favor.

Upon us are imposed the important duties of aiding in the making and administration of those laws which most nearly and seriously affect the community we represent. We can conceive it possible for our city to exist and even prosper without the aid of the National or State governments. To them belong the great questions of peace and war, and the general administration of justice. Yet we might for a time, perhaps, hope to be free from foreign invasion, domestic insurrection and private rapacity, if deprived of their powerful and beneficent protection. But without the local administration of town and city governments, order would cease, and the general legislature must become powerless or despotic. Our schools, our streets and roads, the security of property from fire and violence, the preservation of the general health, all public improvements, the extension of facilities for business, and the maintainance of peace and order in the community, are all placed peculiarly in our care. We are responsible for the assessment and distribution of a large share of the public taxes. Indeed, the charter of our city commits to the care of the City Council a power of local legislation not greatly inferior in extent to that of the General Court itself.

That we may wisely exercise the important powers which we hold by the election of our fellow citizens, will require our utmost care. The prosperity of the city, and its growth by the influx of foreign capital and labor will depend much upon an economical management of the public money, and a discreet administration of our local police. To the natural advantages with which our city is so richly endowed, let us add the invitation of low taxes, a well-ordered police, free alike from official insolence and remissness in duty, and a well-manifested disposition to adopt every reasonable and judicious measure to facilitate trade, promote public improvements and encourage the investment of capital, and we shall be sure to increase in population, wealth and respectability.

As we shall all be actuated by the desire to attain these common interests, whatever may be the diversity of opinion among us as to the means by which they are to be secured,—you will permit me, gentlemen, to express the hope that the utmost good will will continue to prevail among ourselves in the transaction of the public business; and to assure you, that forgetful of party and of my own opinions, I shall endeavor to discharge the duties you have entrusted to me with perfect impartiality and unvarying courtesy.

After the Divine blessing had been invoked by Rev. Dr. Peabody,

The Mayor read the following

ADDRESS.

Gentlemen of the City Council:

We are assembled here to take upon ourselves the trust committed to us by our fellow citizens, of administering the affairs of the City for the ensuing year.

We are bound, in return for the generous confidence reposed in us, and by our oaths of office, to exert all our energies to promote the happiness and well-being of the city.

I shall not on this occasion take up the affairs of the different departments in detail, which may come under our supervision and care, for the reason that the heads of those departments have already made reports of their condition, which are printed, and are before you; and for the reason, also, that any citizen may bring before us any suggestion he may wish to make, or any grievance of which he is cognizant.

I find, on an examination of the City Records, that in the year 1829, the first year after the change in the valuation of property liable to taxation, the amount of inventory was $4,115,988, and the amount of tax raised was $15,777, or 3 8-10 mills on a dollar;—while in 1855 the amount of inventory was $5,961,200 and the amount of tax $50,004.19, or 8 1-2 mills on the dollar. In 1849, the year previous to the adoption of the City Charter, the amount of the tax was $36,991.41, showing an increase of our annual tax, during the six years of our city government, of $13,013,08. Also, the City debt has increased from $54,977,80 to $63,402,45 in the same period. This is a large, and it seems to me, an unnecessary increase in our City expenditures.

While, therefore, I would not recommend the witholding appropriations for all necessary objects, I would earnestly propose a careful revision of the whole list of expenditures that our burdens may be lighter, if possible.

I would advise a liberal appropriation for the support of our excellent school system, although it comes under our control only in raising the means; as, upon the proper training of the rising generation depends the success of our Republican Institutions and the moral well-being of society.

With regard to legislation, I would remark, that our laws should never be far in advance or behind the opinions of the majority of the people. Nor should severe penalties be imposed for minor offences, as the result usually is that no punishment follows; and it often happens that the best philanthropic movements are retarded and jeopardized by the intemperate zeal of those who seek from legislation what can best be obtained by other means.

The morals of a community are worthy the attention of every wise and beneficent citizen; and it is especially incumbent upon us, from our position as guardians of the public weal, to maintain such measures as shall conduce to the general peace and happiness.

I believe, and I say it with pride, that this city will favorably compare with any other of its population in the State, in the conduct of its citizens. But I would not relax our exertions for improving or maintaining those regulations which relate to morals, as man, surrounded by temptations and prone to error, needs the restraints which wise laws can give him.

I leave you, gentlemen, in the confidence that I shall have your aid and sympathy in the performance of my duties, and I hope we shall be reasonably successful in the administration of the affairs of the City.

On motion of Ald. Rundlett, voted that the joint Rules of the City Council be in force until otherwise ordered.

On motion of Ald. Rundlett, the Convention rose.

Common Council.—On motion of Mr. Odion, the Council adjourned to meet on Thursday evening at 7 1-2 o'clock.

☞ The Temperance Meeting on Monday evening, in the Temple, was addressed by Rev. Messrs. Lamson and Whiting of Portsmouth, and by Rev. Prof. King, of Fort Edward, New York. The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. Mr. Holman, and closed with singing by the assembly. The audience numerous, and the exercices interesting and pleasant. Another meeting was appointed, to take place on Monday evening April 7.

☞ The Lecture on Tuesday evening, before the Mechanics' Lyceum, was by Rev. Prof. J. E. King, of Fort Edward Seminary, New York.

His subject was Orators and Oratory. He considered Demosthenes the Orator of the world, and John C. Calhoun as the orator of this country. He deemed Athens the fairest field of oratorical display, the most fruitful field of oratorical growth. He complimented and contrasted the eloquence of Calhoun and Webster. He also considered the pulpit and the bar as rival schools and fields for the growth and exercise of oratory, giving the decided preference to the pulpit.

How gently, how smoothly to the river she glides,
Her model so graceful might cope with sea brides,
With Apollo in beauty, with Hercules' strength—
Her breadth and her depth well compare with her length;
Her finish will bear the keen critic's eye,
Though bright as the stars in yon azure sky;
Her constructor and workmen are of the right kind,
As good as the best on the River you'll find.
When fit for the ocean she'll be a crack ship,
May she pay well her owners on every trip!
And among the best ships in the world we may say,
Are those built and launched on the Piscataqua.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

We are right glad the proprietor of this invaluable medicine has established an agency for their sale in our city, and that our friend Preston, No. 2 Congress Block, has secured the appointment of agent. We have long been familiar with the superior merits of this pill, and know every ingredient that enters into their composition, and can therefore conscientiously recommend them to all our friends as a perfectly safe and reliable family medicine. Their judicious use in the Spring of the year is attended with great benefit. We always keep a box in the house ready for use, and would not feel safe without them—they are our main reliance for all ordinary complaints. A few doses in the Spring to start and purify the blood, generally keeps us vigorous and healthy through all the warm weather, when so many are complaining of languor and general debility. We recommend all, who from any cause feel the need of medicine, to call upon the agent, who will be pleased to hand them the circular to Dr. Hayden's Pill, setting forth their basis of action, and applicability to different diseases.

CONGRESS.

MONDAY, March 24.

SENATE.—Mr. Seward introduced a motion calling on the President for information relative to the revolutionary proceedings at Nicaragua, especially with reference to the seizure of the Transit Company's property.

Mr Wilson of Massachusetts made a speech condemnatory of the Naval Board.

On motion of Mr. Weller, the Pacific Railroad bill was made the special order for April 14.

The bill to create an establishment for the public printing, engraving and book-binding, was made the special order for April. 21.—Adjourned.

HOUSE.—The Speaker has announced the Kansas investigoting Committee as follows:—Campbell of Ohio, Howard of Michigan, Oliver of Missouri.

The joint resolution to give the new members of Congress books equal in value to those which members of former Congresses have received, after debate, was passed. The value of the books for each member is about $1000. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 24. — The Kansas Commission.—The prominent topic of discussion here is the composition of the Kansas Commission. Mr. Campbell was elected chairman because he was the leader of the anti-Nebraska party in the last Congress, and as Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means and leader of the House in this. Mr. Howard is regarded as an able lawyer, and was the general choice of the Republicans, who objected to Mr. Dunn on account of his course concerning the Speakership. Mr. Oliver of Missouri was recommended to the Speaker by prominent Nebraska representatives as their choice for the minority member of the Committee. The vacancies thus created in the Committees of Ways and Means and Elections will probably be temporarily filled. The investigation will consume at least two months, the committee being determined to have a thorough scrutiny. They will take a clerk and stenographer with them and two or three Marshals to subpœna witnesses.

NYE'S NARRATIVE.—The New York papers of Tuesday morning, 25th, contain the narrative of John Nye, the survivor of the wreck of the John Rutledge. He says the J. R. took on board at Liverpool 120 passengers 1 cabin passenger, and the others in the second cabin and steerage. Of these, one lost his life before the accident to the vessel.—The passengers were English, Irish and Scotch, and were of the better class of emigrants, on their way to the United States.—Their names Mr. Nye did not know.

Five boats left the ship at the time of the catastrophe. The boat of the captain contained, besides himself, the only cabin passenger on board, the stewardess and her son, a boy 11 years old, the mother of the stewardess, a boy aged 15, whom the captain brought from Liverpool, and 3 children belonging to passengers of the ship. The second boat was likewise filled with passengers. This and the previous boat, took the entire passengers, with the exception of those in the first mate's boat. A fourth boat contained the men belonging to the ship's crew, some ten in number.

The fifth boat from which Mr. Nye was rescued, contained, beside himself, Mrs. Atkinson, the first mate's wife, a sailor belonging to the ship, the boatswain and nine passengers.

The three boats occupied by the crew and passengers, went in a north-westerly direction from the ship. The boat taken by the captain, and the one in which Mr. Nye was, took a southerly course, but did not keep together but about half an hour. Mr. Nye saw neither the captain's or any of the other boats after this.

MAINE.—The Biddeford Union gives the following items, of nearly as much interest in New Hampshire, as in Maine. The Augusta date is March 18.

The question of interest now agitating the coalition members of the legislature is, what is to be done with the Liquor Law? Barnes' bill reported from the Judiciary Committee is unsatisfactory, Wedgewood's voted almost as bad as the law of last winter, and Irish's can command only his vote. As every sensible person anticipated, the men who were going to make a law which would satisfy everybody, prohibitionists, temperate drinkers, downright drunkards, and the friends of free rum generally, are in trouble.

* * * * *

The Bill before the Legislature, prepared by Mr. Wedgewood, of Cornish, is a kind of Maine Law, and the other by Mr. Irish, of Union, is as liberal in its provisions as the most ardent drinker or seller could desire. There is little probability that either bill will find favor with even the majority of the Legislature.

Mr. Barnes' bill is a license bill; so arranged as to create a monopoly in the traffic, in favor of a few individuals in the several cities and towns of our State. The provisions of the Bill are all arranged upon the aristocratic idea of easy rum for the "respectables," and more difficult rum for the masses. * * *

Senator Barnes, in the preparation of this Bill, evinces no knowledge of the extent of the great evil sought to be remedied, and we may say shows a love for aristocratic notions, hardly compatable with democratic principles.

PROSPECTS.—An Augusta correspondent of the Bangor Journal says:—

The "liquor law" will be finally acted upon in the course of a few days, and a bill passed which will both conserve the cause of temperance and be in harmony with that liberal and tolerant sentiment which is cherished by a large majority of the people of that State, and which is opposed to extra-constitutional legislation designed to eradicate a particular evil.

The Kennebec, (Augusta) Journal, says a secret or dark lantern caucus of the liquor men referred the whole thing to a picked committee of twenty, which committee hold daily secret sessions.

The bill which these twenty conferees may frame, will most probably be reported on the eve of adjournment, and passed through without any discussion.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

R. H. EDDY.

No. 76 State st. opp. Kilby at, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, since the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal thereof by him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of useful decisions and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered, legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies or claims of any of patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability.

R. H. EDDY.
Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the most informed, and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in a suring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—Having the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

G. W. STONE'S
Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis
ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXIR a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

and having the name Jas. Swaim stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geometric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers, Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copyright secured.

PEACE EJACULATIONS.—"I can't understand it," said Admiral Lyons; when Louis Napoleon announced the news of peace.

"All I know is," said Cambridge, "I'm off for St. James's."

Prince Napoleon dropped two tears. "That," said he, as the first tear fell—"that is for Hungary; that for Poland."

"Peace!" cried Mark Lane. "Dreadful! Why, corn'll run down to nothin'."

"Peace!" said John Bright. "Heaven be thanked! No more bloodshed; no more double income tax; every man's vine and every man's fig; and what is more important than all, I'm safe for Manchester."

"Peace with Russia!" cried Cobden. "Of course; didn't I always say we should crumple her up?"

"Peace!" said Sir Charles Napier; "then it's no use a bullyragging Graham!"

"Peace!" cried Sir James; "then that claps a muzzle upon Napier!"

"Peace!" says Disraeli; "provoking! And I wrote to support Pam in the war!"

"Peace!" cries Gladstone; "then I may yet be decorated with St. Vladimir."

"Peace!" sighed Admiral Dundas; "then my dream's all moonshine, and I shan't fish a coronet out of the Baltic."

"Peace!" mused Lord Derby; "then, we must get rid of Pam. He can't now go to the country on any cry that we can't outcry him."

"Peace!" said Lord John Russell; "then I'll bring in my Reform Bill—kiss hands at Windsor—and, yes, perhaps I'll once more dine in the city."

"Peace!" said John Bull, with a somewhat soured look. "Peace! And all those beautiful gunboats—and all that was to have been in the Baltic—Cronstadt that was to have gone with a crash—the Malachite gates I was to have for my country-house from the pillage of Petersburg—the Emperor, who was to have been in a cage, and—Peace!" and again John groaned; and then John, with a flashing eye, and bringing down his fist like a mallet on the mahogany, cried—"I tell you what; if it must be peace, that son of a bear, the Rooshian, shall, and must pay the bill."

Mrs. Bull said—"Peace! Why, of course, John, he'll pay the bill." But Mrs. Bull was always a discreet woman. She only said as much to mollify John; for, as she afterwards owned to her neighbors, "they'd never get a penny of their income-tax back again; for the villains of Russians—she knew 'em—would be let off without paying a farthing!"—Punch.

PRESERVE THE UNION.—We distrust the sincerity of the man who proclaims his apprehension of a dissolution of the Union. The North does not threaten it nor desire it. Of the South, nine-tenths know that, to them a dissolution would be the greatest of calamities. It would probably lead to an insurrection of the slaves, for they would know that a dissolution would release the North from their obligation to furnish aid to suppress it. It would certainly lead to the loss, past hope of recovery, of double the number of slaves who now run away from their masters.

Those who pretend to fear a dissolution of the Union, and many others are distressed at the wordy quarrels between the South and the North, and seem to think that pleasant and gentlemanly intercourse would be cheaply purchased by a surrender of our constitutional rights, and the neglect of our constitutional duties. But what harm do these wordy quarrels do? The worst is that the nation has to pay two or three hundred dollars for every hour of scolding. Those engaged in it do not suffer. They enjoy it. In doing it they unburthen themselves of their wrath, and if subsequent reflection brings self reproach, they receive their appropriate punishment and are in a fair way to be reformed.

But these wordy quarrels, and all our quarrels with the South, are to be regretted. They discredit the country; but how can they be quelled and prevented? There is but one way, and that way is, for the fifteen millions of Northern whites to assert and maintain their rights under the constitution against the seven millions of Southern whites who have so long governed the republic. The instant their rights are vindicated—the instant a decisive victory is achieved, all quarreling will end and complete harmony will be restored. The South will be compelled to respect the North, and never again will he heard from our Southern fellow citizens the expression of a threat, or of a wish to secede from the Union.—Keene Sentinel.

A PERTINENT INQUIRY.—Bishop Hughes says that only one-ninth of the people of the United States are Catholics, and that the country has prospered as no country ever before. In reply to this the Louisville Journal says:—

"Ah, but how would it have been if only one-ninth of the population had been Protestants? What prosperity or what freedom do we find in any country where Popery has full swing? Is it not remarkable that in Mexico where the entire population is Roman Catholic, there has been only revolution and crime and civil ruin ever since the people attempted to govern themselves?"

SMALL FRY.—A clerk in the freight department of the Boston and Maine Railroad Company has been discovered to be deficient two or three thousand dollars. The account has been made right by his friends, so that the matter is of no great moment, and it is useless to give names.—Boston Chronicle.

If he had stolen a hundred dollars, and had had no "friends," the State's Prison would have opened its iron portals to him. "Friends" are great inventions. They polish crime down to such a fineness, as to make it look very much like virtue.—Eastern Argus.

ALBANY, March 25.—In the case of the people vs. Joynbee, of Brooklyn, the Court of Appeals has affirmed the judgement of the lower court, which was adverse to the constitutionality of the search and seizure clause. In the Buffalo case, the People vs. Wynhimer, in which judgement was rendered by the lower court in favor of the constitutionality of the prohibitory principle, the Court of Appeals has reversed the judgement, thus declaring not only the search and seizure clause, but even the general principle of prohibition, unconstitutional.

SUDDEN DEATHS.—We learn from the Holliston Advertiser that Capt. Edward Wilson died suddenly in that town on Thursday night. Lorenzo Carley of Sherborn, returned from a ball-room on Thursday night about 12 o'clock, retired to his room, and expired in half an hour after. Mr Emory Morse of Natick also expired very suddenly on Thursday afternoon.

THURSDAY, MARCH 27, 1856.

RELIGION IN GERMANY.

Rev. Thomas Holmes, formerly settled as a pastor in Portsmouth, and now a Professor in Antioch College, writes an interesting letter to the Herald of Gospel Liberty, from which we extract the following:

BONN, Germany, Feb. 19, 1856.

I am greatly interested in observing the operations of Catholicism and Catholics. This is a season of the year in which this anti-Christ puts on his most royal robes and displays himself in his, to the Christian, hideous, but to the Catholic, most fascinating manner.—Since Christmas I think there has not been a week in which some event in adoration of the Virgin, and connected with the birth of the Savior, has not been celebrated. On Christmas day services commenced at 4 o'clock in the morning, which, in this latitude, was four hours before sunrise, and continued hour after hour, by different masses performed by different priests, until 8 o'clock P. M. Then follow the days consecrated to "The Holy Three Kings," i. e. the wise men who "came from the East to Jerusalem," "The Circumcision of the Savior," "The Purification of the Blessed Virgin," "The Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin," and numerous others. We are now in the second week of Lent, and various idolatrous performances are taking place every day. A week ago last Wednesday was "Ash Wednesday," when multitudes flocked to the various churches and chapels in their several neighborhoods, to receive, at the hands of the priests, the mark of a cross, made upon their foreheads with ashes and water. I met some of them in the streets during the day with the mark still visible.

About a half a mile from Bonn is an elevation of some two hundred feet, called the Kreuzberg, (the Hill of the Cross) on the top of which stands an old chapel, a full description of which I intend to give at some other time. This chapel is rich in relics, and is approached by a winding way called the "Way of the Cross," ascending gradually for a distance of something less than a quarter of a mile. It is much visited by pilgrims, some from the neighborhood, and others from a distance, sometimes in processions of one or two hundred, and sometimes in companies or families of three or four. Between the foot of the hill and the top where the chapel stands, by the side of the way and about equal distances from each other, are seven 'stations,' called 'the Seven Painful Moments of Mary.' Before each station is a stone step on which a person can conveniently kneel while the station itself (a stone structure some eight feet high by three and a half wide) contains, in a recess and covered by a wire net-work, a painting some two and a half feet square. The first is 'the Circumcision;' the second, 'the Flight into Egypt;' the third, 'Christ in the Temple,' at the moment he was found by his mother;' the fourth, 'Christ falling under the Cross;' the fifth, 'the Crucifixion;' the sixth, 'the Descent from the Cross;' the seventh, 'the Burial.' As the pilgrim ascends this 'Way of the Cross,' he kneels before each one of these pictures and repeats certain prayers. The sight is most painful to behold. The deep solemnity manifested by all is an unmistakable evidence of the sincerity of the miserable idolaters who hope to increase their merits and thus secure their acceptance before God by thus travelling 'the Way of the Cross.' I say 'idolatrous,' for if this is not idolatry I do not know of any. The fact that it is baptized by the name 'Christianity' cannot alter the other facts connected with it. Persons who pass these pictures, on such occasions, without taking off their hats, are regarded as most impious, and are sometimes rebuked by the devoted, and told that they should take off their hats before the Holy Mary.

A few Sabbaths since, on returning from morning service, I met a procession of some two or three hundred just returning from a pilgrimage. A person who walked near the centre was reading at the time, with a loud voice, the names of the saints, while after each name the people responded 'pray for us.'

Here follows a long list of duties—prayer being offered to "all holy Angels and Archangels, all holy Apostles and Evangelists, Disciples and Martyrs, Bishops and Confessors, Teachers, Priests and Levites, Monks, Hermits, all holy Virgins and Widows, innocent Children, and all the Dear Chosen of God." The writer concludes thus:

I have made the list much longer than I intended to do when I commenced it, but really I did not know when to close the record of folly. This is, however, but a few of them. I have known from a child that they prayed to the saints, but the reality and heathenish idolatry of their forms and ceremonies never appeared to me as it does here where they in fact have their own way; and Protestants here have indeed made a covenant with death, 'an agreement with hell,' to hold their peace, make no attempts to proselyte, circulate no tracts, nor the scriptures, and in fact interfere in no way.

The result is, Christianity has here indeed 'a name to live but is dead.' The Catholic churches are crowded so that we can scarcely find standing room, while Protestant congregations are few and thinly attended. Every thing is in fact in a most deplorable condition. Many of the Protestants look on not only with toleration, but approbation. I had not been here three weeks before a Protestant lady told me she did not think it proper to put the scriptures into the hands of children. She thought they contained much that was calculated to do harm.

They have no prayer-meeting, no Sunday schools; and private labor for the conversion of souls is not known. A theological student told me only three days since that if any one should speak to another on that subject he would be told that was none of his business; and he who should go from house to house, for that purpose would be turned out of doors. The Sabbath, especially afternoon, is spent in visiting, and walking, and riding for pleasure! and the evening by the young people in dancing. The fact is, there is as much need of a Luther, as there was three hundred years ago, and may God in mercy hasten his appearance.

In my next, I shall send you a translation of the Archbishop of Cologne's pastoral letter to his flock, just published. It is somewhat lengthy and astonishingly heathenish, and in some parts blasphemous.

S. J. COURT, DOVER.—The Dover correspondent of the Boston Times, says:

The March term of the Supreme Judicial Court commenced Tuesday, Judge Fowler, of Concord, presiding. The Grand Jury (Mark Noble, Esq., of Great Falls, foreman) received the customary charge from His Honor, and entered upon the discharge of their duties.

In the case of State vs. Hodge, the respondent assented by advice of counsel to a plea of guilty of manslaughter, and was fined the nominal sum of $75 without costs, which was promptly paid by his friends.

Yesterday was occupied in the arraignment of violators of the liquor law. Quimby, (Garrison Hill) plead guilty to six indictments, and was fined $50 and costs. Pratt of Great Falls plead nol con to three indictments, and was fined $150 and costs, which he paid. Regan and Foley, two young Irish sprouts for larceny, two years and ten days in Concord State Prison. The rum trials are still going on. The amount of fines and costs arising from the stampede, will reach $2000, which will replenish the treasury.

LOTTERY DEALERS ARRESTED.—The Boston Advertiser of Wednesday says:

The police have for some time past been watching the movements of parties, who have sold within a short time, a large number of tickets entitling the holders to shares in a lottery scheme, which was to be drawn at the Merchants' Exchange Hotel, yesterday.—These tickets were labelled "Grand Levee at the Merchants' Exchange Hotel, Boston; Admission $1." The list of prizes to be drawn embraced a large variety of articles:—a farm, gold watches, pianos, horses, harnesses, sleighs, and cash gifts, the value of the whole of which was marked on the list at $60,000.

A number of ticket-holders met at the time appointed yesterday, in an upper room of the Merchants' Exchange Hotel, and proceeded with the drawing in due form. Sentinels were stationed at the doors of the apartment to give timely warning of the approach of any intruders, and they were much surprised when Captain Morrill with a posse of the second station police marched in upon them.

The names of the parties arrested are Chas. Seldom, Wm. H. Cromack, Amos P. Coburn, Calvin J. Parker and Obed Raymond. They were brought up in the Police Court in the afternoon, and held for examination in the sum of $2000 each.

GO IT BOOTS — WHY NOT?—The Boston Bee says:—Nearly every woman we met on the streets yesterday had on a pair of boots—good, honest, long-legged, water proof boots. How much better this is than paper-soled disease clinching shoes. We are beginning to think the millenium is approaching. Women wear boots — actual, soled, no mistake boots. When women will allow common sense, instead of false notions of elegance, to control their selection of coverings for the feet, they will have done much to stop the ravages of that great enemy of the women of America—consumption.

Exactly. And why should long skirts be worn, over these boots, to drabble in the mud? And why should it be esteemed less modest or less beautiful to wear short clothes, than to wear long ones and hold them up with both hands?

PROCLAMATION AGAINST THE COOLIE TRADE.—Hon. P. Parker, the United States Commissioner to China, who has just arrived out, has issued a proclamation against the Coolie Trade, which is prohibited by the Government of China. He concludes as follows:

"This notification respects the 'Coolie Trade,' in contradistinction to the voluntary emigration of Chinese adventurers; between these, there exists a wide difference.

Regulations for the business of furnishing Chinese labor to countries that may desire the same, and for affording facilities to Chinese voluntarily disposed to render such service, in providing outfit and passage, and means and freedom to return at their option, may be a subject for future treaty stipulation or Government arrangement on the part of western nations and China."

THE STATE FAIR.—James O. Adams, Esq., Secretary of the New Hampshire State Agricultural Society, gives notice through the columns of the Farmer, that it has been decided to locate the State Fair for 1856, in such large town, or city, as will make the necessary arrangements for the proper Exhibition of Articles and Stock, without expense to the State Agricultural Society.

☞ The arrangement whereby the Great Falls Branch Railroad, has been run by the Great Falls & Conway Railroad company will cease on and after Tuesday next.

The Conway Road during the time which it has run the branch has lost money upon it, and as it is unsuccessful in making the necessary arrangements with the Eastern road to make itself whole it refuses to renew the lease. We do not understand whether trains are to be run over the road or not.

SYRACUSE, March 24.—Horrible Murder.—A woman named Ward, residing near Bridgeport, Madison county, yesterday murdered her four children by cutting their throats with an axe. She then made an unsuccessful attempt to cut her own throat. Cause—neglect and brutality of her husband.

PHILADELPHIA, March 25.—Lenaires, one of the men arrested for shooting Mr. Hatch, of Camden, on Sunday, has confessed that he fired the fatal shot, but alleged that it was done in self-defence.

LOCAL.

PISCATAQUA SHIP BUILDING.

Present appearances indicate that this important part of the business of Portsmouth will be quite extensive, during the present year.

The good freights of the past year, together with the prospects of a paying business for the coming season, and the loss of a large number of first class ships during the past winter, all tend to create a good demand for Piscataqua built Ships, a class of vessels which rank A No. 1 the world over.

The firm of George Raynes & Son, launched a few weeks since the beautiful clipper ship Witch of the Wave, now lying at Pray's Wharf, nearly ready for sea, they have on the stocks nearly ready for launching a first class ship of about 1000 tons, belonging to Capt. Wm. F. Parrott of Boston. The reputation nobly earned by the late Geo. Raynes Esq., for building first class ships, is fully sustained by his son, the present builder, George Raynes, Jr.

Toby & Littlefield launched a short time since the fine ship Anna Decatur, now fitting for sea at Sheafe's wharf, owned by Wm. P. Jones, Esq. and others and to be commanded by Capt. Wm. Parsons. They have also, we understand, contracted to build a similar ship for the same owners.

The Portsmouth Ship Building Company, at Noble's Island are laying out the keel for a ship of about 1000 tons. This company is composed of 12 of our enterprising mechanics who, as we have no doubt, will build ships second to no others on the river.

The progress on two large ships at Badger's Island, under the superintendence of John Yeaton, Esq, has been somewhat delayed by the severity of the season; but we notice the keels are already laid and the framing will probably be commenced in a few days and this old and long established yard will present the business like appearance of former years.

Samuel Badger, Esq., has in course of construction at his yard, on the Kittery side, two handsome specimens of White-Oak Ships, one building for Capt. Daniel Marcy, the other for Capt. Samuel Billings and others, who are each superintending their construction. These ships will both probably be launched during the spring.

E. G. Pierce, Esq., has commenced operations at the new yard at Pierce's Island and is about laying the keel for a ship of 1100 tons, for H. Hastings, Esq., of Boston. When communication from the Island to the main land is completed by a bridge, the new yard at the south end will be quite an addition to the prosperity of this portion of the city.

It is quite likely that as many more ships as we have named will be built during the present season at the different yards; and that this branch of business, which is the main stay of many industrial arts in this city will be prosecuted with a vigor hitherto unsurpassed in the history of Ship Building on this river.

Capital invested in this branch of business has for a number of years past not only enriched the master builders, but has benefitted nearly every other branch of mechanical industry. The manufacture and sale of the Spars and Rigging, Sails and Iron work, Boats and Brass work, Blocks and Water casks, outfits, &c., &c., furnish business for our merchants, labour for our mechanics, population to our city and tend to infuse life into our social system. H.

The first named gentleman of each District Committee constitute the High School Committee.

MR. CHOATE'S LECTURE.—Hon. Rufus Choate gave his long promised lecture on the poet Samuel Rogers, last evening, it being the closing lecture of the season before the Merchantile Library Association. An audience completely packing the Temple was present, to do honor to the great orator. The Boston Bee lately said of the same lecture:

The last days of Rogers were briefly glanced over, during which he said he had never seen the poet, a pleasure of which he was deprived while in England, on account of the sickness of the great man. Passing this theme, the different kinds of old age were considered, the illustrations being drawn from Socrates, Voltaire, Goethe, and Rogers—literature, art, science, government, philosophy. The last twenty years of Rogers's life were portrayed with a master hand, in which the orator's magic eloquence pictured him surrounded by the fascinating works of art and beauty.

In 1818, Sidney Smith asked, "Who reads an American book?" Turning to England said Mr. Choate, where can we find a Dana, a Bryant, a Longfellow, the latter of whom to day had enlisted half the world in his simple and beautiful story of Indian life? The lecture closed somewhat abruptly, as we thought, with a fit tribute to the genius of Longfellow.

Though the lecture was upon Rogers, yet it can not but be remarked that but little was said of him. Still, the production was a great one. It was a series of gorgeous imagery and flashing thought, uttered with a power and effectiveness which Mr. Choate, more than all other of our orators, eminently possesses. Once heard it will never be forgotten.

NORFOLK, March 26.—Captain Adams, of the ship John Cumming, was arrested here yesterday on a charge of shooting one of his crew at Chincha Islands. The arrest was made by Secretary Marcy, on the complaint of the Peruvian Minister.

TWEEDLE-DUM NOT TWEEDLE-DEE.—The Massachusetts House of Representatives, by a vote of 123 to 24, agree to spell Counsellor, with a sell and not with a cill, in accordance with the orthography of their State Constitution.

DISASTER AT SEA.—On the morning of Sunday, Feb. 24th, the schooner Mary Plaisted sailed from Newburyport for Georgetown, S. C., and when between Cape Ann and Cape Cod, while reefing sails, she was struck by a sea that washed overboard Samuel W. Talbot, seaman, who was lost, and also injured Capt. Ireland. The boat was lost, and other damages suffered.—Herald.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

We are right glad the proprietor of this invaluable medicine has established an agency for their sale in our city, and that our friend Preston, No. 2 Congress Block, has secured the appointment of agent. We have long been familiar with the superior merits of this pill, and know every ingredient that enters into their composition, and can therefore conscientiously recommend them to all our friends as a perfectly safe and reliable family medicine. Their judicious use in the Spring of the year is attended with great benefit. We always keep a box in the house ready for use, and would not feel safe without them—they are our main reliance for all ordinary complaints. A few doses in the Spring to start and purify the blood, generally keeps us vigorous and healthy through all the warm weather, when so many are complaining of languor and general debility. We recommend all, who from any cause feel the need of medicine, to call upon the agent, who will be pleased to hand them the circular to Dr. Hayden's Pill, setting forth their basis of action, and applicability to different diseases.

CONGRESS.

TUESDAY, March 25.

SENATE.—Mr. Mason gave notice of his intention to introduce a bill for remodelling the Diplomatic and Consular system.

The Military Committee were instructed to inquire into the expediency of establishing one or more National Founderies.

Mr. Hunter reported a bill to provide for the reception, at the United States offices, of Spanish milled and Mexican quarters, eighths and sixteenths of a dollar, as twenty, ten and five cents, and making such coin, at these rates, legal tender for all sums not exceeding five dollars. The bill also provides for the recoining of these pieces as fast as they come into the possession of the government; it also authorizes the President to issue a proclamation legalizing a new cent piece to be formed by an alloy of copper with some other metal.

The Senate resumed the consideration of the Deficiency Appropriation bill. A long discussion took place on an amendment appropriating $350,000 for paper arrears, printing and maps. The amendment was adopted.

Mr Brown remarked that the only way to stop giving out fat jobs for printing worthless documents, is to establish a Government Printing Office, and abolish the franking privilege. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Campbell, of Ohio, declined the appointment on the Kansas Commission. Mr. Sherman, of Ohio, was appointed to fill the vacancy.

A bill authorizing the President to cause the southern boundary line of Kansas to be defined, was referred to the Committee on Territories.

The Judiciary Committee was instructed to inquire whether the Kansas Commission have power to coerce witnesses and punish for contempt.

The House proceeded to the consideration of the bill defining the rights of voters, and the duties of Commissioners of Election in the city of Washington, and for other purposes.

Mr. Humphrey Marshall offered an amendment requiring naturalized citizens to be residents one year immediately preceding the election, to entitle them to suffrage.

Mr. Jones of Tennessee, and Mr. McMullen opposed the amendment.

Mr. Davis of Maryland considered the amendment necessary to protect the purity of the ballot box. He alluded to the rough and raw material that is seen at the polls, not to vote but to be voted by their managers.

Mr. Meacham said the bill had been drawn with great care, approved by men of all parties, and unanimously supported by the Committee on the District of Columbia.

Mr. Campbell of Ohio, hoped a similar provision would be inserted in the Territorial bills, to put an end to the imp oper influence of foreign votes in controling elections.

Mr. Hall of Massachusetts, argued that the amendment secures equality before the law, and will prevent the control of elections by persons on public works.

Mr. Richardson spoke against discriminating, saying that the sooner the right of citizenship was conferred the better.

Mr. Carlisle contended that if the bill passed without this amendment, it will confer advantages on foreigners not possessed by a native.

Mr. Zollicoffer understood that one-third of the voting population of Washington consisted of government employees.

Mr. Whitney believed that the bill was the product of an effort of the administration to stifle the sentiments of the people on the American question, by introducing alien votes.

Mr. Meacham, in response to a question by Mr. Smith of Tenn., remarked that not a word was said in committee referring to the administration or any political party.

Messrs. Keith and Goode opposed and Mr. Walker advocated the amendment, pending which the House adjourned.

THE KANSAS COMMISSION.—The special dispatch for the Boston Advertiser, from Washington, March 25, says:

Mr. Sherman, who was to-day appointed upon the Kansas Investigating Committee, vice Mr. Campbell, declined, is a young man, but one of the ablest and truest anti-Nebraska Representatives. He left the city last night for home, but has been telegraphed.

Mr. Howard, who is now Chairman of the Commission, fully expects that it will start for Kansas this week. Messrs. Oliver and Whitfield started to-day.

The tariff bill, proposed by Mr. James, will be thrown out of the Senate, because, being a bill to raise revenue, the Constitution requires that it should originate in the House.

THE SUPPOSED SLAVER. — Application was made on Friday in behalf of James Lopez, who was arrested on board the suspected slaver Falmouth, that he be admitted to bail. He offered Richard Hartshorn, Esq., of Wallabout, L. I., and of Front street, N. Y., as one of the sureties in $2200, but the authorities required another in the said amount. It is said that this vessel was very recently on one of the balance docks of this city, and thoroughly overhauled and repaired.

The cargo of the vessel was discharged on Friday. Over 100 extra barrels of fish, rice, flour, Indian meal, potatoes, navy bread, &c., were also taken from her, and stored in one of the warehouses in the Navy Yard. In the cabin were found a box of powder, barrels of spikes, nails, several hammers, gimlets, a complete set of carpenter's tools, lanterns, meats put up in hermetically sealed boxes, boxes of tobacco, maps, charts, wines, brandies, &c., in bottles, (boxed,) bunting to make the flags of several nations, 2 large trunks, carpet bags, and many other articles.

Documents have been found on board the schooner which prove that one of the pretended passengers, who gave his name as Joaquim Antonio, is captain of the schooner, and his real name is Joachim Antonio Branco.

A book was found in the cabin, giving the sailing directions for the coasts of Tierra Firma and Mosquito, Gracias a Dios to Catoche, &c.; Truxillo Bay, Bonacca, Ruatan Island; from Truxillo Bay to Triunfo de la Cruz; Omoa Harbor, Swan Island, and many other places.—New York Herald.

A TEMPERANCE HYMN.

(Tune, Hebron.)

For water pure, our hearts would rise
In grateful homage to the skies;
In winter's cold, and summer's heat,
'Tis ever ready, 'neath our feet.

God made the water, pure and bright,
And when man drinks it, all goes right;
But when he quaffs the liquid fire,
His ills, unnumbered, patience tire.

Help us, O God, while we are young,
The drunkard's dreadful path to shun;
And may we form those habits now,

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE Machines have long sustained the highest reputation in the United States.

The First Prize—A Gold Medal,

Has recently been awarded to them at the Palace of Industry in Paris, and thus they have the WORLD'S VERDICT OF SUPERIORITY.

The Inventor has just added to these superior Machines an improvement whereby they can work on any kind of

FAMILY SEWING,

From a coarse Cotton fabric to the finest Linen Bosom, in such a perfect manner as no other Machine professes.

They will also Bar and close all kinds of Kid Boots and Shoes, and stitch the finest Gaiter Boots in every part without a skip—making them the most desirable for girls to use at home, or for any who wish to do more than one kind of work.

These Machines are warranted to do all kinds of work in a manner far superior to any other machine in use.

They run without noise, with ease to the Operator, and at double the ordinary speed, so that

Twice as much Work can be done in a Day.

The greatest Shoe Manufacturing and Clothing Establishments in the country use these Machines exclusively, having tried other Machines and found them entirely unfit for their use.

They are simple, and cost scarcely anything to keep them in repair; and can be operated by a child twelve years old.

THOMAS S. NOWELL,

FRIDAY, MARCH 28, 1856.

A FAIR HEARING.

The Boston Telegraph of the 21st, contains a report of the hearing on the liquor law question, held on the 20th in that city, before a Committee of the Massachusetts Legislature. The Telegraph says:

A number of gentlemen who served on the juries at last summer and fall which tried the Boston liquor cases were present, and testified in substance that many of the jurymen would not consent to a verdict of guilty, because they believed they were judges of the law, and that the liquor law was unconstitutional. They also testified that some of the jurors were liquor sellers and some liquor drinkers, and that they were a class of men with whom they would not like to associate. One man being asked if any of the jurors were rowdyish, said he could not use a term too strong to express what he meant by intimating that some of the jurors were rude, or under the influence of liquor. It was further stated, that these stubborn jurors openly avowed that they neither would convict, or allow a case to be carried up to the Supreme Court. They thought if the latter expedient were resorted to, the liquor sellers would lose their cases in the higher courts. The jury law question did not come up in any other cases that were tried, and juries had no difficulty in convicting excepting in those which arose under the liquor law. Ex-Alderman Washburn testified, that in making up the jury box, the names selected were passed upon by the Board without examination, and that any names might be placed in the box which members of the Board might wish.

J. Russell of Boston, testified—One man who worked for me last summer was drawn as a juryman for the July term. While with me he was frequently the worse for liquor. He was employed by me in a meat stall in the Boylston Market, and the last night he was with me he had to be assisted home. I have no doubt that he was an intemperate man.

The testimony of Moses Williams, perhaps the largest and oldest liquor dealer in Boston, was very interesting. He said that the more the State legislated upon the temperance question, the more liquor he sold. We are at a loss to account for his opposition, for he has probably paid more money than any other man to overthrow the existing law. He now states that he has done, and will give no more money. He has become discouraged, and finds all his efforts hopeless.

We copy the whole of Mr. Williams's testimony, as reported, entire, that it may be a fair view. We italicise a few words, to draw attention to certain points in his testimony.

Moses Williams of Boston. Think the State Liquor Agency entirely injurious to the Commonwealth. This is self-evident. If pure liquor is needed, there is no need of giving the monopoly to one man. Every importer imports pure liquor. The State agent must be supplied himself, and he buys of importers. He charges five per cent. on the price which he pays. Town agents could buy their liquor of other parties cheaper than of the State agent. Who knows that the agent is satisfied with five per cent. Perhaps he has an arrangement with the man of whom he buys, by which he can make more than five per cent. A man who has the State Agency is placed under peculiar temptations. He may not be a judge of the liquor. Agents must take what he gives them.

The present law does not allow importers to sell in small quantities, such as agents might, perhaps, want. Brandy can be imported in casks of fifteen gallons and upwards. One house has almost exclusively supplied the State agent. I belong to the proscribed class. I have been in the liquor trade from a boy. No man has a purer conscience than I have. It requires a man of good health to judge of liquor. If his health is not good he cannot taste and smell correctly. Stock must be picked up gradually and with great care in order to satisfy people. Pure brandy or any other pure liquor can be obtained at any store. Brandy is about $4 00 per gallon. That for opticians is worth about $3.00 per bottle.—These bottles hold about one-fifth of a gallon. Mr. Williams proceeded to give an account of the various kinds of brandy and of the method of manufacturing. There is no more reason to believe that persons get pure liquor of the State agent than of other parties. Importers have not combined together not to sell to town agents. Agents could buy their liquor of importers just as well as of the State agent. I. D. Richards & Company are large importers of liquors. I have sold some liquor to town agents who have complained that they could not get pure liquor of the State Agent. Could not legally sell small packages to town agents. Could sell any packages which the law allows me to import. The law ought to allow all importers to sell. If the State think that towns require small quantities of liquor, they could not buy, legally, of importers. If agents come to us to buy liquor, we sell what we have. Every law that has passed, restricting the sale of liquor, has increased my sales. We are opposed to the agency because we think it an unjust principle. While men are Christians, wine will be used. I never mean to spend another dollar to have the law modified or altered. A large proportion of the wine which comes to this country is the juice of the grape. The idea that all wine is fanticious is a great mistake. I don't know of any concern in this city that manufactures wine. There was a firm in South Market street that did manufacture formerly. You can get pure Madeira or Sherry in this country as well as in any other. About twenty per cent. of Sherry is alcohol. Wines exposed to the air will not keep short of fifteen per cent. of alcohol. All good wines are intoxicating.

I have been in the trade fifty years and was never drunk. Dealers are rather apt to be free from intoxication and it is very important they should, so as to preserve their tastes. I have seen brandy imported that I thought was not pure—not a great quantity, however, because the duties are so high. There are as good rectifiers in New York as in any foreign city or country. Buying an article that is imported is not a security against deception. Experienced dealers are the best judges. I know what constitutes a perfect wine. My health is good; my smell is good. I have a most excellent man with me and a son also, who have never been drawn on the jury. I have no doubt this has been in consequence of the action of ultra temperance men. It is unjust. The jurymen who tried the liquor cases appeared as well to me as any men.

It is not our business to reconcile Mr. Williams's statements with each other, nor with the statements of other dealers, about impure liquors. His self-complacent, free conscience, his opinion that dealers are rather apt to keep sober, and his ideas of the good appearance of the Boston juries, are all given with great naivete—and his positive self-evident, in relation to the State Agency, stamps his evidence with the most amusing self-conceit.

Yet he says as strong things as can be said, on his side of the question.

FUNERAL OF REV. HENRY BACON.—The funeral services over the remains of Rev. Henry Bacon, whose death at Philadelphia we announced a few days since, took place at the Universalist Church in School street, Boston, Monday afternoon. The church was crowded with mourners and spectators, a large number of clergymen being present. Revs. Otis A. Skinner, of Boston, and Mr. Boyden of Woonsocket, took part in the exercises, and Rev. Hosea Ballou, President of Tufts College, Somerville, preached a discourse. The remains were deposited in Mount Auburn.

LETTER FROM DR. HOLMES.—Dr. O. W. Holmes has written a letter to the Exeter News Letter, palliating the sentiments of his New York address, in which he held up New England as the hot-bed of Abolitionism. The following sentences give the spirit of his letter:—

In the first place, I badly think it necessary to say that my sympathies are with Freedom, and that I look with the common feelings of Northern men on the extension of slavery. I said as much in my New York Address. These are my words, as written, and as spoken.—"We are all agreed to save every inch of ground to freedom that we fairly can, and to reduce our involuntary participation in slavery to the minimum consistent with our existence as a united people."

BELFAST, (Me.) March 26.—At half past ten last night, Sewall Patterson entered by a window the house of Peter Gilson, and finding himself discovered in the act of plundering the drawers, he proceeded to the room occupied by Mrs. Green, daughter of Gilson, seized her while in bed, and cut her on the left side of the throat, over the jugular vein. He supposed that she was mortally wounded, and attempted to kill himself by cutting his own throat in the same region. Both will recover. He confesses his guilt, but says he went there only to obtain her clothes and jewelry, which were purchased by money sponged from him when they travelled to New York and elsewhere two months ago, she having since declined further intercourse with him.—Patterson has a wife and three or four children. Mrs. Green's husband is absent.

THE LATE J. B. KILBOURN.—The body of Josiah B. Kilbourn,—of the firm of French Wells & Co. — was found Wednesday, near Cambridge bridge. It will be recollected that Mr. Kilbourn, who had abused the confidence of his partners, disappeared on the 21st of November, leaving a note that before it reached his family, he would "be over Cambridge bridge." The body was much disfigured; but it was identified through papers found upon it. It was taken to the dead-house.—Boston Courier.

QUINCY, Ms.—On the 21st, George H. Bundy of Quincy, proprietor of the Hancock House, was brought before Justice Kingsbury of Weymouth, upon two complaints for selling intoxicating liquor, and was convicted upon each and sentenced. Defendant appealed to the Court of Common Pleas, and recognised to appear, &c., and in the meantime to keep the peace and be of good behaviour and not violate the law. E. F. Hall, Esq., for government.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The National Executive Republican Committee, appointed by the Pittsburg Convention, held a preliminary meeting here to-day. There were present E. D. Morgan, Esq., of New York, Chairman; Messrs. Washburn of Maine, Fogg of New Hampshire, Barker of Massachusetts, Chase of Rhode Island, Paulison of New Jersey, Stone of Ohio, Leland of Illinois, F. P. Blair of Maryland, Clephane of District of Columbia.

MILWAUKEE, March 25.—Mr. Bashford took possession of the executive chamber this morning, and sent a message to the Senate, the Assembly having previously adjourned, to prevent its reception. Mr. McArthur, the Lieutenant Governor, who assumed the duties of Governor upon the resignation of Mr. Barstow, refused to give way to Mr. Bashford, and asked the latter if force would be used. Mr. Bashford replied, "Yes, if necessary."

Total capital $4,331, 000; the aggregate circulation of all is $3,696,926; total amount of specie $244,914 54; the whole amount of directors' liabilities is only $84,121; the balances due to the banks, mostly from the Boston banks, amount to $894,651. The above statement is made up to the first of March.

The bill to restore capital punishment in Wisconsin has been indefinitely postponed by the Assembly, by one majority.

John H. Slater, President;

Amos S. Foster, Rec. Secretary;
Francis W. Ham, Cor. Secretary;
Dan'l. H. Spinney, Jr., Treasurer;
Moses H. Stickney, Librarian;

We learn with pleasure, that their recent Course of Sunday Evening Lectures, netted the Treasury of the Association the sum of $50. This will be applied to the increase of their Library. Their Lecture Committee, especially Mr. John E. Rider, chairman, managed their business well, and but for the stormy Sunday evenings would have cleared a much larger sum.

☞ Our power press on which we print the Chronicle, and which has served us faithfully for nearly four years, broke down on Wednesday morning, just as we had commenced to run off our morning edition. The breakage was a serious one, and required a couple of days for repairs. By the courtesy of our friends of the Journal, who kindly threw open their office to us, we were enabled to issue our paper on Wednesday and Thursday mornings, a little behind our usual time.

☞ Two young lads were arrested last evening by Marshal Hanscom, and confined in the watch house over night, for stealing lead and other articles from the barn of A. W. Haven, Esq.

☞ Gov. Metcalf of New Hampshire has appointed the 10th day of April as a day of fasting and prayer in this State.

NEW DIVISION OF THE SONS OF TEMPERANCE.—A new Division of the Sons of Temperance was opened at Marblehead last week, by P. W. P. Peach of Salem. A number of old members of the order have entered with spirit (not alcoholic) into this project, and it is to be hoped the friends of temperance in the city of witches will lend them a helping hand.—Boston Telegraph.

HARRISBURG, Penn., March 26.—The Union Opposition Convention met in the hall of the House of Representatives at noon to-day. Hon. John Corode was called to the chair, and a committee was appointed to select officers. There was a large attendance, nearly every county in the state being represented.

James M. Rix, Esq., editor of the Coos County Democrat, of Lancaster, N. H., died suddenly at the City Hotel, in Boston, on Tuesday evening. Mr. Rix was a gentleman connected with an office at Washington, but he died before he could reach his place.

MILWAUKIE, March 26.—The Wisconsin Governorship.—The Assembly to-day refused, by a vote of 38 to 34, to receive Governor Bashford's messag.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

We are right glad the proprietor of this invaluable medicine has established an agency for their sale in our city, and that our friend Tyson, No. 2 Congress Block, has secured the appointment of agent. We have long been familiar with the superior merits of this pill, and know every ingredient that enters into their composition, and can theatore conscientiously recommend them to all our friends as a perfectly safe and reliable family medicine. Their judicious use in the Spring of the year is attended with great benefit. We always keep a box in the house ready for use, and would not feel safe without them—they are our main reliance for all ordinary complaints. A few doses in the Spring to start and purify the blood, generally keeps us vigorous and healthy through all the warm weather, when so many are complaining of languor and general debility. We recommend all, who from any cause feel the need of medicine, to call upon the agent, who will be pleased to hand them the circular to Dr. Hayden's Pill, setting forth their basis of action, and applicability to different diseases.

FOUR DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE EMEU.

The propeller Emeu arrived at Boston from Liverpool Thursday morning, with advices to March 12, four days later than previous intelligence.

The Emeu brings no mail.

Nothing had been heard from the Pacific.

Peace Conferences.—The belief in a favorable termination of the Peace Conference is very strong, and peace is regarded as almost a certainty.

Of the sitting of the Conference on the 10th, the Liverpool Post says:

The Congress held its seventh sitting on Monday, and with the same result, as regards a knowledge of the proceedings, as all the others. Nothing positive has transpired. Indeed there does not now appear to be much anxiety to gain information.

Peace is regarded as of certain issue, and the sittings of Conference are looked upon as matter of routine, the recurrence of which is so regular as not to require notice.

The Assemblee Nationale says, that public confidence in the re-establishment of peace has been shaken by the conflicting rumors circulated with respect to the deliberations of the Plenipotentiaries. Our Paris contemporary reproves this spirit of doubt, which, it asserts, is founded on no more substantial grounds than the mere speculative opinions of the Continental Press.

PARIS, Monday night.—There is no doubt that the last sitting of the Congress on Saturday ended with most favorable auspices.

FROM THE BALTIC—Berlin, March 9.—Besides the steamers that have got out of Sweaborg, it is stated here three or four Russian cruisers have left Revel and steered towards the coast of Sweden.

The latest accounts from the sea of Azoff state that the ice still extended a considerable distance from the land, though English gunboats had made their appearance in those waters.

The Sound Dues.—The Cabinet of Berlin has declared in a formal manner that it will take no further part in the Conferences on the subject of Sound Dues, feeling confident that they will not lead to any result.

France.—An Imperial decree in the Moniteur calls into active service the contingent of 1855, amounting to 140,000 men. This levy is not an increase of the army, but is principally destined to replace the soldiers whose time of service has expired.

Marseilles, Tuesday. Manufactures active. Decline in corn very decided during the past week. Flour and wheat continue in abundance at Havre and Marseilles, with decreasing rates. Coming crops every where promise to be more plentiful than last year. Wines declining.

Turkey.—The Turkish Government had sent orders to Omar Pacha, and to Selim Pacha, to suspend hostilities.

Intelligence from Trebizonde of the date of the 20th ult., states that Omar Pacha had arrived there, and that Selim Pacha had been recalled.

It was asserted that the English army contemplated an encampment in Asia, and that barrack preparations for the Allied armies were actively proceeding on both sides of Constantinople.

Russia.—Military preparations continue to be made on a large scale.

CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, March 26.

SENATE.—Mr. Benjamin submitted a resolution having in view a retrenchment in printing. Laid over.

On motion of Mr. Butler, the Post Office Committee was instructed to inquire into the expediency of discontinuing to members of Congress the franking privelege, and in lieu thereof allowing money for the payment of the postage. Also authorizing the committee, if it see fit, to report a bill regulating the postage on letters and packages that members may transmit.

The consideration of the Deficiency Appropriation bill was then resumed and passed, when the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House debated the Senate's bill removing the restriction on the Federal Courts to confine persons guilty of violation of the laws of the United States in penitentiaries within the Judicial District where convicted.

Mr. Humphrey Marshall offered an amendment as follows:—"Where the use of the penitentiary is denied by any state, it shall be the duty of the Marshal to confine the criminal in the nearest penitentiary granted for that purpose."

Mr. Barbour of Indiana proposed as an amendment to the above, that no proceeding other than the act of Legislature should be construed into a refusal of the state to allow the use of her prisons for such purposes.

The former amendment was rejected by 24, and the latter by 10 majority. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 27th.—The Kansas Commission will meet and organize at Jefferson City. Their proceedings will be secret. Blair Lord of Baltimore, formerly a reporter of the Washington Union, goes out as Reporter. George G. Fogg of Concord, N. H. will be chief clerk, and S. P. Hanscom of Boston, assistant clerk.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Capt. Ingraham has been confirmed by the Senate as Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance and Hydrography, vice Commodore Morris, deceased.

HALIFAX, March 26.—The Maine law passed the Legislature of Nova Scotia, yesterday by a vote of 27 to 20—to go into operation immediately.

There is no doubt but the Legislative Council will pass it with a large majority.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with U.S. Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal throu h him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largert in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.—Patents secured in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability.

R. H. EDDY.
Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in a saring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

G. W. STONE'S

ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXES a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or to recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

Morning Chronicle.

Richard Whately, the learned and liberal-minded Archbishop of Dublin, has just published a lecture, delivered by him recently before the Young Men's Christian Association of the Irish Capital, on the subject of Bacon's Essays. Notwithstanding a very profound admiration for Bacon the philosopher, the Archbishop does not mince his language when he comes to speak of him as a man. He says:—

"He thought well, and he spoke well; but he had accustomed himself to act very far from well. And justice requires that he should be held up as a warning beacon to teach all men an important lesson; to afford them a sad proof that no intellectual power—no extent of learning—not even the most pure and exalted moral sentiments, confined to a theory, will supply the want of a diligent and watchful conformity in practice to Christian principle. All the attempts that have been made to vindicate and palliate Bacon's moral conduct, tend only to lower, and to lower very much, the standard of virtue. He appears but too plainly to have been worldly, ambitious, covetous, base, selfish and unscrupulous. And it is remarkable that the Mammon which he served proved but a faithless master in the end. He reached the highest pinnacle, indeed, to which his ambition had aimed; but he died impoverished, degraded, despised, and broken-hearted."

"The state of things in the country is such, that the the clergy, as a general thing, should be discouraged and restrained from marriage, and that on the ground that their incomes are inadequate to the support of married men and families. This is a simple, though it may be a severe way to meet the crying evil of the time; and that it would most effectually bring relief, in the most of cases, is too plain to require demonstration. Let candidates for Holy Orders, who have no private fortunes, make up their minds to a single life while they are in the ministry. It will be time enough for them to think of matrimony when, if ever, they succeed in obtaining an income more than sufficient for their support as single men.

No clergyman should contemplate the responsibility of subjecting a Christian gentlewoman to the helpless dependence of penury which is now grinding the families of the majority of the rectors and missionaries of the smaller congregations throughout the whole country. The greater number of parishes only afford a decent living for a single man, and he must expect to practice the strictest economy, not only in his living, but in providing necessary books, etc. Debt, debt, debt! with all its annoyances and misrries, is the almost inevitable portion of our married clergy, who have not fortunes of their own. Therefore, let our bishops, as they are merciful men, enjoin on their young and unmarried clergy the necessity of their living in celibacy.

A prudent wife, christian independence of foolish fashions, and an honest call for larger pay, are better remedies for the evil.

PERSONAL.—A Paris correspondent of the Courier des Etats Unis announces that M'lle Rachel is shortly to be married. The lucky individual is M. Delahaute, formerly Receiver-General (tax collector) of the Department of the Rhone. M. Delahaute is rather old, but has a fortune of three million francs ($600,000). Rachel has nearly as much—so she will be able to live comfortably without going on the stage again. Rumor says she is afraid of Ristori. Delahaute is one of Rachel's old admirers. Emile Girardin, editor of the Paris Presse, is going to be married to Miss Sheppard, daughter of a rich English widow. The belle Sheppard used to flirt with the Emperor before his marriage with Eugenie. Girardin's first wife (who was much more brilliant than he) died only a short time ago. He has two millions of francs, and is about forty. Miss Sheppard is about twenty-five and very pretty.

HENRY A. WISE INSANE.—It is said and believed in Richmond, by persons who have the best opportunity of knowing, that Gov. Wise's mind is very much impaired, indeed so much so, that he should not be held responsible for his language or writings. An effort has been made to suppress these facts, but they have leaked out. If this be so, and there seems no reason to doubt it, Mr. Wise is entitled to the sympathy and pity, rather than the enmity, of those against whom his virulent yet harmless railings are directed.—Baltimore Clipper.

SADLY BEAUTIFUL.—There is a young lady in this city so dazzlingly beautiful, that her guardians do not dare to allow her to go out of the house. She remains shut up at home, and is only visible to female visitors. What a blessing the small pox would be to this imprisoned belle! It should be added, that, with the "fatal gift of beauty," the young lady possesses other charms amounting to about $300,000.—N. Y. Mirror.

A slave convicted of selling liquor in Newbury, S. C., was sentenced to receive 30 lashes, and a colored man found drunk in the street, received the same punishment.—Gazette.

SATURDAY, MARCH 29, 1856.

CAPTURE OF AN AMERICAN SLAVER.—Rio Janeiro, Feb. 13.—An American schooner called the Mary E Smith attempted to land a cargo of 320 negroes which she had brought from the coast of Africa, but was taken prisoner by the Brazilian brig-of-war Olinda, and taken into Bahia. The commander and crew are all Americans, and were immediately after landing ironed and locked up in the gaol of Bahia. The schooner embarked 500 of the poor blacks from the coast, but they were so closely packed on board, totally naked, and so badly fed during the voyage that 180 died and were thrown overboard, and of those landed at Bahia 64 died a few hours afterwards. The survivors were immediately fed and clothed, and will be taken care of until their ultimate destination is resolved upon.

The Boston Transcript of March 27, says this schooner cleared at Boston in ballast, for Montevideo, Aug. 24, 1855, Vincent D. Cranatich, of Dennisville, La., owner and master; Charles Martin, born in Bristol, R. I., resident of Boston, mate, with a crew of six men, including cook and steward. The Mary E. Smith was formerly a fast sailing Halifax packet, owned by Clark, Jones & Co. of Boston, and by them sold to Cranatich. No suspicion was attached to her at the time of her clearance—her slave crew and extra stores, water casks, &c. having been shipped after she had cleared.

Query.—Is there no watch, or inspection of a vessel after clearance?

The Newburyport Herald says:

This is the vessel that sailed from Boston last summer, which fell under the suspicion of the Custom House authorities, who made an attempt to seize her, just as she was putting to sea. The Captain, Cranatich of La. took the responsibility of carrying the officers to the Light, where he placed them on board the returning steam-tug, and himself put to sea. Since then, information has been received that a schooner resembling her has been seen on the coast of Africa. Some of the officers and crew are from New England.

FROM MEYICO.

Late advices from Mexico have reached Panama, stating that the Indians on the Atlantic coast of the province of Vera Cruz, had attacked the capital, Santiago, and burned it partly down.

Advices from Costa Rica state that Gen. Walker had threatened to attack and destroy Punta d'Arenas. Government had sent troops to defend the place.

Ship Adeline, (of Boston,) Capt. Woods, from Valparaiso for San Blas, was seized about Dec. 20, at Tres Maris Islands, by a Mexican war schooner. Capt. Woods was taken on board the schooner and placed under a guard of 26 soldiers. When the crew of the ship returned on board, the commander of the schooner took charge of the Adeline, and then brought her into San Blas, where she laid until Jan. 20th.

During this time they sent officers on board and took out the entire cargo, and also nearly all the wearing apparel of the captain, mate and the crew. They then hauled her into the inner harbor. Capt. Wood protested strongly against this highhanded outrage, but all to no purpose. He then left and went to Mazatlan, where he still remains. The cargo of the Adeline was shipped at Valparaiso by Messrs. Mickle & Coamin, merchants. Mr. Hale, the supercargo, was on board and remained at San Blas. The mate and a portion of the crew came passengers in the schooner Giulietta. The reason given by the authorities for seizing the vessel, was, that they took her to be a smuggler. The ship at the time of her seizure was 75 miles from any port on the Mexican coast.

TOWN OFFICERS IN YORK, ME.—The election in this town, holden on Monday, the 24th inst., was warmly contested; and, according to the Biddeford Journal, resulted in the choice of the entire American ticket.

The vote for Moderator was made a test vote. Joseph Bragdon, Jr. had 193; Josiah Chase had 171.

Selectmen—Jociah D. Bragdon, Theodore Wilson, Rufus A. Moody.

Town Clerk—Edgar A. M'Intire.

Treasurer—Nathaniel G. Marshall.

Town Agent—George Bowden.

Superintending School Committee—Jeremiah S. Putnam, William A. Patten, nearly unanimous vote.

SALISBURY MILLS.—In the Massachusetts Senate, on Thursday, a bill was reported to incorporate the Salisbury Mills Company, for the manufacture of woolen and cotton goods. This, we suppose, is the new Company, which is to buy out the old.

SUFFRAGE.—In the Massachusetts House of Representatives, on Thursday, the constitutional amendment relative to the eligibility to office by foreigners, was rejected, by a vote of 166 to 128, not having received the necessary two-thirds.

We find this scrap in the Manchester Democrat:

If you will elect John S. Wells the next Governor of New Hampshire, I pledge you, gentlemen, that when the news reaches me at Washington, I will most essentially violate the Maine Law.—John B. Weller, in his Concord speech.

THE STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

A PROCLAMATION:

BY THE GOVERNOR.

When the season of seed time was drawing near, it was the laudable and pious custom of our "Pilgrim Fathers," which custom has been continued without intermission by their descendants, to devote some specified day to the humbling themselves before the supreme ruler of the universe, to acknowledge to Him their entire unworthiness and dependence, and to invoke the continuance of His mercies.

In compliance with this praiseworthy custom and the dictates of duty, with the advice and consent of the Council, I appoint THURSDAY, the Tenth Day of April next, to be observed as a day of Fasting, Humiliation and Prayer throughout this State.

And I most earnestly recommend to the people of the State to devote the day to its primitive purposes; and to assemble at their respective places of public worship with devout and reverential feelings, and with humble, penitent and contrite hearts acknowledge our obligations to, and dependence upon our Heavenly Father and sincerely confess our manifold sins and transgressions, as a nation, as a people, and as individuals, and fervently beseech Him not to be strict to mark our iniquities and not to withdraw from us His care and protection. Let us then and there unitedly entreat Him not to forsake us as a nation in this day of trial and of gloom, but continue to us His favor, preserve us in peace with foreign nations, and in union and harmony among ourselves; that He will graciously remove from us all local and sectional dissentions, all civil discord and strife, and restore among us a fraternal confidence and love; that He will promote the spirit of freedom and take away all spirit of aggression and oppression; that He will cause the peaceful doctrines of the Bible and the benign influence of the gospel of our Saviour to spread over the State and Nation; that He will enable us with united hearts to guard and cherish our civil and religious rights and institutions; that He will continue to bless our common schools and all other means of education and mental improvement; that He will prosper the cause of morality and religion, of benevolence and temperance; that He will smile upon and favor all the various branches of industry, and crown the labors of the husbandman with an abundant harvest, and confer upon us all such blessings as He shall see in His omniscient wisdom will be for our good and His glory.

Given at the Council Chamber in Concord this twenty-first day of March in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, and of the Independence of the United States the eightieth.

LEMUEL N. PATTEN, Secretary of State.

NEW JERSEY.—A very stringent prohibitory law has passed the Senate of New Jersey. The penalties are—for the first offence, thirty dollars and costs. The second and every subsequent offense, not less than fifty dollars and imprisonment not less than one month. All wines, all porter, lager and all other beers that are intoxicating are put into the proscribed list. The history of the Maine Law movement in New Jersey is interesting.

In the year 1851–2, Mr. Dow went to Trenton by invitation, where the Legislature was in session, to make an address on Prohibition. Thirteen votes were cast in the House of Representatives for a Maine Law. The rum interest took the alarm and entered into the election with zeal, so that the next year, only nine votes were given for the Law. The third year twenty-one votes were obtained, and on the fourth year, the Law was carried through the House but was defeated in the Senate; and now the Senate has yielded at last.

So this ball rolls on, moved by a mighty popular sentiment, crushing before it, as it goes, the traffic which has so long rioted upon the best blood and the treasure of the nation. —Portland Journal.

NEW YORK, March 27.—A correspondent of the Herald, at Georgetown, Demarara, writing under date of 12th inst., states that property to the amount of $100,000 had been destroyed, and a similar amount stolen, during the riots there, incited by the notorious "Angel Gabriel," Orr. The property belonged to Roman Catholic shop keepers, against whom Orr mainly directed his attacks, and the blacks availed themselves of the confusion to destroy and plunder. In the interior the blacks had been subdued; many of them were shot, and martial law was being established.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The Committee met to prepare preliminaries, and to issue a call for a National Convention to nominate candidates for President and Vice President. They will probably meet again to-morrow morning when the call now being drafted by F. B. Blair will be presented. It is understood that it will be broad enough to embrace the anti-Fillmore Americans. The Committee have not all arrived. A number are expected this evening. The time and place for holding the nominating convention will be announced to-morrow. Among the members of the committee are Prosper W. Wetmore and Judge Ingraham of New York. The Committee are entertained this evening at Senator Seward's where the chances and policy of a nomination will be discussed.

LATER FROM HAVANA.—New York, March 28.—The steamer Empire City, from New Orleans and Havana, arrived this morning.—She left Havana on the morning of the 23d, and has experienced during most of the passage head winds and heavy swell.

Left at Havana, US ships Potomac, Cyane and Saratoga, and steamer Fulton, together with the British 84-gun ship Powerful, and several Spanish war vessels.

On the evening of the 22d a brilliant theatrical entertainment was given on board the Potomac, which was attended by the officers of the various war vessels and mail steamers in port, and a large deputation of American ladies from Havana.

CINCINNATI, March 28.—Steamer Metropolis burst a boiler yesterday, near Pomeroy, in this State. The boat was but slightly damaged. Several persons were injured, including three dangerously, and two badly scalded.

LOCAL.

GIFT CONCERT.—A fine programme will be found in our advertising columns, with a list of the gifts—for the Concert to take place at the Temple on Monday evening next. To all with any "music in their souls," the vocal and instrumental performances cannot fail to be worth the price of admission. Mr. Thompson is himself a great favorite as a vocalist, and his club an excellent one. "Ida May" alone is a programme for us. Mr. Satter is a perfect master of the piano, and has alone given many successful entertainments in Europe and America, with tickets at fifty cents and even a dollar. It is not often so good a concert as this is given in Portsmouth. Besides this, somebody will get presents of pianos, and other valuable articles. F.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors:—Notwithstanding the editor of the Journal makes such a fuss about all games of chance, in his paper of last evening; we are informed that only a few days since, he participated in the drawing of "a lottery similar in all respects" to those he mentions, (excepting that in his case there were blanks.) And this, too, "notwithstanding the laws of New Hampshire," (which, by the way, he violates in the same paper, by editorially advertising what he terms a lottery,)—and regardless of "the pernicious moral (probably he means immoral effects) of gambling." H.

☞ The Weekly Chronicle, published today, contains the Sketch of the North Church, the account of the Organization of our new City Government, with other matters of local interest, the news of the week, &c. Terms $1 a year in advance. Single copies in wrappers, for mailing, may be had at the office, at three cents each.

A FAMILY POISONED.—On Wednesday last the entire family of Michael Cashman of South Boston were made ill by eating some bread baked by Mrs. Cashman, in which she had used a powder which she supposed to be cream of tartar, but which proved to be poisonous. The sick persons, six in all, will probably recover, with the exception of one little child, who is in a dangerous condition.—Courier.

A man entered the Suffolk Bank, Boston, on Tuesday, and desired $20 bills for a large bill. They were given, when the man suddenly threw them back and said he would take gold. After he was gone, it was ascertained that he had adroitly taken out one $20 bill. A like game was tried at the Traders' Bank, when a $10 bill was thus kept back. At the Atlas Bank the rogue was foiled.

SOUTH AMERICA.—Dates from Valparaiso are Feb. 15, Callao Feb. 26. The Chilian war steamer Cazado, from Talcahuana, foundered near Maule Jan. 30. Out of 358 persons on board, only 44 were saved.

The sloop-of-war St. Marys was detained at Callao on account of the disturbed state of the country.

The Mayor of Cincinnati holds that the city police have nothing to do with catching slaves, unless called upon to aid the U. S. officers, and he has discharged from office two persons who have been very active in this business.

EMIGRATING.—An agent of one of the great routes to the West sold in one day, last week, fifteen tickets to persons emigrating from the vicinity of Concord, N. H. to the Western country.

MILWAUKIE, March 27.—The Assembly to-day, by a vote of 37 to 9, recognized Mr. Bashford as Governor. Mr. McArthur has concluded to act as Lieut-Governor.

NEW YORK, March 27.—Rev. Nathaniel S. Prime, a distinguished Presbyterian Minister, died suddenly to-day at Mamaroneck, aged 71.

Miss Frederika Bremer, in the Swedish newspapers, thankfully acknowledges the liberal gift of 12,000 thalers, destined for the establishment of an asylum for old deserving governesses, and sent to her by a lady who wishes to remain unknown.

Mrs. Waitstill Green died in Roxbury on Wednesday, at the extraordinary age of 102 years 5 months.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

READ THIS.—The attention of the public is particularly called to the vast amount of positive proof, in favor of Dr. Wm. R. Hayden's Vegetable Purgative Pills.—the most remarkable and extraordinary Medicine that has ever been produced in this or any other country,—proof that cannot be disputed; proof that is not brought from Van Dieman's Land, but from people at home, of respectability,—many of them professional men of high standing in society, who would not be guilty of lending their names and influence to defraud those who are suffering with disease. These Pills have performed some of the most astonishing and remarkable cures that have ever been recorded in the annals of medical science.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—Afflicting accounts have just reached us from Klamath county, on the North California coast, where about thirty families have been slaughtered by the Indians, and the small settlement burned. The county is in a panic. There are no arms, and an express, just arrived here for aid, reports that the people there are entirely defenceless and with no means of escape. Preparations are on foot for their relief.

SENATE.—The matters connected with the action of the Naval Board were made the special order for Monday.

The Invalid Pension bill was passed.

Mr. Haven addressed the Senate on the subject of Kansas, taking ground strongly against Mr. Davis's report.

Mr. Harlan said that he had never hitherto desired to discuss the question of slavery, believing such agitation mischievous and fraught with danger to the perpetuity of the institutions of the country. Others differed from him in this opinion, and among them the President; who, without waiting for the organization of the House, sent two voluminous messages, reviving the whole subject—judicially, politically and historically. Mr. Harlan entered into an examination of Mr. Douglas's Kansas Report, concluding by declaring its representations of historical facts partial, perverted and highly colored.

Adjourned to Monday.

HOUSE.—The Committee on Foreign Relations were instructed to inquire into the expediency of modifying the act for remodelling the diplomatic and consular system.

The consideration of the bill defining the rights of voters and the duties of the Commissioners of Elections in Washington was resumed. At 5 o'clock, the House wearied with the struggle, adjourned by 5 majority.

BOSTON HOUSE OF CORRECTION.—According to the report of the Inspectors of Prisons for Suffolk county, the House of Correction at the time of the inspection, the 28th of December last, was in good condition, having at that time 344 male and 145 female inmates. Of the offences committed the chief were, assault and battery, 8; common drunkards, 104; common night walkers, 52; drunkenness, 35; houses of ill fame, 12; larceny, 186. Two females were sentenced for being common and notorious thieves, two for breaking and entering, 28 for larceny, and one for robbing. The two persons having the longest sentences are females, one of ten and the other of six years. One hundred and twenty-three are natives of the New England States, 149 of other parts of the United States, 54 of England, 325 of Ireland and 56 of British Provinces, the remainder of other foreign countries. 111 have been committed for five times and over, and three males and five females for ten times and over.

According to the official reports in respect to the House of Correction, of the persons sentenced there as common drunkards, the females decidedly predominate, the numbers being, males, forty-three; females, sixty-one.

On the 20th of December last, there was but one person confined in the House of Correction at South Boston for illegally selling spirituous liquors; and so far as we can learn, none have since been sent there on that charge.

COMPLIMENTARY.—The Alabama State Sentinel comes out against the renomination of President Pierce, and threatens that if he should be the nominee of the convention, it will support Fillmore as a "lesser evil."

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st. oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability.

R. H. EDDY.
Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had more business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in advising inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most skilful and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

G. W. STONE'S
ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little one. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

CURIOUS COMBINATION.—The N. Y. Jews have introduced choral singing into their worship, and among other pieces give part of "I know that my Redeemer liveth," from the oratorio of the Messiah.

Well: the words, "I know that my Redeemer liveth," &c. are the words of Job, (see Job, 19: 25-27.) Job, though not a Jew, lived, as is generally supposed, long before the Jewish church and polity were established,—and his life and works are supposed to have been written, or edited and preserved by Moses, the Hebrew lawgiver, poet and historian. The words of Job, then, are a part of the Jewish Sacred Literature, and have, like the Psalms of David, been adopted and chanted by the Christian Church.

Again, in the words themselves, any sound critic will see, there is nothing which may not be as readily sung by a Jew, or by any person who believes in one God, the Creator, preserver and restorer, or redeemer, as by a Christian.

They are splendid, glorious words. Some suppose Job meant by them, that God would, (as he did,) restore his wasted, corrupted body, redeem his lost prosperity, and renovate his crushed spirit. Others, as the Roman and English Churches, apply these words as if Job referred only or chiefly to his share in the general resurrection of the just, or the universal resurrection of the just and the unjust.

In any view, the use of these glorious words, or the blissful thoughts they represent, need not be confined within the limits of any narrow paling—but should form a part of the chorus of all nations, and kindred, and people, and tongues.

☞ The Boston Advertiser of Saturday informs us that between 12 and 1 o clock on Friday, as the venerable Mr. John Fox of Dorchester, was engaged in conversation with other gentlemen in the United States Insurance office, State street, he was seized with an attack of apoplexy, and almost instantly expired. Deceased was a highly estimable gentleman and had attained the advanced age of 91 years.

A NEW TRANSLATION OF THE NEW TESTAMENT.—The Bible Union intends to issue their new Testament, which is to supersede King James's version, during the May Anniversaries; they are proceeding industriously with the whole Scriptures.

So says the Christian Register. — This is the long projected Baptist version; and the Bible Union is the Society established for the purpose of its publication. The whole Baptist denomination have not united in the enterprise.

CAPT. J. GILMAN ADAMS.—Norfolk News of the 26th, says:

Early yesterday morning, Mr. Collector Sawyer received a telegraphic dispatch from Hon. Wm. L. Marcy, Secretary of State, directing him to have J. G. Adams, captain of the American ship John Cummings, arrested, for having fired upon and killed one of the crew of his vessel, some 18 months since, while taking in a load of guano at the Chincha Islands. The occurrence produced deep excitement at the time in Peru, and Captain Adams narrowly escaped with his life, by the prompt and firm interposition of the American authorities at Callao. His vessel had to be accompanied to sea by the U. S. frigate Independence, for the purpose of security. We understand that the Peruvian government has complained to our government in relation to the alleged offence, and has made it a national question.

Prompt steps were taken by the Collector to have the accused arrested, which was done on the same day, John T. Francis, Esq., U. S. Commissioner, having issued his warrant on the application. The party was taken before him and admitted to bail in the sum of $5000, for his appearance on Wednesday next, when an examination will take place.

A telegraphic dispatch received in this city on Saturday, states that Capt. Adams, having been examined by the U. S. Commissioner, was honorably acquitted and discharged.

☞ The special correspondent of the Boston Advertiser, under date of Washington, March 26, says:

The "Union" newspaper, after permitting a week to elapse since the charge was made upon the floor of the House that President Pierce offered Mr. Reeder the Mission to China to resign the Governorship of Kansas, now that Reeder has left the city, abuses those who repeated the charge, but does not dare specifically to deny it. Whenever the President will authorize any one of his friends to make the denial and challenge the proof, I think it will be forthcoming.

☞ George Wilson, the negro confined in New York on suspicion of having murdered the captain and crew of the Eudora Imogene, was discharged on the ground of irregular proceedings.

SMALL BILLS.—In the Massachusetts Legislature, on Friday, the House, by a decisive vote, (155 to 95,) indefinitely postponed the bill for the gradual suppression of the circulation of small bank notes.

WOOD INSURE. — Several of the insurance companies in Rhode Island have resolved not to insure buildings any part of which are occupied for the sale of intoxicating drinks.

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY, March 28.

HOUSE. [Continued.]—Mr Lane of Oregon, called attention to the horrible sufferings of whites in Oregon and Washington Territories, caused by the unrestrained outrages of the Indians.

He appealed for an appropriation of $300,000, to secure the services of friendly Indians, who alone can, in the summer time, penetrate the hiding places and fastnesses of the foe. He introduced a bill for that purpose, and it was referred to the Committee on ways and Means.

Mr. Campbell, Chairman of that Committee, said the matter should be considered immediately. Adjourned till Monday.

Gov. Chase of Ohio made a requisition on Gov. Morehead of Kentucky for the colored woman, Margaret, who killed her child at Cincinnati. The Kentucky Governor granted the needful documents, but it seems that the owner, Gaines, learned what was on foot, and immediately sent Margaret to Louisville, where she was shipped on board of a steamer with other negroes to be sent to the South.—The boat had been gone from Louisville about two hours when the officer with the writ reached that place. Gov. Morehead expressed much indignation at the conduct of Gaines, and gave his word that the fugitive should be brought back and given up.

On its way down the river, the steamer which carried the slaves came in collision with another vessel, sustaining much damage. Several persons lost their lives—among them the the infant of Margaret was drowned. The mother showed the wildest joy when told of its fate, and declared that she herself would never reach her destination in Arkansas alive.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—The Express train on the Hartford railroad, from New York for Providence, Thursday evening, when within about seven miles of Plainfield, came in contact with a rock estimated to weigh five or six tons, which had fallen directly on the track. The road passes through a rocky cut at that point, and it is supposed that the fallen mass had been affected with the severe frost, so that the jar of the train shook it down, and that it had fallen only the moment before the engine came in contact with it.

The engine was turned completely over, and the engineer and fireman were thrown into a cavity left by a rock which had been removed. The cavity was so deep that there was room enough for them to lie safely under the engine, which fell across it. To this fortunate circumstance they owed their escape from a horrible death. They were only injured slightly by the fall. No other person was injured. The engine was badly smashed.—Providence Journal.

PROVINCETOWN, March 29.—The barque Messenger Bird, from Bermuda, reports that the Cunard steamer Curlew, from Halifax, ran ashore on the North Breaker, Bermuda, on the morning of the 18th inst., and sunk in three minutes. The mails were lost. All hands saved. The vessel is broken in two, and decks under water. A large number of boats went to her assistance, but were unable to save any thing, as the sea was running very high. The vessel will be a total loss.

REV. DR. WITHINGTON, OF NEWBURY.—The Newburyport Herald has an account of some very interesting services at the First Church in Newbury. The members of the parish presented the Rev. Dr. Withington a massive silver pitcher, salver and two goblets, as an offering of affection and gratitude. After singing by the congregation, prayer was offered by the Rev. Dr. Dana. Joshua Coffin, Esq., presented the plate in a brief speech, and was followed by Dr. Withington in an address of rare eloquence.

LIQUOR LAW IN NEW YORK.—A new prohibitory liquor law has been introduced in the New York Legislature. It re-enacts the prohibitory law of 1855, striking out the search and seizure clause, providing for trial by jury, and making prohibition prospective in its action so as not to include liquors in possession at the time of its passage—thus meeting the constitutional objections of the old law.

GREAT FALLS, 29th.—Bold Outrage.—Last evening, some persons waylaid and assaulted Mr. Neal O'Brien, a prominent witness in some liquor prosecutions. He defended himself, discharging a revolver at his assailants, and slightly wounding one of them.

CINCINNATI, March 29.—By the explosion on board the Metropolis, 9 persons have died from their injuries: Capt. Hazlett, F. A. Roberts, Messrs. Tronth, Bryant, Metz, and three passengers unknown.

FROZEN TO DEATH.—The dead body of a man, whose name we did not learn, was found on Tuesday, lying near the track of the A. & K. Railroad, between Lewiston and Barker's Mills. Circumstances indicated that he fell down from intoxication, and was frozen to death—lying where he fell till discovered by the passing train. He was on his way home from town meeting.—Waterville Mail.

PUNISHMENT FOR DRUNKENNESS. — In Sweden a man who is seen drunk four times is deprived of his vote at elections, and the next Sunday after the fourth offense is exposed in the church-yard publicly.—Life Illustrated.

Some year or two ago the Rev. Wm. Tyler of Pawtucket, was sued for libel by Mr. Sherman, sheriff of Bristol county, the damages being assessed as high as $5000. The libel was contained in a letter written by Mr. Tyler. The case has just been tried at Taunton, and the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff, and assessed the damages at five dollars!—Boston Telegraph.

The Athenæum, (Halifax, N. S.,) states that Dr. Frederic Lees has answered the Westminster Review. Professor Youmans' Reply to the same Periodical, entitled, "The Scientific Basis of Prohibition" has been reprinted from the American edition. Doctor Trall's able rejoinder, also; "The Alcoholic Controversy," will probably be re-issued in England shortly.

LOCAL.

☞ The Gift Concert at the Temple this evening, will be one of the most attractive entertainments of the season. The bill is certainly a strong one. Mr. Thompson, as associate with the late Mr. Hector, in giving scores of concerts, all through New England, and in connection with others, and alone, is well known as a popular and excellent singer—and he brings with him a talented Club. Mr. Satter, many of our citizens have heard with delight; and will be glad of another opportunity of so doing. The Boston Telegraph of Friday evening last, says:

Mr. Satter's second Concert, at the Saloon of Messrs. Hallett & Davis, on Thursday evening, was attended by a large audience. Mr. Satter is beyond a doubt one of the most brilliant and accomplished pianists whom we have ever heard in Boston; most like to Jaell in his style, * * and shows the same dazzling brilliancy and exquisite tone, that so long charmed us here and made the best school of piano playing familiar to us. Stephen Heller's fantasia of a song of Mendelssohn's, was the great piece of the concert, and Mr. Satter played most beautifully, as very few could, through the exquisite embroidery with which Heller has beautified as few could do, the theme of the great master of our time. This piece we think was given for the first time here, and is a composition to please every taste. Mr. S. played also a brilliant fantasia on themes from Ernani, which closed the concert and elicited an encore.

Messrs. Hallett & Davis' room is very beautiful and pleasant in its appearance, and will be a favorite place for such entertainments. It is about the same size as the Chickering room, and beautifully finished and decorated. The piano used on this occasion was a fine one.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors,—Seeing in your paper of Saturday morning an allusion which directly charges me with being recently engaged in what I hold a disreputable and demoralizing business, I ask the privilege of a few words in reply, in your next issue.

In printing the city accounts for many years past, as you well know, it has been thought best by the printers to fix on a fair price, and instead of underbidding each other, to draw for the job. In this mode all have been satisfied,—and as no one put anything at risk for the chance of a shining prize, no one can be made a sufferer by the operation, or placed in the danger of coming to poverty by making haste to be rich. This drawing for the city accounts was recently made, and to it your correspondent refers as the case of my "participating in the drawing of a lottery similar in all respects" to the gambling affair in Boston!

A wise man of old has said, "The lot is cast in the lap, but the despoiling of it is of the Lord." Such casting of the lot is very different in principle from the Lotteries contemplated in our statute enactments as injurious to the public morals. If the latter may be judged from their effects upon many in our own vicinity who have drawn large prizes, we shall very readily conclude that the disposal of them is of him who in Job's days went up and down and to and fro in the earth.

Yours, &c., C. W. BREWSTER.

Our correspondent "B.," to whose article the above is a reply, has read this,—and requests us to say, that he can't see any more similarity between the Gift Concert announced for to-night, and "the gambling affair in Boston," than between the Boston affair and the printers' monopolizing scheme. He can't understand why book-makers and book-sellers should not be judged by the same standard. A lot is a lot, and all alike to the letter of the law; though, to be sure, castings of lots may be "very different in principle;" and to most folks there does seem to be a difference between a chaste and unexceptionable public Concert, and a scene of drunken revelry.

☞ THE GIFT CONCERT on Monday evening, from the general interest manifested therein, bids fair to prove eminently successful. SATTER, the prince of pianists, standing as he confessedly does, peerless and alone as a performer upon his favorite instrument, has many a time, unaided, drawn together a greater throng than the walls of the Temple could contain; while Thompson, with his well-trained quartette of singers, will offer such a musical treat as we are rarely privileged to listen to. Surely, such a "gift concert" as this, conflicts not with the spirit of any law upon our statutes, for no person purchasing a ticket and attending the Concert, can complain that they receive not a fair return for their money, even though the valuable prizes should pass into the possession of some more fortunate neighbors.—Gazette.

☞ Perham's Opera Vocalist and Ethiopian Delineators will be with us on the First and Second of April. The Portland and Bangor Papers, and the Press throughout the East, in one unanimous voice pronounce them the best Company that ever visited those cities. At Bangor, the Great Norombega Hall was filled for six consecutive nights; the same success attended their concerts at Portland; our citizens now being aware that this is a genuine Perham Troupe will without doubt fill the Temple at an early hour. *

POSTPONED BY THE SNOW.—The sale of the Wm. Sheafe Farm (see Mr. Bennett's advertisement,) is postponed on account of the snow, which covers the land so that purchasers cannot see it. Some land would sell better in that way—but this lands looks better in the Spring than in the Winter.

Col. Forney retires from the Union newspaper, his preference for Mr. Buchanan for the Presidency inducing his withdrawal. He retains his interest in the Senate printing.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

READ THIS.—The attention of the public is particularly called to the vast amount of positive proof, in favor of Dr. Wm. R. Hayden's Vegetable Purgative Pills,—the most remarkable and extraordinary Medicine that has ever been produced in this or any other country,—proof that cannot be disputed; proof that is not brought from Van Dieman's Land, but from people at home, of respectability,—many of them professional men of high standing in society, who would not be guilty of lending their names and influence to defraud those who are suffering with disease. These Pills have performed some of the most astonishing and remarkable cures that have ever been recorded in the annals of medical science.

3 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE CANADA.

HALIFAX, March 28.

The Royal Mail steamship Canada, from Liverpool about 1 P. M. 15th inst., arrived here at 7 30 this evening.

Hon. Geo. M. Dallas, the newly appointed American Minister, arrived at Liverpool on the 12th March, and proceeded to the Adelphi Hotel, where Consul Hawthorne had engaged apartments. A deputation from the American Chamber of Commerce presented him with a congratulatory address.

Mr. Buchanan dined with the Lord Mayor of London, and made a conciliatory speech, which has had good effect.

No excitement exists respecting American affairs.

PEACE CONFERENCE.—The eighth sitting of the Paris Conference was held on Wednesday, the 12th, but the results are not known. All accounts from Paris agree on the almost certainty of peace, and the accounts from Germany and Prussia speak in the same tone.

It was generally rumored that a treaty of peace would be signed at Paris, on Friday or Saturday, the 15th. All the differences have not, however, been adjusted. Several important disputes respecting Danubian Principalities, and Asiatic frontiers, are left as undecided as when the Congress first met.

PARIS, Friday.—The Congress held its 9th sitting to-day. The Moniteur publishes the following: "Paris, Friday—Congress having invited Prussia, as the signer of the treaty of the 13th of July, 1841, to send plenipotentiaries to Paris, the King of Prussia has appointed Baron de Mantenfel and Count de Hatzfield.

Mr. Layard, in the British Parliament, has given notice of enquiry, whether any hostile expedition is fitting out from India against Persia, and whether the Indian or English government will pay the expenses.

Mr. V. Smith, in reply to Mr. Layard, said there were two vessels, one of 500, and the other of 220 horse power, but he did not know the number of their guns sent into the Persian Gulf, from our Indian possessions.—He could not state whether the court of directors or the Indian government had been called upon to prepare an expedition against Persia; but there was a report that Persia had increased her army by 10,000 men, and was meditating an attack upon the northeast part of India, but he hoped when Persia learned the altered state of things in Europe, and the prospect there was of peace, she would be induced to pause in her aggressive designs.

Mr. Gladstone hoped the country would not be embroiled in war upon the Eastern question until the opinion of Parliament had been taken upon it.

THE BALTIC.—Despatches from Hamburg of March 11th, state that the British fly squadron is pushing towards the Gulf of Finland.

Naval Operations in the Baltic.—From Kiel, under date of March 13, we are informed that the Fire Fly had entered that port with a despatch from the British government requesting Com. Watson not to engage in hostilities in the Baltic.

THE CRIMEA.—The Armistice was known to both armies on the 28th of February. The Russians had it first, by telegraph from St. Petersburg.

On the 28th the British blew up the white buildings in Sebastopol.

On the 29th, Russian General Timoieff, English General Windham, French General Martinakrey, and Sardinian General Peitite, Chiefs of Staff met on Traktir Bridge, and exchanged proposals of armistice; and a line of neutral ground, limited by the Tchernaye, has been traced between the two armies.

Considerable sickness has prevailed in the French army. English surgeons, having little to do, have offered their services to the hospitals at Constantinople.

The Russian army is also unhealthy.

Selim Pasha is to be court-martialled for the fall of Kars.

TURKEY.—The Ottoman ministry is occupied with measures for alleviating the commercial crisis. Free export of breadstuffs is permitted from southern Turkish ports, but prohibited from ports east of the Dardanelles.

A half yearly meeting of the Bank of England stockholders declared a dividend of ten per cent. per annum free of tax, the profits of the half year being £700,000 sterling.

FRANCE.—Paris commercial letters continue to speak with confidence of peace, and also mention that the speculative mania increases. The more cautious fear that peace will bring on a commercial catastrophe.

"The Little Stranger" is hourly expected, a curious programme of his first appearance is published in the Moniteur. A golden rose, blessed by the Pope, will this year be sent to the Empress Eugenie. Prince Jerome Bonaparte is recovering from his late illness.

ITALY. — The Inspector General of Prisons in the duchy of Parma, was assassinated in the street.

PRUSSIA.—Some importance is attached to the death of Herr Von Hinkeldey, who was killed in a duel by Capt. Roshow, the affair being instigated by a political party opposed to the deceased. The King and Court attended the funeral of Theodore, one of the Astec children, who died at Berlin of fever.

Reduction of the Austrian Army.—A despatch dated at Vienna, March 14, states that a new reduction of the Austrian army has been announced.

THE RUGELEY POISONING.—True bills have been found against Wm. Palmer for the murder of Cook and Palmer.

The Sultan's brother is dead.

The armistice throughont the Crimea was proclaimed on the 1st of March.

THE PEACE CONFERENCES.—A despatch from Berlin of the 12th inst. says, Count Orloff has made known at St. Petersburgh that a definite understanding has been come to on on the 5th point, and that thanks to the instructions brought by M. De Schoenaloff, peace is assured. Some special deliberations, which are to take place between Russia and Persia, have been reserved. Preparations are making at Moscow for the coronation of the Emperor, which takes place after the conclusion of peace.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Arrival of Steamer Fulton, from Havre.—Steamer Fulton, Wotton, from Havre March 12th, via Cowes morning of 13th, arrived at this port this morning. She brings 72 passengers and $86,000 in specie. Among her passengers is Camden C. Dike, bearer of despatches.

The Fulton brings the second edition of the London Times of Wednesday.

The Vienna correspondent of the London Times states that the mystery of the recent improved relations between Austria and the United States has been cleared up: an American company is about to be formed, in order to open a direct trade between Austria and the United States, and import cotton and other productions from America, instead of from London and Liverpool. The writer intimates that a treaty of Commerce between the United States and Austria will be concluded at no distant day.

Capt. Hodges, the British representative at Hamburg, had made representations to the Senate respecting the quantities of ammunition that left that port for Russia. An examination followed, when it was proved that these supplies had, in most instances been forwarded on account of two houses of high standing in England, in one of which a member of Parliament was interested.

The Times' Paris correspondent states that on two points Russia makes ample concession, viz:—the neutralization of the Black Sea, with the dismantling of the fortresses and the non-reconstruction of Bomarsund.

NEW YORK, March 29.—The steamer Ericsson sailed for Liverpool to-day, in place of the Pacific. She took out only 9 passengers, and no specie.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st. opps. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has taspe arrang ments whereby the obligations prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS instead of twenty, as paid back by others, will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal throu h him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate — The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington — Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in s uring inventors that they can not employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of bringing their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

August 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. THOMAS MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption it has no equal.— It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

G. W. STONE'S

LIQUID CATHARTIC,

—AND—

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more mildly and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels in perfect order. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhœa and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

TUESDAY, APRIL 1, 1856.

A GEORGIA FUNERAL.

Viator, a northern man, writes in the New York Home Journal, describing a slave's funeral which he saw in Georgia; and the description is copied with great applause in the Charleston Mercury, and other Southern papers.

He was just seated with a cigar, after supper, in the master's house, when a slave said "Master, de coffin hab come."

"Very well," was the only reply, and the servant disappeared.

My host remarked my gaze of inquisitive wonder and replied to it:

"I have been very sad, "said he, "to-day. I have had a greater misfortune than I have experienced since my father's death.

I lost this morning the truest and most reliable friend in the world—one whom I have been accustomed to honor and respect since my earliest recollection; he was the playmate of my father's youth, and the Mentor of mine; a faithful servant, an honest man, and a sincere Christian. I stood by his bedside to-day, and, with his hands clasped in mine, I heard the last words he uttered.—They were, 'Master, meet me in heaven.'"

His voice faltered a moment, and he continued after a pause, with increased excitement:

"His loss is a melancholy one to me. If I left my home, I said to him, John, see that all things are taken of, and I knew that my wife and child, property and all, were as safe as though they were guarded by a hundred soldiers. I never spoke a harsh word to him in all my life, for he never merited it. I have a hundred others, many of them faithful and true, but his loss is irreparable."

Then, Viator remarks:

I come from a section of that Union where slavery does not exist, and I brought with me all the prejudices which so generally prevail in the free States in regard to this "institution." I had already seen much to soften these, but the observation of years would have failed to give me so clear an insight into the relation between master and servant as this simple incident. It was not the haughty planter, the lordly tyrant, talking of his dead slave as of his dead horse, but the kind-hearted gentleman lamenting the loss and eulogizing the virtues of his good old friend.

Then he attended the funeral.

I followed him to one of a long row of cabins, situated at a distance of three hundred yards from the mansion. The house was crowded with negroes, who all arose on our entrance, and many of them exchanged greetings with my host, in tones that convinced me that they felt that he was an object of sympathy from them! The corpse was deposited in the coffin, attired in a shroud of the finest cotton materials, and the coffin itself painted black.

The master stepped at its head, and laying his hand upon the cold brow of his faithful bond man, gazed long and intently upon the features with which he had been so long familiar, and which he now looked upon for the last time on earth; raising his eyes at length, and glancing at the serious countenances now bent upon his, he said solemnly and with much feeling:

"He was a faithful servant and a true Christian; if you follow his example, and live as he lived, none of you need fear, when the time comes for you to lay here."

A patriarch, with the snow of eighty winters on his head, answered;—

"Master, it is true, and we will try to live like him."

The funeral, by torchlight, at 9 P. M., with the negroes' singing, was very impressive to Viator, who says:

I am but a brief sojourner here. I hail from a colder clime, where it is our proud boast that all men are free and equal. I shall return to my Northern home, deeply impressed with the belief, that, dispensing with the name of freedom, the negroes of the South are the happiest and most contented people on the face of the earth.

This last sentence seems to us, like a very large conclusion drawn from rather small premises.

The whole story, of which we copy the best parts, goes to show that a faithful, honest, christian man, lived and died a chattel slave:—and that the master,—whose father he had served in youth, whose self he served in his old age, and for whom he uttered his last good wish on his deathbed,—wept over his coffin, honored his memory, and deplored his loss.

The character of the master, as here depicted, puts us in mind of Mr. Shelby, Uncle Tom's first master; and the deceased slave reminds us of Uncle Tom himself. Both exhibit good traits;—but we do not see one beautiful thing in the picture, which is in the least indebted to slavery for its comeliness.

Humanity, gratitude, and piety, are not products of slavery,—though they do exist in spite of it.

OFFICIAL LONGEVITY.—'Typo' informs us that there is just room enough in one of our columns for the following item:

The Register Office corps consists of nine persons, viz:—Two editors and proprietors, and seven case and press hands—three journeymen and four apprentices. The senior editor has been connected with the office upwards of 47 years; the junior do. 16 years. Of the three journeymen, one has been with us 23 years; the second, 19 years; and the third, 17 years—making an aggregate official service of longevity, of five persons out of nine, of one hundred and twenty-two years.—Beat this who can!—Salem Register, 12th inst.

POPULAR NAMES FOR TOWNS.—In looking over the Census of 1850, we were struck with the popularity of certain names for towns in the United States. The names of the Presidents, Generals of the Revolution, and leading men of that time were the most numerous. The following list will show the necessity of putting on the full direction, State, County and Town, on letters, particularly those going to the western country. Ohio and Indiana have appropriated the greater portion of these popular names.

The number of Counties, Towns, and Parishes in the United States named Washington is 169, of which 37 are in Indiana, and 43 in Ohio; Adams, 6; Jefferson, 86, of which 38 are in Indiana, and 36 in Ohio; Madison, 62; Monroe, 71; Jackson, 133, of which 38 are in Indiana; Van Buren, 31; Harrison, 62; Tyler, 2; Taylor, 15; Fillmore, 1.

There are 108 Unions; 100 Franklins; 66 Libertys, of which 25 are in Ohio; 64 Perrys, of which 13 are in Indiana, and 26 in Ohio.

MASSACHUSETTS.—A correspondent of the Springfield Republican says:

Disagreement of juries in liquor cases are now the rule in Franklin county: it has become as difficult to procure a conviction here as in Boston; and Franklin and Suffolk stand alone and together among the counties of the State in this respect. The Democratic party in this county have always taken strong ground against liquor laws, and under the advice of their leaders plant themselves firmly on the unconstitutionality of such laws, and act accordingly and independently when serving on juries in cases under them."

A correspondent from the western part of Massachusetts, in commenting upon various matters pertaining to temperance, writes as follows:

So far as we are concerned in this part of the country, the Maine Law works well—we wish for no alteration, and hope none will be made. The law only needs a virtuous public sentiment to back it up. When that is wanting, the law, like any other good law, will be a failure; but let not the innocent suffer with the guilty. Let those who will not enforce it take the consequences, and let those who will, have the advantage of it and keep themselves clear of the terrible curse.

LIQUOR LAW IN TAUNTON.—An appealed liquor case was on trial at the Court of Common Pleas now in session in Taunton, a few days ago, during which one of the witnesses testified that he had bought no liquor of the defendant. He was closely questioned but still denied purchasing. Upon being asked whether he did not state before the Magistrate that he purchased liquor of the defendant he replied no. The magistrate who originally tried the case and the officer who served the warrant were then put upon the stand, and both testified plainly that the witness did state that he purchased liquor of the respondent, whereupon Judge Bishop promptly committed the witness to jail on a charge of perjury. He will be obliged to remain, if we are correctly informed, until June. Served him right. It is high time that such false swearing as we have in liquor cases met with the punishment which it deserves.—Boston Tel.

TEMPERANCE IN QUINCY, MASS.—The third of a series of temperance meetings was held in Lyceum Hall, on Thursday evening last. Addresses were made by Rev. Mr. Clark and others. Pledges were circulated, 118 names obtained, and incipient measures were taken to form a temperance society, particularly for the young. The people are waking up, and are beginning to realize that they have a great work to do there yet. There seems to be a general revival of temperance throughout many parts of the State.

The little town of Rockport (of about four thousand inhabitants) is awake upon the subject of temperance. At the annual town meeting, the town chose a committee of three persons to prosecute all violations of the liquor law, and appropriated five hundred dollars to back them up in their duty. Recently, on their complaint, two sellers were brought before Justice George D. Hale, and were fined and sent to the House of Correction at Ipswich.—Telegraph.

Edward O. Coburn, in the Boston jail, is sick of brain fever; and 6000 persons have signed a petition that he and Dalton may be released. If they should be pardoned now, sentence for crime hereafter would be a mockery. We have no doubt that many a better man than Coburn ever was, is sick and in prison to-day, for whom the world has not the first thought.—Newburyport Herald.

The Boston Courier of Monday, contains a contradiction of the brain fever story. The disordered brains are probably in the heads of those who got up the petition.

THE COX DIVORCE CASE.—This case, the disgusting details of which have filled the New York papers for several days, was brought to a close on Friday by a verdict for the defendant, Mrs. Cox. The counsel for the plaintiff took exceptions, and asked for twenty days to make a case, which request was granted.

SHERIFF DIFFICULTY IN MAINE.—The Senate of Maine have passed a resolution, every member of the Senate voting in its favor but two, that they will, on the 4th of April, proceed to consider the subject of an address to the Governor to remove Judge Davis, of the Supreme Court of that State, for the reason that he refused to acknowledge the appointment by the Governor of Mr. Emery as Sheriff of Cumberland county, but retained in Mr. Baker, the old Sheriff. Judge Davis, it is stated, will be defended before the Senate by Hon. Rufus Choate and Richard H. Dana, Jr., of Massachusetts.

CLERICAL.—Rev. Jonathan Cole, of Salem, has accepted a unanimous invitation to become the pastor of the Unitarian Society in Exeter.

LOCAL.

☞ The Gift Concert, at the Temple on Monday evening, was in every respect highly successful. The house was filled with one of the most respectable, quiet and attentive audiences; the music, both vocal and instrumental, was all that could be desired; and the distribution of the gifts was quickly and successfully made. Mr. Satter thundered and lightened, drummed and fifed, rambled and rolled, run and jumped, all over, through and among the grand piano—as nobody but Satter can; his playing was well received and encored to repetition. Mr. Thompson, with his male quartet club, gave an admirable programme. Besides the quartet singing, which was nice, Thompson sang a song or two, and echoed, trilled, yogled, and whistled, in a style that can't be beat. He has a splendid voice, and has cultivated it well.

At the close of the musical performances, Messrs. James Larrabee, Geo. W. Dame, and A. W. Parsons, were chosen by the audience, the committee to award the gifts among the ticket-holders; Mr. John J. Mason being chosen Secretary. The record of their doings we shall publish to-morrow. The Gifts will be ready for delivery, at Mr Head's bookstore, on and after Saturday morning next. (By the way, nobody would have declined to serve on that committee, had they known what a nice oyster supper Allen Freeman was to get up for the committee, the singers, &c.)

☞ By referring to the advertisement it will be seen that Perham's Opera Troupe are to commence their engagement at the Temple to-night. This company have visited all our principal cities East, and have met with unbounded success. The Portland papers and press generally throughout Maine commend them very highly. The programme they have circulated is quite different from the one they played when here before, and contains many new features. Remember they remain with us but two nights.

☞ We are requested to state that Rev. E. M. Kirk, of Boston, who was expected to deliver a Lecture before the Portsmouth Young Men's Christian Association, sometime in April, has communicated to their Lecture Committee that he will be unable to fulfil his engagement here, on account of ill health.

EMANCIPATION OF SLAVES.—We stated a day or two since that Capt. James H. Terrill, who died at Charlottesville, Va., on Tuesday, the 18th inst., had by his will emancipated eighty or ninety of his negroes, and made provision for their removal to Liberia or some of the free States of America. A correspondent of the Salem Gazette says that the wife of Capt. Terrill was a native of Salem. He leaves no children, but has from time to time adopted and educated several. He was one of the wealthy farmers of Albermarle county, where the slave population is six to one of white. Warm-hearted, genial, and generous, both he and his lady were forward in every good work. They were both strongly attached to the late Rev. James Chisholm, whose early ministry was in their vicinity.—Mr. and Mrs. Terrill visited Salem a few years ago.—Traveller.

ONE OF THE MOTHERS. — Died, in New Haven, Feb. 20th, Mrs. Ruth, widow of the late Dea. Bradford Steele (a soldier of the Revolution), aged 90 years. She was 11 years old at the Declaration of National Independence. She was married near the close of the war, lived with her husband more than a half century, and was spared to see the fifth generation of her kindred. She took much satisfaction in recounting incidents of revolutionary times, to many of which she had been an eye witness.

NEW MODE OF FINDING A VERDICT.—At a recent murder trial in Sacramento the jury disagreed, and, on being sent back to the jury room, they put twenty-four tickets into a hat, on twelve of which was written "guilty," and on the other twelve "not guilty," and drew for a verdict. The not guilty ones got a majority. The State Journal favors the idea, because the matter is settled at once, but suggests that the drawing take place hereafter before the trial — to save expense and trouble.

MODEL HOUSES.—It will be remembered by our readers, that the will of the late Hon. Abbott Lawrence contained a bequest of $50,000, to be invested in the erection of Model Lodging-Houses for the poor. The Boston Gazette says that the block is to be located at the corner of Ash and Bennett streets, at the South end, between Harrison Avenue and Washington street. The site is now occupied, but the dwellings are immediately to be razed, when the new structure will be commenced. We understand that it will contain about five hundred apartments.

A lady died in Lansinburg from the effects of poison contained in some maple sugar of which she had partaken. It is supposed the poison was imparted to the sugar by boiling it in a brass kettle. The poison was thrown from her stomach, but it engendered an inflammation of which the victim doubtless died. All the other members of the family who had partaken of the sugar were more or less affected by it.

Mr. Brackett, proprietor of a liquor saloon in Brookline, refused to sell liquor to a young man named Wood, and then cowhided him for insolent language. Young Wood would do well to join the "moral suasion" movement, and to revenge himself by helping to break up Brackett's business. Brackett refused the liquor at the request of the friends of the young man, and for that he deserves credit.

Mr. Archibald Hathorn was killed, Thursday, at Veazie, Maine, by falling from the new mill on which he was at work, and striking with great violence upon some braces and the ice below. He leaves a wife and six children.

The ladies of Greenburg, Indiana, have voted to appoint a committee of one hundred, selecting, of course, the prettiest, to visit all the liquor shops in town and try by "kindness and affection to influence sellers to quit the business."

PERSONAL.—In newspaper circles there is a report that Mrs. Partington is about to change her domicil, and will shortly become connected with one of our most popular and largely circulated journals.—Boston Transcript.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

READ THIS.—The attention of the public is particularly called to the vast amount of positive proof, in favor of Dr. Wm. R. Hayden's Vegetable Purgative Pills.—the most remarkable and extraordinary Medicine that has ever been produced in this or any other country,—proof that cannot be disputed; proof that is not brought from Van Dieman's Land, but from people at home, of respectability,—many of them professional men of high standing in society, who would not be guilty of lending their names and influence to defraud those who are suffering with disease. These Pills have performed some of the most astonishing and remarkable cures that have ever been recorded in the annals of medical science.

A Novel and Interesting Work.

THE FIRST AND SECOND MARRIAGES; or, The Courtesies of Wedded Life. By Mrs. Madeline Leslie.

The object of this volume is indicated by its title. It is to exhibit "the courtesies of wedded life." It treats of courtship and marriage, of the relation of husband and wife, of their responsibilities and privileges, and of their trials and rewards. It aims to assist them in their reciprocal duties, and in the attainment of the pure and blissful ends of wedlock. It shows how piety enables them to bear with each other's infirmities, how it smooths asperities of temper, assimilates dispositions and tastes, conforms character to the noblest standard, and adorns them with graces surpassing those of the muses.

This day received and for sale by JAMES H. HEAD, 14 Pleasant street. m31

SPRINGFIELD, March 29.—Suicide.—Chas. A. Schouler, in a temporary fit of insanity, jumped from the third story window of the Massasoit House last night, and died this morning from injuries received. Mr. Schouler was from Alabama. He had a brother very sick in Boston, whom he had come from the South to see. He had been in feeble health himself for some time past, and was subject at times to fits of temporary insanity. He arrived from Boston yesterday in company with a doctor, on his way to the Brattleboro' Water Cure establishment. They retired early, both occupying the same room.—About half-past twelve this morning, his room-mate was awakened by him, trying to choke him. He, however, got rid of him.—He then went to the water-pitcher and commenced drinking freely. His room-mate told him if he drank so much he would injure himself. He immediately knocked him down and acted in such a manner that his room-mate ala med the house. When he got back to the room, he found he had leaped through the window sash and fell a distance of sixty feet into the yard, mangling him in a dreadful manner. He lived but six hours. He was a German by birth. His body was taken back to Boston this afternoon.

NEW YORK, April 31.—A Rio Janeiro correspondent of the Herald, writing on the 14th ult, gives a full account of the detention of the steamer America, by the British Admiral in that port. It appears that a disappointed Englishman who had acted for a few days as mate on board the America, informed Admiral Johnson that she had cannon and other munitions of war, for Russian use, on board. This was denied, and after being detained two days went to sea, under the protection of the U. S. frigate Savannah. The English Admiral sailed shortly after, and it was expected she would attempt to overhaul the America when clear of port.

Non-arrival of Steamers.—Considerable anxiety is felt here on account of the non arrival of the Daniel Webster at New Orleans, and the Star of the West at this port, from San Juan. The impression prevails to some extent that the Walker-Rivas government had seized the vessels, to satisfy the claims of Nicaragua upon the Transit Company.

THE DISASTER TO THE CHILIAN WAR STEAMER CAZADA.—The disaster to this vessel, by which 315 lives were lost, was occasioned by her running on to the Carranza rocks, at 8 P. M. on the 30th of January.—The collision stove in the bows, and the vessel began rapidly to sink. All the boats, of which there were but four, were lowered, and efforts were made to land the crew and passengers, but most of them perished in the attempt. But 43 were saved. Besides two companies of soldiers, there were about 140 soldiers' wives on board, besides members from the higher walks of life. The captain of the vessel says he cannot comprehend the loss of the vessel. The ship was in charge of the first lieutenant, who was lost.

MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR.—A telegraphic despatch from New Bedford Sunday evening states that a man named Rogers, of about sixty years of age, was found dead yesterday forenoon, at the wharf foot of Howland street. He was doubtless murdered sometime Saturday night. His face was considerably bruised, and marks of blood were traced on the sidewalk to a house some distance from the wharf. The coroner held an inquest yesterday, but no verdict has been rendered. Several persons had been arrested for examination. The affair caused much excitement in New Bedford.—Boston Chronicle.

ROME, Feb. 28.—Miss Dix, it may interest her friends at home to hear, has very much improved in health, for the benefit of which she came abroad some eighteen months since. During her sojourn of a few weeks here, she visited the Hospitals for the insane, and pointed out many much needed reforms, which there is reason to believe will be effected. An appropriation of $40,000 is asked of the government to raise these institutions to the condition of those established in the United States under the counsels of this matchless woman. Miss D. is just now at Florence, whence she goes into Germany on her benevolent mission. —Cor. Newark Daily Adv.

WARNING TO SHIPMASTERS.—The general assembly of Virginia has just passed a bill, to prevent as far as possible, the abduction of slaves by means of vessels navigating the streams tributary to the Chesapeake Bay. The pilots are required to search every vessel outward bound, to ascertain if any fugitive slaves are aboard. For making the inspection they are to exact a fee of $5 from the captain. An inspector general, to reside at Norfolk, is to be appointed by the governor. If any shipmaster leaves the port before such inspection is made, he is liable to a fine of five hundred dollars.

ACCIDENT.—On Saturday afternoon, at half-past 5 o'clock, while the Fitchburg train was passing Cambridge Crossing, the brakeman in attempting to pass from one car to another, fell between them upon the track, and the train passed over him in such a manner as to separate the head from the body.—His name was Rufus Greenleaf. He resided in Lowell, where he leaves a wife and child.

The Kansas company, for whom Prof. Siliman and the other New Haven divines purchased rifles, starts to-day—100 strong. They will go via Rock Island and through Iowa, avoiding Missouri. If their example should be followed, the Missourians, in the less of trade, would see what they have gained by folly and violence. There is another party of 100 to start from the vicinity of New Haven in a few days, and thousands in New England are preparing to migrate hereafter.—Newburyport Herald.

NEW KIND OF EXPRESS FREIGHT.—The attention of the multitude about the Central Depot was attracted this morning by a pair of large elks, in charge of the American Express Company, and destined for Utica. These fine animals came from Nebraska; and are the property of Mr. C. W. Johnson, a Utica gentleman. They have been broken into harness and are easily managed; they weigh about 600 pounds each, and must make a serviceable team.—Rochester Union.

ELECTRO-MEDICATED BATHS,

Discovered by Dr. R. Green. The solvent properties of certain plants are added to these baths, which, together with the current of electricity, neutralize the diseased matter in the blood and tissues, and expel it from the system. Each bath is prepared to suit the constitution and disease of the patient, and may be medicated to act directly upon any disease. They are thus rendered more pleasant to the patient, and much more effectual in removing Scrofula, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Paralysis, Fits, Female Complaints, than the Electro-Chemical Baths,—in fact, all diseased conditions of the human body are greatly relieved by these baths, and the action of the medicine taken assisted, and the cure more speedily effected. Dr. Green still uses the

THE ELECTRO CHEMICAL BATHS,

Are said to have the power of removing Lead from the human body, and relieving many most painful and dangerous diseases. Now the most frequent cause of lead in the system (next to working in lead,) is, the use, for domestic purposes, of water from lead pipes Prevention is cheaper than cure. DR. O. W. HOLMES.—In the first place we published, as soon as we saw Dr. Holmes's ode, an extract in which he evidently aimed a squib at Mr. Speaker Banks, about letting the props "slide."

Next, we published, the other day, a brief extract from Dr. Holmes's explanatory letter, which first appeared in the Exeter News Letter.

Now we give another extract, to which we append some notes.

I believe in the vital importance of the Union, and deprecate all sectional feelings which may endanger it. I have long held the opinion that the ultra abolitionists stand on perfectly logical ground, and have not hesitated to avow a certain respect for their manly position, but I understand them to repudiate the existing government of their country, as based on an unhallowed compact, and to be guilty of, (or honored by, as they would have it,) a "breach of allegiance," which is treason, according to the Dictionary.(1)

I consider that our present Constitution makes us partners with slave-holders in slavery as much as a contract with thieves to restore stolen property to them, would make us partners in their larceny.(2) I do not see, therefore, how those who hold to the contract, and especially those who hold places of honor or profit under it, can abuse the other party to this contract.(3)

Our feelings with reference to different individuals and races differ in degree, if not in kind. The intense ts of the white race, the most improvable, take strongest hold upon me; then those of the Blacks, the most attachable; and lastly those of the Indians, the least amenable to the higher social and civilizing influences. But all are human, and I would suffer no wrong that I could help, to be inflicted on any.(4)

NOTES.

1. Treason, by the Dictionary is one thing: Treason, as defined by the Constitution of the United States, is quite another; and our forefathers evidently intended to get rid of the Monarchical views of treason.

2. This is decidedly Garrisonian,—and if read at the South would more than neutralize all that the Doctor urged against Mr. Banks.

3. This is sound; we can see no call for the abuse.

4. This is excellent: but it does not in the least undo the injustice done to Mr. B., who is not a disunionist by profession; but who endeavors to interpret the Constitution as favoring liberty,—and expressed his willingness to let it slide, in case it took the opposite side, of guaranteeing slavery and nothing else.

The plea of self-defence, on which the rifle-religionist defends his conduct, is perfectly untenable. It is the purchase of Sharp's rifles in the East, that creates danger in the West. Every rifle bought in Massachusetts, necessitates the purchase of a revolver in Missouri. Like begets like: arms beget arms: and if the Northerner, as he moves westward, equips himself like a pirate, he must not be surprised if his Southern countryman is armed like an Arab.—Boston Maul.

On the principles of the Sermon on the Mount, literally taken, the plea is untenable. But when and where did the Maul become a non-resistant? Surely it cannot be right for one man to use arms in self defence, and wrong for another. The obligation not to resist, either binds all men, or else it binds no man.

It is quite true, that the arming of one party commonly arms the other. But we have somehow got the idea that the revolver and the bowie knife, and other such tools, were somewhat common in Missouri, before any Sharpe's rifles went from Massachusetts to Kansas.

And it may possibly turn out, that the freemen who are equipped like pirates, are quite as good citizens as those who oppose free labor as a dangerous institution, and who are armed like to Arabs to resist it.

THE RUST AND GREELY AFFAIR.— The grand jury for this county adjourned finally on the day before yesterday. We have every reason to believe that they did not find an indictment against the Hon. Albert Rust, of Arkansas, on account of his fracas with the Hon. Horace Greely, of New York, ex-M. C., and editor of the Tribune. It is well known that Mr. G. himself took no part in bringing the affair to the notice of the local authorities of this District. It has not been customary in this community for the courts to notice "little affairs" of the sort, in which no bones are broken or serious bodily damage done, unless the individual feeling aggrieved himself asks that it shall be done. Hence, we presume, the failure of the grand jury to move in the case at the request of some stranger in this community not personally involved in it. We think that Mr. Greely exhibited excellent sense in refraining from asking the indictment of his assailant for an affair, which, we feel assured, never would have transpired but from the misapprehension of his reply when first accosted by Mr. Rust; which led the latter to believe, in the heat of the moment, that he (Mr. Greely) stood ready to settle all such matters pretty much as they are apt to be settled throughout the South.—Star.

Mr. Rust is said to have been drunk—such "little affairs" are quite common in that city.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 2, 1856.

A SOUTH CAROLINA VIEW.

The following remarks were made at a recent meeting at Charleston, S. C., called to discuss the Kansas question, by Mr. W. R. Taber, who is, we believe, editor of the Charleston Mercury, one of the ablest papers in the country :—

What are we to do? Look on the map for Kansas. See the post she occupies. The North has sixteen States, the South fifteen. In the United States Senate the North casts two votes more than we; the House is absolutely of the North. Give them Kansas—they have two more votes in the Senate, and the whole country becomes abolitionized. The same cry swells from Maine to Iowa, 'No more slave States!' It goes forth from the pulpit, is the burden of the teachings in Sabbath schools, in every condition, in every stage of life. Let that cry be the precursor of success to its utterers, and farewell to the bright anticipations, the fond dreams for the future of southern institutions, which we have looked forward to seeing embraced in the arms of a Southern Confederacy, and proudly defying the world to strike! Kansas lies at the very gate of the West—on the route of the great Pacific Railroad—she stands out a very promontory in the Union. If free institutions gain footing on her soil — if she is added to the ranks of the fanatics, then follow Missouri and Arkansas —all to abolitionism. If Kansas is made free where next can slavery advance to the West? Not through the Indian territories — not through Iowa — it is swept back and encompassed literally, absolutely.

Will our readers of all opinions, please to read the above speech carefully, — and then ask themselves, — Do we wish to see slavery advance? Do we wish to see freedom lose its foothold, and recede? What do we claim as our birthright? Are we living in 'the land of the free, and the home of the brave'? or in the land of the serf, and the home of the slave?

ESPIONAGE.—We are informed, (says a paper in this State,) that the —s of —town, adopted the blue ticket at the recent election. This color was used for the purpose of ascertaining to a certainty, if those individuals who professed to have joined them, lived up to their professions.

In — city, all those who were bought up by the —s, had to carry pink colored tickets.

What a patriotic party, that the leaders don't dare trust the rank and file to vote until they are marked! Who wouldn't join such a party? Oh, the beauties of the blue ticket —— !

We purposely omit the names of towns, parties and papers, because we wish to speak to the merits of the question. Such espionage is tyrannical, anti-republican, aristocratic and oppressive.

The coalition legislature in Massachusetts, to their honor be it said, passed the secret ballot law. But the Whigs of that State, (O Shame!) when they came into power, though they did not repeal the law, yet amended it so as to make it worse than nothing.

We wish our General Court, this year would copy and pass the Secret or Sealed Ballot Law of the Massachusetts Coalition.

CAUSES OF CRIME.—Out of the 606 convicts in the Ohio Penitentiary, 400, or two thirds of them, have no trades. Here is one great cause of crime—inability to get an honest living. We talk of ignorance and intemperance as causes of crime, but a want of some industrial business that will give bread, does more to fill our prisons than both of them. The most important thing for a boy or girl to learn is some reliable means of a livelihood; and it is better for them never to see the inside of a school house or learn their letters than to fail in this.—Newburyport Herald.

No doubt idleness, ignorance, and intemperance, are all causes of crime. And vices, like virtues, grow in clusters. We should say, in view of the Herald's suggestion, that it is better never to see the inside of a school, than to fail of a trade—"This ye ought to have done—and not to leave the other undone." Make the people work by all means, but don't destroy the school.

FERLIGH'S HOMŒOPATHIC PRACTICE.—We ought to have noticed this book, some days ago—but a crowd of matters on the table, postponed it till now.

It is a solid volume of 576 pages, recommended by eminent Homœopathic Physicians, and is for sale in this city, by J. P. Morse. It occupies, in its own school of practice, nearly the same place with Buchan and Willich in the Allopathic or old regular school.

It is beyond our province, to decide on its merits. It is well printed, on excellent paper.

☞ Godey's Lady's Book for April, 1856, is just received from Mr. J. P. Morse of this city.

Among the engravings, are a beautiful frontispiece, entitled Man from first to last requires Assistance, colored and uncolored Fashions, patterns, and plans.

Of the articles, Reminiscences of Bonnets, Marrying a Planter, interested us — and over the humorous essay, How Euphrosyne and Peter Daffodil became literary, — we had no desire to keep a long face, and could not have done so, if we would.

MEETING OF THE STATE TEMPERANCE COMMITTEE.

A meeting of the State Temperance Committee was held at Concord, March 21, 1856.

Nathaniel White, Esq., was appointed Chairman pro tem, and E. Worth Rec. Secretary.

Voted, That the next annual meeting of the State Temperance Convention be held at Dover, and that the time be left with the Corresponding Secretary.

Voted, That William Prescott, M. D., and J. W. Sargent, Esq., be appointed Auditors.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we render thanksgiving to Almighty God for the success which has attended us through the struggle which we have passed, and for the degree of success which has attended our efforts.

Resolved, That in our opinion, the Prohibitory Liquor Law in this State is sufficient to accomplish the purpose for which it was enacted, viz. to banish dram shops from our State.

Resolved, That it is the duty of every good citizen to assist in the thorough execution of this, as well as of every other law of the State.

Resolved, That while we are under great obligations to the clergymen of New Hampshire for their efforts in the past—we cordially invite them to continue their efforts in the future. And that Messrs. Worth, Vail and Whitcher be appointed to address them on this subject, in behalf of the Committee.

Voted to adjourn to the 57th.

March 27th.

Met according to adjournment. The Chairman, Gen. Low presided.

Voted, That the following inquiries be addressed to the clergymen in the State. [The Address will be published as soon as received; —and the Inquiries will be given in due time, with the substance of the Answers.]

Voted, That the notices for meetings of this Committee, and for County and State Temperance Convention be published in the Chronicle & Phenix.

CONGRESS.

MONDAY, March 31.

SENATE.—Mr. Clayton, in making explanations regarding his remarks the other day, said the whole cost of Wilkes's exploring expedition, during four years' employment, including the printing of the narrative, was about $1,250,000.

The Senate then resumed the consideration of the resolutions submitted by Mr. Iverson, providing for the appointment of a committee to summon members of the late Naval Board, for the purpose of ascertaining the reasons which governed the action of the Board.

The debate lasted during the sitting. Adj.

HOUSE.—The general appropriation bills were made the special order on and after the 15th of April, excepting Mondays, Fridays and Saturdays.

Mr. Campbell of Ohio, from the Committee on Ways and Means, to which had been referred a bill for the suppression of Indian hostilities in Oregon and Washington territories, reported a substitute, under the direction of the President, for restoring and maintaining the peaceable disposition of the Indian tribes on the Pacific coast, and appropriating $120,000 to purchase gunpowder. Mr. Campbell said the original bill contemplated a rather warlike movement, but the committee thought it would be better to report a measure looking to peace on the frontiers, as recommended by the Secretary of War.

Messrs. Allison, Ready, Lane, Anderson and others took part in the discussion.

Mr. Haven of New York introduced a bill, which was passed, for the enlargement of the Custom House, Post Office and Court House buildings at Buffalo.

On motion of Mr. Phelps of Missouri, the Military Committee was instructed to inquire into the expediency of accepting the services of volunteers to aid in the suppression of Indian hostilities on the Pacific coast. Adj.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The present indications are that the House will refuse the appropriation of $300,000, asked for the suppression of the Indian disturbances in Oregon.

The anti-Nebraska men held another caucus tonight. Speeches were made by Messrs. Cumback, Barbour of Ind., Scott of Ohio, and others. The prevailing sentiment was that of harmony against the administration party. Gen. Pomeroy of Kansas also spoke, and in answer to inquiries, gave a minute and interesting account of the proceedings there during the disturbances, and relative to its future prospects. His private letters state that the immigration into Kansas amounts to a thousand per week since navigation opened. Eight out of ten are Free State men.—Tel. to Boston Adv.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—It is rumored that the President wishes in some way to strike a blow at the Kansas Commission, and that a Message or Proclamation questioning the power of the House to raise it will be transmitted on the slightest pretext. The Southern movement in the House raising this question is thought to have Executive backing. I only know the fact that the Committee have not chosen to apply either to the President or to the Secretary of War for authority to employ the military force in or near Kansas as contemplated by the House.

Messrs. Sherman and Fogg of the Kansas Commission, left to-night for Kansas via home.

SALEM, April 1.—A fire occurred this morning in the heart of the city, commencing near the De Soto House, and destroyed 30 buildings, including the Catholic church. Loss unknown.

LOCAL.

A TEMPERANCE MAN.—The Gazette of Monday evening, copies from the Boston Traveller, the following item, sent to the latter paper by some person in this city.

"Richard Jenness, Esq., a man of suavity and good standing in moral and business character, is Mayor. He was among the first of the wealthy citizens to banish wine and strong drinks from the social entertainments he gave."

To this, the Gazette appends this comment:

It seems that the "Rum Democracy" of this city can appreciate a temperance man.

We copy the item for the purpose of saying that the compliment, or statement, relating to Mr. Jenness' social influence on temperance, is simply just. And we may add that his personal influence has been used in the same direction.

He was also one of a committee of five, who in 1845, prepared and published one of the most reliable reports we ever had, on the sales of spirits in this place, and on the pauperism and crime connected therewith.

On this report, and such as this, has been based much of the power of argument that has enacted the present law.

We do not mean to be understood that Mr. Jenness has specially or directly favored the enactment of the law—but that his moral and social influence, in common with every man of correct life in this regard, has aided the public sentiment which passed and has so far sustained it.

On the other hand, we do not believe he has ever felt oppressed by it, that he has broken it himself, or encouraged others to do so.

We copy the Gazette's brief comment, as it gives us the best opportunity to say, that we have never deemed Rum or Slavery to be synonymous with Democracy, but rather opposed to it in terms. We never use the term "Rum Democracy" in our columns; and we regarded it peculiarly unfortunate for the Democratic party in this State, that they put the liquor plank into their late platform: for though it gained for them a large number of votes, perhaps 5000, it must have diminished their moral strength for the present and for some time in the future.

We hope now, that as the "Democracy of this city can appreciate a temperance man," they will also appreciate temperance itself—and that the new city government in all its branches, will, so far as a city government can, take the side of temperance and peace, law and order.

We shall certainly not take it for granted, in advance of their action, that such a body of men are about to do any thing absurd, ridiculous, or illegal.

PERHAM'S OPERA VOCALISTS.—As was expected, the Temple was full last evening to witness the performances of this excellent company of musicians. They opened with a new programme; and the whole performance, in fact, was even superior to those given by the same Troupe in February last. Don't forget this, their last night. They are the most worthy company of minstrels that ever visited our city. *

☞ A boy, whose name we withhold, was sent to our House of Industry, on Monday, for truancy—to labor 30 days. There are now three boys at the same House, for the same offence. Lest this sentence should seem too severe, let us say, that these truants are also chargeable with other offences, which might send them to jail—but it is deemed better by magistrates, to sentence boys to labor on the farm, than to shut them up in idleness.

FEMALE RIOT—WHISKEY BELOW PAR.—On Saturday last, about twenty or thirty of the most respectable ladies of Farmington, Ill., backed up and protected by about 300 men and boys—turned out armed with suitable inplements, and went to every grogshop in the place, and emptied all the intoxicating drinks they could find; which, from all that we could learn, was not a very small quantity. One man locked up his groggery, determined to keep them out; but finding them resolute, he finally unlocked it again, to save them the trouble of breaking the door in, then stood and watched them turn his liquors out; and when they had finished, he jumped upon the counter and proposed three cheers for the ladies, after which he made them a short speech, and declared that he would never sell any more intoxicating drinks as long as he lived in Farmington.

BRISTOL COUNTY, MASS. — Before the Court of Common Pleas for Bristol County, in session at Taunton during the past week, David Cahoone, of Taunton, was convicted on three charges of violation of the liquor law. Edward Ryan, on a similar charge, plead guilty. Hugh Conatty, Hugh Sweeney, of New Bedford, Stephen Lowell of Taunton, and Mary McManus, were convicted of violation of the liquor law. Patrick Keanan, of Taunton, convicted at the December term, 1855, of violation of the liquor law, was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs, and the House of Correction for three months; and if fine and costs are not paid, then thirty days additional, and to recognize in the sum of $100 not to violate the law for one year.—Mary Thacher, of Taunton, for violation of license law, same sentence. Edward Hickey, who in the case of David Cahoone, swore that he had not purchased any liquor of him, was arrested on a charge of perjury, he having on a previous examination of the case testified that he had purchased liquor of both the father and son. In default of bail in $1000, he was committed to jail.—Boston Mail.

HOW HE WAS MURDERED.—We have noticed the supposed murder of a Mr. Rogers, last Monday at New-Bedford.

The Boston Mail of Tuesday says:

From the testimony before the coroner it appears that Rogers got intoxicated at Groves' restaurant on Howland street, and a colored man named Peabody had used menacing words to Rogers as he was leaving the shop. He fell upon the sidewalk, and that was the last known of Rogers, until his body was found in the dock.

What is to become of Groves' Restaurant? in which he restores men to drunkenness.

THE CONNECTICUT RIVER.—The Connecticut river has risen only about six inches during the past week, and is still very low; the ice is nearly all gone—wasted away, and below East Haddam, Ct., the stream is clear of all obstructions. Not much of a freshet yet.

The great freshet March 27, 1856, predicted years ago by Lorenzo Dow, the eccentric preacher, was postponed on account of the weather.—Springfield Republican, 28th.

☞ Dickens's Household Words for April, 1856, came to us from Fetridge & Co. Boston, and J. H. Foster, Portsmouth.

Under the head of Chips, The Russian Budget, interested, and also informed us somewhat, in the way of the Russian resources. These are drawn into a picture by no means flattering.

The whole number is a fine one.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

READ THIS.—The attention of the public is particularly called to the vast amount of positive proof, in favor of Dr. Wm. R. Hayden's Vegetable Purgative Pills,—the most remarkable and extraordinary Medicine that has ever been produced in this or any other country,—proof that cannot be disputed; proof that is not brought from Van Dieman's Land, but from people at home, of respectability,—many of them professional men of high standing in society, who would not be guilty of lending their names and influence to defraud those who are suffering with disease. These Pills have performed some of the most astonishing and remarkable cures that have ever been recorded in the annals of medical science.

A Novel and Interesting Work.

The object of this volume is indicated by its title. It is to exhibit "the courtesies of wedded life." It treats of courtship and marriage, of the relation of husband and wife, of their responsibilities and privileges, and of their trials and rewards. It aims to assist them in their reciprocal duties, and in the attainment of the pure and blissful ends of wedlock. It shows how piety enables them to bear with each other's infirmities, how it smooths asperities of temper, assimilates dispositions and tastes, conforms character to the noblest standard, and adorns them with graces surpassing those of the muses.

This day received and for sale by JAMES H. READ, 14 Pleasant street. m31

SINGULAR TRIAL.—At the Court of Common Pleas, in Hampden county, last week, an action was brought by Elias Turner against Dickinson Shearer, of Palmer, for the recovery of a portion of the expense of a trial in which defendant and plaintiff's sons were interested together. The original circumstances were these: In 1839, Shearer, who was then a dealer in slaves at Richmond, Va., and who is a brother-in-law to Turner, enticed Turner's son into kidnapp ingof a colored boy in Worcester county, for which offence both were arrested and tried at Worcester, the eldest Turner paying all the expenses in the absence of any ability on the part of Shearer. The young man was sentenced to the House of Correction for ten months, and Shearer to the State Prison for six years. The defence was that the claim had expired by limitation, but the plaintiff held that as the law allowed six years of citizenship before such expiration of claim, Shearer was not exempt, for while in prison he was not a citizen, and had been a citizen but a part of the time since his release. Verdict for plaintiff, with $371 damages.—Worcester Spy.

POTATOES.—An Irish paper says that extensive preparations are going forward in the northern provinces of Ireland for the cultivation of potatoes the ensuing season, and that in 1855 nearly 1,000,000 acres were planted. The crop of last year was a full one; there were a few cases of disease, and the quality was superior to any before raised since the year of famine. The quantity now in the hands of farmers is greater than that of former years at this season, and the quality is excellent.—Boston Adv.

Mr. Elijah Stonestreet, of Pendleton county, Va., died of strychnine in his butter, and the coroner's jury say it was administered by his wife or some one of the Carrier family, Solomon Carrier and Mrs. Stonestreet having been improperly intimate.

The New York journals are urging water-tight compartments for ocean steamers. The ocean track to and from Europe is now confined to a belt of 75 or 100 miles, and the great increase of vessels renders necessary new precautions to save life from the consequences of collisions.

Try it! Try it! Try it!
G. W. STONE'S
—AND—
Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly natural. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—It needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

SEWARD AND KANE.—Some of the papers are publishing from writings of Senator Seward, when he was a candidate for governor of New York, and questioned in relation to the repeal of a State law that allowed slaves to be held in New York for nine months, in which he took about the same ground upon the rights of slaveholders to carry their slaves into the free States that Judge Kane has in the Williamson affair. This is one sentence from his letter that does not sound like the Wm. H. Seward now in the Senate.

"I am not convinced it would be either wise, expedient or humane, to declare to our fellow-citizens of the Southern or Southwestern States that if they travel to or from, or pass through the State of New York, they shall not bring with them the attendants whom custom, or education, or habit, may have rendered necessary to them. I have not been able to discover any good object to be attained by such an act of inhospitality. It certainly can work no injury to us, nor can it be injurious to the unfortunate beings held in bondage; to permit them, once perhaps in their lives, and at most, on occasions few and far between, to visit a country where slavery is unknown."

At this day such sentiments would be deemed extreme southern, and so in fact they would be. They show that not only Mr. Seward has changed, but that the sentiments of the whole people of the north, who have gone so far ahead of where they then were, that there is scarcely a free State that would tolerate such a candidate now.—Newburyport Herald.

Very true: but public opinion changes; and with it the law changes also.

The rulings of Scroggs and Jeffries, of Cranfield and Andros,—aye, and of Sir Matthew Hale and Judge Sewall, would not all be taken now, for sound law. Why? Because the world has outgrown them.

NARROW ESCAPE.—The Newburyport Herald says:

A man from Seabrook, N. H., whose name we did not learn, came near being killed at the Eastern Railroad station, on Saturday evening. Not as sober as he should have been, he attempted to jump upon the cars when in motion. He made out to hit the broadside of the car, perhaps mistaking a window for a door, and rolled down by the track, in the very place where Boyd was killed in the same way, a year or two ago. Mr. Isaac Hale, Jr., the Lynn Express man, was near enough to catch hold of him and prevent his going entirely under the wheels—but his clothes were torn, and the flesh on his legs cut to the bone. The police took him in charge, and he will probably go to the County House for drunkenness. He ought to go to the State Prison for imperilling the lives of the passengers. A man should be punished for getting drunk and putting himself on the track, with the liability of throwing off the train and killing better men than himself. We understand that a party of these fellows come over here every Saturday; and seldom one of them goes home sober. This may be a lesson for them; and if they can't keep sober after this, nobody will pity them when a worse thing comes upon them.

NEW BRUNSWICK JUSTICES.—In a liquor case in St. John, on the 25th ult., the Morning Freeman states that Mr. Demill, the sitting magistrate, gave judgment in the case of Mr. Breeze, adjudging that the liquors seized be forfeited and destroyed, as liquors intended for illegal sale, but, strangely enough, not sentencing Mr. Breeze to pay the penalty for keeping liquors intended for illegal sale. Notice of appeal was given. Mr. Demill announced that in future on trials of cases under the prohibitory law he would allow only one counsel to appear on each side, and would suffer no speech making, the lawyer, if he had any objection to make, merely stating what it was and submitting it for decision. The lawyers declare that they will not submit to such ruling, and some fun is anticipated. Mr. Salter fined the man Graney, in Carleton, because his wife was said to have sold liquor, and there Mr. Salter announced also that he would not in future hear more than one lawyer on each side.

The murder of Stevens, the clerk of the steamer Ohio Belle, on the Mississippi, has been mentioned; but the tragic end of the affair has but just been made known. Jones, the murderer, was beaten and tortured inhumanly by the crew and passengers, and was then thrown overboard, with two heavy iron weights tied around his neck, and drowned like a dog. To conceal this horrible crime it was then agreed to circulate the story that he escaped and swam ashore.

A regular system of mail robberies seems to have been planned and put into successful execution between St. Louis and the Atlantic. We learn from the Posmaster at St. Louis, that the mail made up for Boston on the 26th January, the mail of the 27th of the same month for Washington, and the mail of the 7th of March for Philadelphia, are all missing, and have fallen into the hands of robbers.

PRINCE PASKIEWITCH.—A letter from Berlin says that the fortune left by Prince Paskiewitch amounts to about 70,000,000 of Polish gilders, which is equal to about 8,000,000 of American dollars. This property he has distributed by his will to his son Theodore 30,000,000, and to his two daughters, Princess Wolvinska, and Princes Lebanoff Rostowska, 20,000,000 each. His widow, independently of the will, retains the whole of her own fortune, and is besides entitled to an annual pension of 30,000 silver roubles as a widow of a Stadtholder of Poland.—Boston Adv.

PENNSYLVANIA LAW.

The new license law which has been passed by the Pennsylvania Legislature, is very stringent in its provisions, and will tend, says the Boston Journal, to greatly reduce the number of places at which liquor can legally be bought. The Ledger thinks that if it is strictly enforced, it will reduce the traffic about two thirds. Under the new act about one thousand houses will be licensed in Philadelphia. The Ledger gives the following synopsis of the Bill:

"The bill is a very stringent one, and requires that the applicant for a license in cities and county towns must have four rooms and eight beds for the use of travellers. None but tavern-keepers can sell less than a gallon of spirituous liquors. Not more than one hotel to every one hundred taxables may be licensed in the cities, nor more than one to every one hundred and fifty taxables in the county, to be apportioned among the wards of the cities, and boroughs and townships of the counties, as the convenience and necessities of the public may require. All hotels, inns and taverns are to be classified and rated according to the estimated yearly rental of the house and property. The first class, when the valuation is $10,000, shall pay $1000; where the valuation is $6000, the rate shall be $800, and so down, in the same proportion, to $25, except in Philadelphia, where the lowest rate of hotel license is fixed at $75; in county towns and boroughs of over two hundred taxables, $50; in the country, $25.

One eating-house to every four hotels may be licensed in the city and county, with the privilege to sell domestic wines and malt liquors only—the license fee not to be less than $50 in Philadelphia and Allegany counties, and $20 in other parts of the State.—Brewers and distillers are to pay double the rates of license now fixed by law, which shall in no case, be less than $50, and must not sell in less quantities than five gallons, except in the case of brewers who also bottle their liquors, who may sell by the dozen bottles. Retailers of liquors, with or without merchandize, are to pay double the rates now required of them, but not less than $50 in any case, and will not be allowed to sell in less quantities than one gallon. Bottlers of porter, ale, cider, and other brewed liquors, and manufacturers of domestic wine, may sell in quantities of not less than one dozen bottles, without license. Importers of wines and liquors may sell in the original bale, cask or package, on paying double the former rates.

Public notice is to be given, three times, in two newspapers, of the names of the applicants for licenses, and petitions must be signed by twelve reputable citizens. The Board of Licensers is appointed by the Court, and consists of three reputable citizens, in no manner interested in the liquor business. Any person found intoxicated in a street, public house or public place, will be liable to a fine of five dollars; and persons who sell enough liquor to make any one drunk, are also to be fined five dollars, in addition to all the penalties prescribed by any existing law.

The penalties for a violation of the act are a fine of not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars, for the first offence; and for a second, or subsequent conviction, the same penalty and also imprisonment not less than one nor more than three months, forfeiture of license, and incapacity to receive another license for five years thereafter."

Any person who is acquainted with the subject, can see that this new Pennsylvania law, contains nearly all the provisions, and all the defects, of the old license laws of the Province of New Hampshire.

We shall see how the new law is enforced in Pennsylvania. The effect of the old laws in New Hampshire, was chiefly to add a legal sanction to the trade.

NEW LAW IN MAINE.

The Augusta correspondent of the Portland Advertiser, under date of April 1, says the Liquor Bill, amended in 33 places, as was anticipated, passed the Senate late Monday afternoon. Yeas, 13—nays 4—absent or dodged 9. Senator Shepard moved to amend the title of the Bill so as to make it conform to what is its real import. He moved to strike out the words "regulate and restrain," and to substitute the words, "establish and spread." So that the title would be a Bill to establish drinking houses and spread the evils of intemperance. The Senate, of course, refused to adopt the amendment, but that the proposed title was appropriate, law, except Senator Barnes and his friends will dispute. Under its operation, should it pass, drinking houses will be established and the evils of intemperance spread with fearful rapidity in the State.

Four Senators alone protested by their votes, against the policy which it is the purpose of this bill to inaugurate, viz; Bean, Butler, Morrill and Shepard. The bill had its first reading in the House Tuesday afternoon, and its further consideration was assigned for Wednesday.

PROMOTION.—Lieut. John A. Underwood, of the Revenue cutter Caleb Cushing, has been promoted to a second lieutenancy.

Lieut. John Quin, of the same cutter, has been promoted to a first lieutenancy in the service.

☞ We are indebted to Hon. James Bell and Hon. James Pike for numerous and valuable Public Documents.

☞ Gov. Wells has appointed Thursday the 17th of April, as a day of Fasting in Maine.

☞ The N. H. Patriot of April 2, fills up revises and amends its report of Votes for Governor, footing them up as follows:

Wells 32,067; Metcalf 32,075; Goodwin and scattering 2,500.

The Patriot says:

The above embraces the vote of every town in the State, and we think may be relied on as correct as the unofficial returns can present. The official canvass alone will determine whether Wells or Metcalf has a plurality.

* * * * the facts that have come to us already, are sufficient to convince us that but for these frauds the Democracy would have elected their Governor and carried a majority in the House.

So the Patriot gives up its cyphering as to the election of Mr. Wells by the legislature.

In another article, the Patriot has this remarkable language.

The recent election furnishes additional evidence that there cannot be, in this State, or elsewhere, any permanent party except the Democratic party. Other parties may spring up, and flourish for a day; but they are sure to sink and be forgotten. Ours is really the only living party in the State. Sam is dead. Abolitionism is defunct. The result of the election, though not so glorious as we could desire, has effectually killed off the enemy, and the way is clear for us in subsequent contests.

This is said of a party, who are in the minority in every branch of the state government.

Suppose the defeated party in Portsmouth should set up a crow of this sort,—"Our victory is not so glorious as we could desire, to be sure,—but we have killed the enemy, to that though he has all the power now, we shall be sure of it next time." Would it be sublime, or ridiculous?

HOW TO PAY FOR A PAPER.—Since the union of the Phenix with the Weekly Chronicle, we have received a goodly number of letters, containing remittances, alterations, removals, stoppages and subscriptions, as was naturally to be expected.

CONCORD, N. H., April 1st, 1856.

Messrs. Miller & Gray:—Publishers Chronicle & Phenix—I am indebted to the Phenix since the first January last past; was about to settle my account and have the paper discontinued, when I heard that it had stepped out. MAINE EXPOSITOR.—This paper, the organ of the Liberals in Maine, under date of March 26, on Mr. Barnes's liquor bill —

The voice of the press of this State is condemnatory of the newly proposed Law, regardless of party distinctions.

If passed, it will, in conjunction with other causes at work sink the Wells party so low, that history in a few years will hardly preserve the remembrance of the men who now guide it, and only preserve the name as a great political folly—an abortion of a well meaning public sentiment, produced by accident, and not by any natural causes. * * *

Now every body knows our efforts to secure the present majorities in the two branches of the Legislature, and also Judge Wells' election. Our sympathies are ever with the democratic side. But we have no sympathies that are blind to principles. We know no friends, and no party, who are to be regarded as paramount in our esteem to our principles. We declare the proposed action of the Legislature on this subject is a positive negative of all the principles upon which the majority was brought into power. Pass the proposed bill, or any thing in the similitude of it, and no storm that can be raised over Judge Davis will save to Gov. Wells in another election, a remnant of a party sufficient to make a decent corps of pall-bearers around his political coffin.

SOUTH SHOAL LIGHT BOAT.—The Nantucket Inquirer contains a letter from Capt. Gifford, of the South Shoal Light Boat, in which he speaks of the boat as being admirably adapted to the exposed situation in which she is placed. On one of the cold nights in February the wind blew tremendously, and the seas ran 30 feet high. The lanterns were frozen solid to the masts.

NEW YORK, April 1.—A row of six stables, which were being torn down in Water street, fell with a loud crash yesterday afternoon, and several children who were around the premises, were buried under the ruins.

One boy was taken out quite dead, and two little girls were so seriously injured that they are not expected to recover. Several others were slightly injured.

The negro, Wilson, who was arrested on a charge of scuttling the schooner Eudora Imogene, and afterwards discharged, was yesterday arrested by the U. S. authorities, and committed on a charge of creating a revolt on board that vessel.

FATAL ACCIDENT. — A lad of thirteen years, named Saville Pillsbury, son of Mr. Lewis P., of Newport, N. H., came to his death on Friday of last week, under the following circumstances:—He started upon a hunting excursion, taking with him a fowling piece loaded with common shot. While in the act of stepping from a sled upon which he had been riding a short distance, the cap exploded, and discharged the whole contents of the gun into his head. The little sufferer lived about one hour and a half after the accident.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The sloop-of-war Portsmouth is to sail from Norfolk on the 15 of April, to relieve the East India squadron.

Gov. Robinson, the "Free State" Governor of Kansas, is here.

LOCAL.

CITY EXPENSES.

We copy from the Ballot the following table, which exhibits, as we presume, a fair statement of the increased expenditures of our town and city, showing not only the amounts of money paid out, but also the purpose for which the money is paid. The table was prepared by the City Treasurer.

Comparative Statement of Expenditures in the town and city of Portsmouth from 1844 to 1850, and from 1850 to 1856, showing the amounts of each six years with the excess of expenses in the latter term; the cause in some cases, the permanent improvement in others.

State Taxes	$16,987.80	19,664.70	2,676.90

Gravelly Ridge Schoolhouse	2,676.50
New High Schoolhouse	20,846.18	30,445.28	8,126.01
Increase of expenditures the last, over the first six years			72,939.62

Which may be laccounted for in the various items as above, and a constant increase of State and County taxes. In going farther back, from the year 1832 to 1844, making 12 years prior to the above, we find the State and County Taxes to be 45,353.27
The 12 years from 1844 to 1856 91,053.04
Making an increase over the previous 12 yrs. of 45,803.77

The increase of other items are mainly caused by increasing the pay of Fire Department, which is very efficient and well supplied with good and substantial engines and apparatus; the increasing interest in schools, and convenient buildings for the same: watchmen and police have been increased in a manner to make that department preserve good order; our streets have been more thoroughly and permanently repaired; and should the public debt appear as the result of bad economy, the above figures will show to some extent that the money has not been spent in vain.

CITY ACCOUNTS.—The Annual pamphlet of Receipts and Expenditures of the City of Portsmouth, is just issued from the press of C. W. Brewster & Son. It also contains interesting School Reports, Mayor Jenness's Address, &c.

☞ We understand that one of our Portsmouth teachers, Mr. J. Warren P. Carter, is to take charge of the Free Street Seminary in Portland, and will enter on its duties immediately. Mr. C. is a young gentleman whose scholarship and other qualifications for teaching are eminently such as to ensure the improvement of the pupil, and the success of the seminary.

SUDDEN DEATHS.—In one paper, the Boston Telegraph of Tuesday evening, we read the three following instances of sudden death.

The first, a woman, died in bed.

Coroner Rice was called at an early hour yesterday morning to a house in Porter street, East Boston, where the body of Margeret O'Brien was lying dead in bed. The husband, Michael O'Brien, stated that his wife retired to bed as well as usual, and that when he awoke in the morning he found her a corpse. As there were no marks of violence on the body, the Coroner did not hold any inquest.

The second, a man, died in his carriage.

Capt. Amos Sanderson, the well known Superintendent of the City Mills on the Mill Dam, was found dead yesterday morning in his buggy near the Arsenal in Watertown. It is supposed that he was on his way from his home to the mills, when he was suddenly attacked with heart disease, with which he had been afflicted, and which terminated fatally. His horse was standing still when he was discovered.

The third, a man, probably died by the hand of a burglar and murderer.

Dr. Cornell was called by the police of Station 4, yesterday, to hold an inquest on the body of George L. Young, found dead in a room over the Boylston Market, under suspicious circumstances. A burglary was committed on Saturday evening, in a room near that occupied by Mr. Young. The presumption is, that he heard the noise, and went to his door, when he received a blow, which was the means of his death. His body was found lying upon the stove, with one hand severely burned. There was a quantity of blood near the stove, which had evidently come from his mouth. His wallet, containing a considerable amount of money, was found on his bed. He evidently had not retired, as he was dressed in his usual clothing. He was a brother of the late Rev. Dr. Young of this city, and is very respectably connected. The jury of inquest adjourned till to-day, and the coroner directed Dr. Wm. H. Page to make a post mortem examination of the body. About $500 in cash was found in his bed, and taken charge of by the officers. He was 68 years old.

Verily, the seen and the unseen things and states lie close together. To die, to sleep—no more? To sleep—perchance to dream!

James C. Ward, aged 50, was found dead, Saturday afternoon, in a snow bank in South Malden. He drank freely in Chelsea the night before.

A RAILROAD CHANGING HANDS SUDDENLY.—On Monday evening, Mr. John G. Myers entered the depot of the York and Cumberland Railroad, and took formal possession of the road and all the property. He has continued Mr. S. W. Eaton in his present office as general superintendant and treasurer, and Mr. Orange P. Thorpe conductor, in the place of H. Cousins.

This measure is not on account of the judgment obtained by Mr. Myers against the road on his contract; but as trustee of the first bond holders — that is twenty thousand dollars of the so-called Herrick bonds, adjudged good by the Court, and thirteen thousand dollars of the original bonds. What the result will be, of course we cannot venture to predict. Perhaps it may prove to be the first chapter to a new course of litigation. — Portland Argus.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Col. Webb, editor of the Courier and Enquirer, telegraphed the following last night to that journal: "Washington, Tuesday night.—The treaty of peace between England, France, Sardinia and Russia, was formally agreed to at Paris on the 12th of March. It awaits ratification to be proclaimed."

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

READ THIS.—The attention of the public is particularly called to the vast amount of positive proof, in favor of Dr. Wm. R. Hayden's Vegetable Purgative Pills.—the most remarkable and extraordinary Medicine that has ever been produced in this or any other country,—proof that cannot be disputed; proof that is not brought from Van Dieman's Land, but from people at home, of respectability,—many of them professional men of high standing in society, who would not be guilty of lending their names and influence to defraud those who are suffering with disease. These Pills have performed some of the most astonishing and remarkable cures that have ever been recorded in the annals of medical science.

A Novel and Interesting Work.

The object of this volume is indicated by its title. It is to exhibit "the courtesies of wedded life." It treats of courtship and marriage, of the relation of husband and wife, of their responsibilities and privileges, and of their trials and rewards. It aims to assist them in their reciprocal duties, and in the attainment of the pure and blissful ends of wedlock. It shows how piety enables them to bear with each other's infirmities, how it smooths asperities of temper, assimilates dispositions and tastes, conforms character to the noblest standard, and adorns them with graces surpassing those of the muses.

This day received and for sale by JAMES H. READ, 14 Pleasant street. m31

3 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE ATLANTIC.

NEW YORK, April 2.

The Collins steamship Atlantic has arrived at this port, bringing Liverpool dates to the 19th of March.

Peace is considered as virtually concluded, and the arrival of the Prussian Plenipotentiary was alone awaited to sign the Protocol.

A son is born to the Emperor and Empress of France.

The British Parliament was not in session, owing to the Easter recess. Nothing has transpired respecting American affairs.

Nothing has been heard of the Pacific.

Liverpool.—Cotton market was dull and rather easier, especially for the lower qualities, but quotations were unchanged. The business of the three days amounted to 19,000 bales, including 3500 for export, and 2500 to speculators.

The birth of an heir to the Buonaparte line is the cause of much outward signs of rejoicing in France, and even in England.

There is nothing additional to report respecting the American difficulties.

The Peace Conference has been awaiting the arrival of Baron Mantenffel, who has now arrived in Paris. The Plenipotentiaries have held no meeting since last advices, and matters remain precisely as they were.

Peace is now considered a certainty, and it is expected that a Protocol will be signed in a few days. Secresy as to the proceedings is still observed.

News from Constantinople is to the 6th March. The Divan, considering the revolutions of commercial men, renounces the projected issue of 100,000,000 of paper.

CONGRESS.

TUESDAY, April 1.

SENATE.—Mr. Mason from the Committee on Foreign Relations, reported a joint resolution amending the act of March, 1855, to remodel the diplomatic and consular saystem of the United States. He explained that the resolution proposed to change that feature of the act which seemed to make it mandatory on the President to elevate all our foreign Ministers Resident to Ministers Plenipotentiary, and to fix the salary of each mission.—Congress has no power to command, but could only recommend this to the President. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Clayton resumed his remarks on the action of the Naval Board, and, in order to prove that it is no disgrace to officers to be placed on the retired list, mentioned the fact that in England the heroes of the Nile and Trafalgar were relieved from actual service, and received less pay than officers of the same grade on our retired list. He replied to Mr. Houston's attacks on Com. Pendergast, Capt. Dupont, and other naval officers.

Mr. Bell of Tennessee sustained, in the main, the proceedings of the board, and earnestly defended Lieut. Maury, from charges made in Mr. Clayton's speech.

Bell of Tennessee and Crittenden had a foolish personal altercation.

While they were thus engaged in colloquy, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—Among the reports from standing committees were bills establishing additional land districts in Kansas and Nebraska.

Ten thousand copies of the Central American correspondence, together with that between the United States & Great Britain on the arbitration and enlistment questions, were ordered to be printed; also, the same number of copies of the documents on the commercial relations of the United States with all foreign nations, statistics, comparative tariffs, &c.

The bill appropriating $300,000 for restoring and maintaining the peaceable disposition of the Indian tribes on the Pacific coast, and $120,000 for the purchase of gunpowder, was passed.

The House then went into Committee of Whole on the President's message, and Mr. Warner of Georgia vindicated the rights of the South in the common territories of the United States.

Mr. Alison of Pennsylvania spoke in opposition to the extension of slavery. Adjourned.

FROM SAN JUAN.

NEW ORLEANS, March 29.

Steamer Daniel Webster, from San Juan 23d, arrived at this port to-day. News from the Isthmus interesting. Col. Schlessinger marched out of Costa Rica, March 9th.

Gen. Walker had been reinforced by 300 Americans.

Costa Rica had made a formal declaration of war against Nicaragua, which reached Granada 10th. Walker immediately returned the compliment, and on the same evening accompanied 300 men across the lake to Virgin Bay. Next day 300 men under Col. Schlessinger marched for Costa Rica.

Gen. Walker, in a proclamation issued March 9th, states that he was invited by the Democratic party of Nicaragua to espouse their cause. He had complied with their request, and struggled to carry out the principles of the Revolution of 1824, but the Legitimist party having repelled all efforts at conciliation, there was no other recourse but war.

The Costa Rican government had issued an address to the people of Central America, calling on them to rise and destroy the American invaders.

In answer to a letter from Mr. Thomas Loring, of Hingham, Mass., the Secretary of the Treasury writes that he is not only unable to recommend the extension of the fishing bounty to the mackerel to the fishery, but he is of opinion that both the bounty on the codfishery and the drawback on pickled fish exported should be repealed, with the duty on salt.

Try it! Try it! Try it!
G. W. STONE'S
—AND—
Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have proved it by a tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

Great American and Foreign Office
For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st. oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid by others), will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal thereof by him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below gives proof that more MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would abd that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other place of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate—the immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procurement of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here obviated.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britian, France and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.
Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of getting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner of Patents.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the certificates of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and the eminent persons. Among others by W. Gibson, MD., Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, MD., Prof. Surgery, N. Y. Univ'ty. W. P. Dewees, MD., Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, MD., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. I. Parke, MD., Pres. College Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Vallo, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Eourenco de Luz, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain. J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Parsons, Maj. Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geometric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers, Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copyright secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge.

Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them, by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

WON'T LET ME ALONE.

"You let IT alone, and IT will let you alone," said a liquor seller to me, as I urged him, in consideration of the public good, to abandon the traffic. But it is not true. Thousands and thousands in our State never use intoxicating drinks themselves; they let the liquor alone, yet their sufferings in consequence of its use by others are great, and ought not to be endured.

Mrs. Albro is a lady of superior talent and education. In her early days, and for the first few years of her married life, she was surrounded by kind, loving friends, and had all that her heart could desire. Multitudes almost envied her as they viewed her beautiful mansion, her peaceful and happy home with her affectionate husband, and beautiful and well behaved children. But a sad change has come over her. That kind and faithful husband began to visit, with boon companions, a fashionable saloon. He soon acquired an appetite for strong drink. The habit increased. He soon became an inebriate—a loathsome drunkard. His business was neglected—his property was wasted—his mansion was sold by the sheriff—his family reduced to penury and want.

In a few short years the once happy Mrs. Albro found herself the wife of a man who seemed to take a sort of fiendish delight in abusing her and her children, and making their life wretched beyond description. At length her spirit crushed by the abuse of a once loving husband, and body emaciated and sick from her privations and sufferings, she and her little ones are carried to the alms-house, while the father and husband is in prison for crime committed in a drunken spree.

Now Mrs. Albro and her children let liquor alone, but did it let them alone?

Mrs. Albro is but the representative of at least TWENTY THOUSAND women in this State, who with their children, are suffering more than language can express, in consequence of the traffic in strong drink. Yet they let it alone, but it won't let them alone.

Need we say such persons ought to be protected?

There is another class in community which liquor will not let alone, though they may be total abstinence men.

To say nothing of the interest every man has in the public morals of society—the peace, happiness and prosperity of the people at large; every tax-payer is injured by the traffic, and has a right to claim protection by law.

It has been shown beyond all reasonable doubt from official documents, that three-fourths of the criminal prosecutions and seven-eights of the entire amount of pauperism in the land, may be traced to strong drink. Of course, three-fourths of the expense of the whole system of criminal jurisprudence, the cost and interest on cost, of all our jails, penitentiaries and prisons of every description, are attributable to this cause. The men who pay the enormous taxes necessary for these purposes, may let the liquor alone, but it will not let them alone.

The man whose ship is wrecked and property destroyed, because strong drink has caused the commander or pilot, "to err in vision or stumble in judgment," may never use liquor himself; yet suffers in consequence of the traffic and its use by others.

We may safely aver that there is not a man, woman or child in the country, who is not injured, directly or indirectly, by the traffic in intoxicating liquors.

There is then no truth in the declaration "If you let liquor alone it will let you alone,"—it won't hurt you, if you don't use it. It does injure every one of us.—Cong. Herald.

Judge Butler, of South Carolina, declared in the Senate, on Thursday last, that he would go out of the Union rather than submit to an interdiction of the right claimed for Southern gentlemen to carry their slaves into the national territories. The Union of Saturday parades the declaration under its editorial head with great delight.

This looks something like letting the Union slide.

AN ENERGETIC GIRL.—Last Saturday, by the last train at Salem, a lady belonging to Hamilton arrived from the West, having spent some time in school teaching in Illinois and Missouri. She could go no farther that night, but in the morning she walked home, eight miles—the going none too good — and arrived in season to attend church in her native village.

The Providence Journal gives an instance of political preaching. A clergyman in Warwick last Sabbath said—"My brethren, I wish you to vote just as you pray. If you pray for slavery and intemperance, vote for them; if you pray for freedom and temperance, vote for them."

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, APRIL 4, 1856.

FAIRNESS.—SNEAKING.

The Gazette of Wednesday evening, accuses Uncle Toby and the Chronicle of unfairness, in the following paragraph, which we copy entire.

The Chronicle is hardly ever fair and honest in its quotations from our paper. This morning it copies just enough of an item of ours to make it appear that we used the term "Rum Democracy" in an offensive sense, and as an admission that the party which supported Mr. Jenness, is the rum party, when the whole of our article indicated just the reverse of this idea. Of course everybody who reads the two papers will understand the matter;—but we intend if possible, to be quoted fairly. We have come to the conclusion, however, that a sneaking mode of misrepresentation is inseparable from Uncle Toby's editorial labors, we have so often had occasion to complain of his unfairness in this respect.

This is a very grave charge;—and if true should drive Uncle Toby, not only from the editorial chair, but from all decent society.

The best possible defence we can make, is to republish the whole article as it stood in the Gazette of Monday evening, verbatim et literatim. Here it is.

The correspondent of the Boston Traveller (N. L.) who writes the following paragraph, notoriously misrepresents facts, and coins statements to support which we challenge him to bring the proofs. It will be remembered that the Traveller is a professedly religious journal, conducted by one or more present or former clergymen, and many of its correspondents wear the clerical robes. We cannot say that "N. L." is one of the cloth, but we should like to see the author of this paragraph, whoever he may be, Christian or sinner, vindicate its statements over his own signature, and respectfully offer him the use of our columns for the task:

"The recent triumph at the ballot-box in the State gladdens ten thousand hearts.—Democracy tried to paddle into power through rum channels. Boston rum venders and others of the distillery militia were kept on service here night and day for some time. But in vain. The rum vote, helped by over 320,000 of bribe money, and almost incredible drill and compulsion, amounted to over 31000, while the direct temperance vote was fully equal to it, and the Whig vote of over 2400 must have had a majority of temperance men in it. In this city, by a small majority, the rum votes prevailed; but there is hope for temperance in the divided counsels of the victors."

In the same letter we find the following sentence:

"Richard Jenness, Esq., a man of suavity and good standing in moral and business character, is Mayor. He was among the first of the wealthy citizens to banish wine and strong drinks from the social entertainments he gave."

It seems that the "Rum Democracy" of this city can appreciate a temperance man.

In the Chronicle of Wednesday morning, we copied only the two latter paragraphs: one from the Traveller, and the other from the Gazette;—and would have copied the whole as willingly,—only that a small paper cannot hold every thing. We copy the whole now, for comparison, and ask the reader, or the editor of the Gazette, to say, if he can, wherein the unfairness consists.

We do not see the term "Rum Democracy," used in the Traveller's article at all, as quoted by the Gazette, but it is used by the Gazette, exactly as we copied it!

We have never supposed it to be a "sneaking mode of misrepresentation," to copy two whole paragraphs together, verbatim.

But if it be even so, we now make the amende honorable, by publishing the whole lot, of which we gave a fair sample.

Don't let the reader forget, though, the animus of the Gazette's article, viz. that the Democracy of Portsmouth appreciate a temperance Mayor—nor the animus of ours, viz. that while this is the case, they should also appreciate temperance, and labor for it,—not against it.

CONCORD AS IT WAS AND AS IT IS.—The Congregational Journal understands that Rev. Dr. Bouton will deliver an address at the North Church, in Concord, on Fast Day, April 10th, at half-past one o'clock, upon "The past and present compared," or "Concord as it was and is."

CONCORD TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.—The Twenty-Sixth Annual Meeting of the "Concord Temperance Society" will be held at the North Church in Concord, on Fast Day, April 10th, immediately after the close of Dr. Bouton's Address, for the choice of Officers and other business. S. Evans, Jr., Secretary.

THE LIQUOR LAW.—We learn that the Legislative Committee on this subject held a meeting yesterday, and by a vote of nine to two, voted to recommend that the law remain as it is.—Boston Telegraph.

The Governor of Pennsylvania has signed the new bill to regulate the sale of intoxicating liquors, and it is now a law.

FIRE IN THE BOSTON COURT HOUSE.—On Wednesday morning, about four o'clock, a fire was discovered in the third story of the Court House, and before it could be extinguished, the building suffered damage to the amount of upwards of $5000. The fire originated in one of the Traverse Jury Rooms, and is supposed to have been caused by a burning cigar thrown into a box of saw-dust. The building was badly damaged by water, as well as fire.—Courier.

Rather a costly cigar.

NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW.

The number for April is on our table, from the Editor. It contains eleven articles on subjects of general and permanent interest. I. On "Slavery in Russia," gives quite a valuable historical sketch of serfdom in the Russian Empire. It will be read with more than ordinary interest at this time. The tone of the article is excellent. II. On "American Literature," is in review of Duykinck's Cyclopædia. It is able, just, and discriminating. Article III., on the "Life and Times of Rev. Elijah Hedding, D. D.," will be read with peculiar interest by all persons connected with the Methodist Episcopal Church, as it gives a very comprehensive historical sketch of that denomination. In article IV., Charles Reade's Novels are reviewed. Article V. is a review of "Keightley's Life of Milton." Article VI. is a learned paper on "India and the East India Company." Article VII., on "The Poetry of Anatomy," will please medical and scientific persons, and give the general reader many valuable suggestions. Article VIII., on "American Genealogies," highly compliments the "New England Historical and Genealogical Register," and gives a list of the genealogies printed in this country, and also a catalogue of the family pedigrees that have appeared in the Register. Article IX. gives an account of the "Monroe Doctrine."

Article X. is a paper elicited by "The Westminster Review on Alcoholic Liquors." If the reader would like to see how thoroughly an article can be used up, let him first read the Westminster Review's article on the Physiological Errors of Teetotalism, and then read article X. in the North American Review for April. The answer is conclusive and complete, worthy of distribution and perusal by people of all classes.

Article XI. reviews "Bowen's Political Economy. Twenty-one works are reviewed in the 24 pages devoted to critical notices. It will be seen from the above account of the contents of this number of the Review, that there is something of interest for readers of every class and profession. The articles are upon a great range of topics, and are from writers widely different.

We are pleased to learn, (says the Boston Transcript,) that the increase of subscribers to this sterling Quarterly has been so large that a second edition of the January number has been required to supply them. The city of New York has furnished several hundred new names, and the agent hopes to secure at least a thousand additional subscribers the present year. The New York press has spoken very highly of the Review, and no journal in that city has made more judicious remarks on the subject than the Courier & Enquirer. We copy the article, that our readers may see how the North American is regarded in cultivated circles in the great commercial metropolis:

The North American Review.—This Quarterly is well entitled to be regarded as venerable, for it has reached an age which marks it the oldest living Quarterly in our country. It not only lives, but it lives in full vigor. It was never worthier of the largest patronage than at this moment. It is edited by one of the most liberal and accomplished scholars in the land. It draws, as it always has drawn to its support, as contributors, writers of the most varied and cultivated character, from every section of the Union. The names that now stand most conspicuous in the highest walks of American literature, first "fledged their wings" in its pages, and there laid the foundation of their success and their fame. More than forty years, under successive and always able editorial management, it has pursued its way, ministering to the highest and purest literary tastes of its readers; subserving the cause of the highest truth; holding itself above and aloof from the vulgar prejudices of the day, and contributing more than perhaps any other like instrumentality to elevate the tone of thought, to point the just ambition, to give weight and dignity to the moral, political, and intellectual aspirations of this young and rapidly growing nation. For though it has never sought for or attained what is commonly called popularity, it has always reached the most influential minds; and thus indirectly, it may be, but not the less efficiently and surely, exercised a wholesome conservative control over the extravagant tendencies which naturally inhere in a youthful, excitable and enterprising people.

We are glad to see, therefore, the fresh appeal which its editor and publishers are making to our liberal merchants and to the friends of American literature, basing that appeal on the claims of the North American to the place of our specially National Review. Names among the best known and honored in our own community, representing differing phases of religion and of politics, professions, walks of literature, departments of active and mercantile life, unite to back this appeal with their strong and hearty testimony. Already has it been so successful, that the agent who is now engaged in adding to the subscription list, informs us, that the January number is, of necessity, reprinting, the first impression being exhausted. We long to see this sterling, manly, strong, comprehensive periodical, secured beyond peradventure, in the most liberal and reliable support. It would be a national disgrace should it be left at the best to live a starveling life, or sadder yet, to die. We trust, for the literary honor of our land, that all danger of either is past, and that, reborn into a new and vigorous youth, the existence and the glory of the North American are to be perpetual.

The New Haven Journal says the democrats in that State are opening schools to teach Irishmen to read, that accomplishment being now requisite in order to secure the right to vote.

LOCAL.

CITY COUNCIL,—Thursday evening, April 3.—In Board of Aldermen, Mayor Jenness presiding, Mr. Smith, city liquor agent, reported purchases amounting to $1500—and stock now on hand $600.

The Committee on Retrenchment made a Report, reducing the pay of City Clerk, Messengers, Street Commissioner, Marshal, Watchmen, Engine Men, &c. [It did not recommend any reduction of the Mayor's salary, that being pitifully low already.] The Ordinance was read once, and motion was made to suspend the rules, so as to read it the second time—but this was negatived—and the Ordinance goes to the usual committee.

In the Common Council nothing of any consequence was done.

For the Chronicle.

KILL THE DOGS.

Messrs. Editors:—I have just been called to a beautiful little girl about eight years old, a child of Mr. Deshon, in High street. A large dog had bitten her right arm, horribly tearing out the tendons, and actually severing a deep laid extensor muscle of the arm far above the wound.

Now why keep these useless, annoying and even dangerous creatures about our streets? Many children are afraid to go to school from fear of meeting them, and many older persons are uneasy in their presence. Must we be kept in continual danger of our lives, our children kept in continual fear, even to an extent which very much lessens their ability to learn while at school, in fear of being bitten when they leave it: and all this merely to indulge men in keeping a dirty dog? L.

☞ The Piscataqua Association will meet in Portsmouth, with Rev. L. Whiting, No. 4 Austin street, on Tuesday, April 15th, at 10 o'clock A. M. Preacher, Rev. G. N. Anthony; Substitute, Rev. J. M. Palmer. Hebrew lesson, Psalm 41; Greek lesson, Romans 8: 28 et seq.

☞ Thursday, April 3, 1856,—in the city of Portsmouth, a thaw, being the first of any note, since Christmas,—though the snow, by the influence of the sun, had shrunk more than one-half, perhaps two-thirds, in bulk.

☞ A letter from Charles W. March, Esq. informs the editor of the Gazette, that Senator Bell of this State has taken charge of, and will present to the Senate the petition of our citizens for the erection of a United States Building in this city. It is thought that an appropriation will be voted for this object.

THE BOSTON TRAVELLER.—Rev. George Punchard has retired from the place of principal editor of the Boston Traveller newspaper, after a successful connection with that journal for eleven years, when he and his associates commenced the publication of the Daily Traveller with all the uncertain prospects which pertain to the birth of journals.—He leaves the paper, to which he has devoted himself, with a solid foundation and a prosperous business, and we are happy to learn that he has also profited fairly in the success of his enterprise and is in good pecuniary means.—Courier.

The whole history of the Traveller is rather singular. It was got up originally, as a semi-weekly paper, for Stage Drivers, Tavern keepers, showmen, and fast men generally. It contained their advertisements, and took their side in controversy. In the days when efforts were made to stop the Sunday mails, the Traveller poured out volleys of hard names and harder charges against the "Pharisees, Hypocrites and Fanatics," who presumed to meddle with the institution.

From time to time, the proprietors and editors changed, until, in the hands of one, (whose name has escaped us,) it became a literary paper, devoted to theatrical, musical, and other criticisms, fashions, tales, morals and manners,—entirely changing its character, but retaining its name. The editor was an amiable, genteel man, and made a paper after his own kind.

He sickened and died, and his widow sold the paper to Messrs. Punchard, Androws, and others, who published it daily, as well as semi-weekly and weekly,—and changed its character once more,— ignoring the theatres and the fashions, but introducing the Bible and Tract Societies, Missions, &c., in their stead. And they made it a very profitable paper.

ERROR CORRECTED.—We stated yesterday that the body of Mr. Coffin, who was drowned last winter, while coasting, was recently found. This was an error. It was the body of Miss Sarah Haskell, who was coasting with Mr. Coffin—his body having been discovered a day or two after the accident. The corpse of Miss Haskell was seen by the keeper of Martin's Point bridge, early Tuesday morning. Coroner Norton held an inquest, and the verdict of the jury was "Accidentally drowned while coasting."—Portland Argus, April 5.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

READ THIS.—The attention of the public is particularly called to the vast amount of positive proof, in favor of Dr. Wm. R. Hayden's Vegetable Purgative Pills,—the most remarkable and extraordinary Medicine that has ever been produced in this or any other country,—proof that cannot be disputed; proof that is not brought from Van Dieman's Land, but from people at home, of respectability,—many of them professional men of high standing in society, who would not be guilty of lending their names and influence to defraud those who are suffering with disease. These Pills have performed some of the most astonishing and remarkable cures that have ever been recorded in the annals of medical science.

CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, April 2.

SENATE.—The Kansas resolution was postponed.

Mr. Fessenden spoke on the Bulwer Clayton treaty, in opposition to harsh measures, and in favor of settling the difficulties between this government and Great Britain by negotiation.

Mr. Cass argued that we should take a decided stand for the maintenance of our rights.

Mr. Seward reported the House resolution for the enlargement of the Custom House, Post Office and Federal Court buildings at Buffalo. Passed.

Mr. Mason, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, reported a joint resolution to permit Dr. Kane and the officers associated with him in the expedition in the Artic Seas to accept such tokens of acknowledgement therefor as the government of Great Britain may please to present, in accordance with its wishes on the subject.

Mr. Cass hoped the resolution would be immediately passed. After debate the subject was postponed.

The three million armament bill was then taken up.

Mr. Fessenden of Maine, in allusion to the enlistment question, expressed the opinion that Mr. Crampton ought to be dismissed, because, after the publication of the official correspondence, it is impossible that he can receive that respect which he entertained for the representative of a foreign power. Speaking of the Clayton Bulwer treaty, he censured Senators for taking so much pains to prove that Great Britain has no good title in Central America, for if our construction of that treaty is correct, it makes not the least difference whether she has any at all, since she has abandoned it all, be it more or less. A refusal or neglect to carry out treaty stipulations, although involving a desecration of faith, does not justify a declaration of war.

Mr. Cass said he had watched the manifest public sentiment in England, and he could see no use in continually protesting, unless some more definite action be taken. He did not suppose England would retract at all, and it was not probable she would declare war against us. Why should she, when she has got all she wants? The true question is—What ought we to do?

Mr. Butler gave notice that he should discuss the bill as a war measure.

The subject was postponed.

Adjourned.

HOUSE.—The entire session was occupied in the consideration of the Senate's amendment to the West Point, Pension and Deficiency Appropriation bills, without coming to any conclusion thereon. Adjourned.

RHODE ISLAND ELECTION.—The Providence Journal publishes full returns of the election, from which it appears that William W. Hoppin is re-elected Governor by 2835 majority; and John R. Bartlett Secretary of State, and Chas. Hart Attorney Gen. These candidates were all on the American and Republican tickets. There is no choice of Lieut Governor or General Treasurer. The Americans and Republicans generally united on their candidates, and have a clear majority of the Grand Committee. The Lieut. Governor and Treasurer will be elected by the Grand Committee, from the two highest candidates.

INDICTED.—White, Ayer, and King, arrested in this vicinity for robbing Wells, Fargo & Co., of $50,000 in gold, have been indicted by the grand jury at Detroit, Michigan, and will probably be tried in June or July next.—Lowell Citizen.

MR. GOUGH IN BOSTON. — There was an immense audience Tuesday night in Faneuil Hall to hear Mr. Gough.

He said he waged war upon the liquor traffic because it is a useless business. The city of Boston would be infinitely better off to-day, if there were not a liquor seller in it. In all other manufactures the raw material is increased in value by the labor bestowed upon it; but in the making of liquor the raw material is made worse and worse. And the rule holds good with the drinkers of liquor; the seller takes a sober man—the raw material—and turns him out a drunkard.

Society needs protection against this traffic, and it is necessary to have a law that will go to the root of the matter at once and prohibit the sale of liquor.

Mr. Gough then referred to the inconsistency of allowing liquor dealers to sit on juries in liquor cases.

The disreputable character of the liquor traffic, the justice of placing the liquor seller's property under the ban of the law, and the injustice of limiting its sale, if allowed to a few, and not making it free to all, were points upon which the orator dwelt with much force, and he closed his address of an hour and a half with a brilliant prophecy of the ultimate triumph of the temperance and all other moral reforms.

This lecture of Mr. Gough's will refute the statements made by some persons that he has been opposed to prohibition. He has always defended the principle both in theory and in practice.—Tel.

THE NEW YORK DECISION.—The New York Times says:

The Court of Appeals decided on Tuesday that the prohibitory law passed by the General Assembly of last year, is unconstitutional and therefore null and void. At the same they are unanimously of opinion that the Legislature has full power to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors. The search and seizure clause in the present law was not brought before the Court, as it was not involved in the cases which had been appealed. The feature of the law which led chiefly to the decision of its unconstitutionality, seems to have been that which destroyed the value of liquor held as property. The Court holds that a prohibitory law must apply exclusively to liquors not held at the time it takes effect. Thus it seems that the law only, and not the principle of prohibition is unconstitutional.

G. W. STONE'S

—AND—
Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhœa and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered by others by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the whole withdrawn from him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE, than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent selected for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents secured in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons of standing in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

PRISONERS.

The Congregational Journal publishes an extract from a forthcoming work, entitled "Nine years among the Convicts," by Rev. E. Smith. We copy a few sentences.

From what classes are convicts for the State Prison service drawn?

Not from religious families, truly such. I have taken great pains to enquire into the history of the New Hampshire State Prison, and I can find few, very few, cases of exception to this. For the past nine years in which I have had a personal acquaintance with several hundreds of convicts, I have not found a son of a clergyman, deacon, class teacher, steward or church warden among them, except one who was early adopted into a wealthy but wicked family. * * * *

There are, however, frequent cases of persons committed who had once been church members, though most of them had given up their Christian profession, or been expelled before the commission of the crime which brought them to Prison. These persons were not blest with a good religious education and home, however sincerely they may have professed religion: in the time of trial or of temptation, they err "from the good and the right way," and make shipwreck of faith. And all the pious talking of ministers and laymen will succeed but seldom in supplying the gross lack of an early education. These professors of religion in almost every instance fell through intemperance.

Of what religious persuasion or denomination were these men? I answer, frankly, of all the several denominations among us. All are here represented. I have carefully enquired and compared, and I think each has about its fair representation as to numbers.

In the above calculations I have spoken of Protestant denominations only. The Catholics are much more largely represented.—about one-eighth of the convicts are Catholics, which is probably four-fold their proportion. It is but justice, however, that I should say that the Catholic convicts were not, as a general thing, devout church-going Catholics, but generally men who had not much instruction or much veneration for the religion in which they were brought up.

BAD HABITS.—Some days ago, we copied from the Boston Bee, an account of the arrest at Manchester, N. H., of one Greenough, for stabbing a man. The item closed thus:

He has since been taken to the insane asylum at Concord. His insanity is supposed to have been a result of his intemperate habits, added to which he has lately become a believer in "spiritualism."

The Manchester Democrat explains the matter as follows:

"Spiritualism" and "disappointed love" have to shoulder more than a fair share of responsibility in the cases of suicide, insanity and other less terrible mishaps which occasionally occur in our large towns and villages. Young men come from their homes in the farming towns to our city, and by degrees fall into dissipated habits. If they really fall in love with anything, it is the mug and pipe, rather than any fair damsel. After they are thoroughly saturated with bad liquor and tobacco juice, if they become insane, take arsenic, or attempt to throw themselves into the canal, it is very convenient to attribute to love or to spiritualism, what is actually caused by midnight revels and gross drunkenness. The case of Greenough is not a solitary instance of this kind.

NEW YORK MORALS.—The New York Mirror says:

"Mr. Councilman Edward C. McConnell of the Thirteenth Ward, entered the disreputable house, 78 Duane street, kept by one Mary Webster, a few nights since, and after, as is stated, indulging freely in wine, fell asleep in the parlor. A girl named Kate Wilson awoke him, when about to close the house for the night, when he attacked and brutally beat her, first knocking her down, then kicking her in the side and pulling her hair out by the roots. Complaint was made and a warrant issued, but no effort to arrest the fellow, it is said, was made by the Police."

MANCHESTER CITY MISSIONARY SOCIETY.—There was a public meeting in the first church in Manchester on Sabbath evening of the 30th ult., for the purpose of hearing the annual report of the Missionary, Rev. T. P. Sawin, and of listening to addresses in behalf of the enterprise. The house was well filled, and the audience seemed deeply interested in the object. * * * To show the need of Missionary labors among the poor and degraded population of Manchester, the report stated that out of 408 complaints brought before the Police Court, 123 were for drunkenness, and 332 were for offences committed under the direct or indirect influence of intemperance. It was stated also that the complaints before the Police Court, chargeable to intemperance, were 82 per cent. in Manchester, while in Concord they were only 50 per cent; in Nashua, 74 per cent; in Portsmouth, 72 per cent, and in Worcester 60 per cent.—Cong. Jour.

THE INDIANA WOMEN VS. FREE WHISKEY.—In Princeton, Gibson county, Ind., on Saturday last, the women took the law into their own hands and "cleaned out" every doggery in the town. They had previously given the liquor sellers ten days notice to quit the traffic. They numbered some two hundred. All the liquor they could find, including the bottles, demijohns, and barrels in which it was found, was destroyed. Six doggeries were visited, and it was thought that property to the amount of $1000 was destroyed.—Louisville Journal.

SATURDAY, APRIL 5, 1856.

THE ARGUMENT.

The Portland Argus of the 3d, says:

We publish to-day the debate in the Senate upon striking out "the search and seizure clauses" in the new liquor law reported by the Committee on the Judiciary. These clauses have been since stricken out, only four Senators voting for their retention. In our judgment, this amendment has improved the bill, and we hope that, in its improved condition, the bill will soon pass the House and become a law.

Mr. Farley said:

Non-prohibition is the principle of the present bill. That idea he favored. At the same time, he was willing to support heartily a bill for the restraining and regulating the sale of intoxicating liquors. Any thing beyond that he did not believe public opinion demanded. We must enact our laws in accordance with public sentiment, and then they will be respected and enforced. We must provide for the wants of the community. These wants may be imaginary, but still they exist, and we should act in accordance with the popular demand.

Mr. Barnes said:

False theology, he was ready to declare, lies at the bottom of all this favor of the Maine Law. It is that which has caused, and is now primarily causing, all the upheaving and struggle which agitate the State. Not the measures or conduct of theological men, or superficial sectarianism, or mere religious zeal, but a fundamental theological falsehood. * * * It is false theology, and that alone, which has given to the Maine Law all its apparent success, and that false theology is yet to be the fatality of the cause.

In the briefest possible terms, he wished to say—the world is full of evils—evils of intemperance, and of every other type and degree. To govern the world, in the midst of these evils, is one thing. To REDEEM the world out of these evils is another. The great principles and the great truths by which both these designs are to be accomplished, are divinely made known to us. * * * *

Most obviously, law has no redeeming power—it never has had—never can have. It controls against evil acts, but delivers from no evil principle or passion. This is what even the divine law cannot do. So we are taught in the Book, which teaches us all we know upon this great theme. Yet there is to be deliverance, and the world is to be lifted out of its evils. But not by law, nor by all the terrors and penalties of any codes or commandments. * * * * *

We have said, repeatedly, that these arguments, and such as these, apply just as well to all penal laws, on theft, or assault, as to this law. And the Argus says:

On the following day, it was said by a Senator, that remarks like these might be applied, with reference to all other criminal laws, which is undoubtedly true. But what present occasion is there for such application? Who ever maintained that the laws against murder are the best means for promoting brotherly love? Or, who holds that the laws against stealing are the sole hope for making men honest? But from how many have we not heard, that the prohibitory laws are the indispensible reliance for promoting temperance? an error, surely, if the New Testament is right.

As we have never held or broached this error, so we don't feel under any obligation to defend it.

But we are disposed to turn round the argument of the Argus, and look behind it, and at the other side of it.

The laws against stealing are not "the sole hope for making men honest!" Certainly not,—and therefore—what? Does the Argus recommend that we shall repeal the laws against theft? or license one man in every hundred to steal a little? and license one in every thousand to receive stolen goods?

This is exactly the course of argument as applied to the law in question, in the last paragraph copied from the Argus, which paragraph, by the way, has more force in it than all Senator Barnes's windy talk about false theology.

We have long and publicly maintained the position, that honesty, temperance, and all moral virtues, are based on moral principle, or love of right and hate of wrong—and not at all dependent on penal statutes for one jot or title of their power.

But it does not follow from this, that civilized society may not protect itself, as well as it can, by penal statutes, against theft, and drunkenness, and pauperism and disorder.

The Portland Journal says:

The new law is to be entirely for the benefit of those whom Senator Barnes in terms most undemocratic, calls the "governing class."—There are to be a very few places in each city and town licensed to sell liquors for the convenience of the select circles—the governing class of society, while the rank and file of the democracy, the nobodies—those who merely do the voting as they are bid, are to have the Maine Law put to them, "the worst kind."

* * * * *

We go for just and equal laws; laws bearing alike upon all men, rich and poor. We are opposed to this favoritism to a few, at the expense of the many, as is proposed by the Wells-Barnes Law. If grog shops are good, then all men have a just and equal right to keep them. But if you mean to prevent John Rogers, Andrew Dooley and the McClinchys, the McCanns, the McCartys, the Deehans, and the Dumpheys, from selling liquor, then stop the yankees also; that is our doctrine. We are in favor of Equal rights and Equal laws, treating poor and rich without distinction, alike.

FROM KANSAS.

The Kansas Herald of Freedom, of March 15, contains statements, which, the Boston Advertiser says, "confirm still further the view we have taken of the President's proclamation in Kansas. Since the government was driven into keeping the peace in Kansas there has been an attempt to show that it was never endangered."

We copy an article of the Herald of Freedom on this point:

We published the proclamation of President Pierce a week or two ago in regard to Kansas matters. Below we give his private instructions from the Secretary of State. We are glad of that proclamation and instructions. It has already prevented an invasion from Missouri, and a resort to bloodshed by the citizens in self-defence. The people of the territory have nothing to fear from the federal troops. During the late invasion their greatest hope was that Col. Sumner, at Fort Leavenworth, would march with his troops to Lawrence, and interpose them between the mob and the citizens.

Our people are not "revolutionary." An attempt has been made to foist a code of laws upon them without their consent. These they are determined to have nothing to do with. They even prefer to suffer wrongs, and let offences go unpunished, than to apply for redress in courts imposed upon them by armed interventionists from abroad.

Gov. Shannon has the military of Forts Riley and Leavenworth at his command, and this he will use to put down insubordination on the one hand, and prevent invasion on the other. If he does this, if he obeys his letter of instructions, no more Dows, or Barbers, or Collins, or Browns will be ruthlessly murdered in cold blood; no more illegal interfering with the ballot-box will be allowed. On the contrary, peace and tranquility will be restored to our distracted country.

Our friends in the States were apprehensive of a collision between our people and the federal authorities. We beg of them to have no anxiety on account of danger in that direction. We have been educated as Americans, and know our legal rights. These we seek, and nothing more. Mob violence we have learned to deprecate, and that we war against, but not against lawfully constituted authorities. During the highest excitement here last December, a U. S. Marshal could have entered our city, had he been legally authorized, and arrested every citizen; but not one could have been taken by a mob. The same will be found true in all time to come.

The proclamation of President Pierce is not so villainous a document as the telegraph reports made it, and as for the instructions to Gov. Shannon, they are all we could expect, or even desire. While the Governor abides by the letter of those instructions, it will afford us pleasure to sustain him. Our State organization will be in no way of Gov. Shannon. Until an sitempt is made to enforce the laws enacted by that body, they are harmless. If they adopt a code of laws which commend themselves to everybody's sense of justice, and they are everywhere obeyed, how can Gov. Shannon, or anybody else, find fault?

A communication in the Kansas City Enterprise, from Wm. Walker, is mirthful over the communication of Robinson, Lane, et al., asking for aid from the Governors of the Northern States, and shows a disposition on the part of its author, to fog over the question. No sane man dare deny that an invasion was contemplated for the first of March from Missouri. Evidence fully conclusive of such intentions can be produced; but the President's proclamation disarmed them, and now an attempt is being made to show that our preparations for defence were uncalled for. Dear-bought experience has taught us the character of our aggressors, and we have placed ourselves in a position by which we hope to prevent future incursions upon our soil and rights.

DOME OF THE CAPITOL.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Courier and Enquirer says, under date of April 1, "at the last session of the 33d Congress, largely Democratic, $100,000 was appropriated for the demolition of the dome of the Capitol, and the substitution of an elevated cast iron cupola and spire, some 200 feet in height. The old dome has been torn down with the money already appropriated, and it is just discovered that to complete the erection of its successor will require $900,000, making in all a round million of dollars.—But the worst part of the tale remains to be told. The walls of the capitol will not bear the cast iron structure, and the scheme will have to be abandoned."

THE BOSTON MUSIC SCHOOL.—The third term of the school for teachers in music, and for those desirous of obtaining a thorough knowledge of the subject, will be held at No. 354 Washington street, Boston, commencing on the second Monday in May, 1856, and continue twelve weeks—five days of each week, under the direction of Prof. B. F. Baker. Terms for Ladies $12 each, and for Gentlemen $20 in advance. The object of the Boston Music School is to meet the increasing want in the community for persons qualified to teach in common schools, academies and seminaries, by having been themselves methodically instructed with reference to this end.

FIRE AT GALENA, ILL.—Several days ago, we published a dispatch, dated Salem, April 1, giving an account of a fire. It was at Galena: and now a dispatch from Galena, April 3, says:

The total loss by the recent fire in this city is estimated at $300,000. The heaviest insurances are in the London and Liverpool Insurance Companies.

LOCAL.

MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.—The Annual Meeting of this Association, for the choice of Officers, was held on Friday evening. The following officers were elected:

Ezra A. Stevens, President;
William H. Sise, Vice President;
William S. Chase, Secretary;
Thomas Neil, Treasurer:
James W. Tuckerman, Librarian;
Wm. S. Chase, F. G. Beal, G. F. Melcher, Reading Room Committee;
E. A. Stevens, ex officio, Benj. F. Moses, Frank Fuller, Thos. Neil, Samuel Gray, Lyceum Committee;

☞ A party of gentlemen, the retiring officers of the Mercantile Library Association of this city, enjoyed a delightful re-union, at the residence of the President, Ezra A. Stevens, Esq. on Thursday evening. The entertainment was of a high order, and was enlivened by speeches and sentiments, and the reading of several admirable letters from distinguished gentlemen in various sections of the country, who were unable to be present. It was a happy idea on the part of the President to thus close his first official year surrounded by those who had shared his labors for the good of the flourishing Society thus represented, and as happily executed. Such occasions are at once pleasing and profitable, affording an opportunity to indulge in reminiscenses of the past, from which many a useful lesson may be gained to be acted upon in the future.

☞ The alarm of fire on Friday evening was caused by the partial burning of some building on the Navy Yard, said to be a shed connected with the boatswain's house. Two of our engines went a good part of the way over; but when the mud-bespattered firemen had reached the slough at the foot of Rice's hill, they received the intelligence that the fire was "all out."

☞ A correspondent wishes to know if there is a superintendent of street lamps; and if so, whether it is for the sake of retrenchment, that half-a-dozen of our city gas-lights have not been burning at all for several nights, or whether they are not in condition to be lighted. Who knows?

☞ A friend informs Uncle Toby that a select party, whose gentility is unquestionable, was given one evening this week in this city, without the presence of wine or strong drink, but with the feast of reason and the flow of soul, and with abundant supply of every needful and pleasant refreshment. What is possible to one, is possible to all.

☞ The Free Will Baptist Society in this city, will worship as usual at Mr. Lord's Chapel to-morrow. Rev. N. K. George, of Franconia, will supply their desk on Sabbath next April 13.

☞ Uncle Toby acknowledges the receipt of a beautiful Gilliflower, in full bloom, from Mr. J. H. Foster, who has more of the same sort, and of many other sorts—of pot plants—in fine order.

☞ In consequence of an unusual number of meetings occurring on Monday evening next, the Temperance Meeting at the Temple will be postponed to Monday ev'g, April 14.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors:—We see that the eloquent and able advocate of temperance, John B. Gough, is now speaking in this and the neighboring States. There are a great many who have never listened to this eloquent man, who are anxious that he should visit this city; and we think after the very able course of lectures which have been delivered by our clergymen, that our citizens would consider it a great treat to be able to listen to him. The committee have made the course the past season very popular, and we hope as the opportunity offers, that they will endeavor to bring Mr. Gough before us at no distant day. The Temple no doubt would be crowded on the occasion, even if an admission fee was charged. S. W. C.

☞ Minute guns will be fired at the Navy Yard today at noon, in honor of Commodore McKeever, late commandant at Norfolk.

☞ A Chime of 11 bells, weighing 9,725 lbs. and costing $4,000, is to be placed in the tower of St. Ann's Church, Lowell,—if subscription enough can be raised.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., April 3.—The canal boatmen here are on a strike. They paraded the town this afternoon in procession, with flags, music, &c.

In the village of Middletown, New York, last week, a young man acting as bar tender in one of the hotels, was killed by swallowing a pint of whiskey and cider mixed.

A CARD.—The officers and members of Atlantic Engine Co No. 6, return their most sincere thanks to the officers and teamsters of the Navy Yard, and to Mr. Hayes of Kittery Foreside, for refreshments; and also to volunteers for their assistance in drawing the engine to the fire.
B. FRANKLIN MARTIN, Clerk.

HAYDEN'S IMPROVED VEGETABLE PURGATIVE PILLS.

CERTIFICATES FROM PROFESSIONAL MEN.

The following high testimonial in favor of Dr. Hayden's Pills, is from Wm. H. Eddy, Esq. of Cambridge, formerly of Boston, Prof. of Phrenology.

DEAR SIR:—Allow me to congratulate you on the splendid success which your Pills have met with, by the public, which I daily hear spoken of in the highest terms of praise, for their superior merits over all other Pills. I can freely add my testimony in their behalf, having used them myself, and in my family with decided benefit. If this humble tribute to their virtues is of any service to you, you are at liberty to use the same in any manner you may think proper.

MARRIED,

In Rye, March 26, by Rev Mr Otis, Mr Isaac C. Carleton of Pelham, to Miss Lydia H. Lord of Berwick, Me.

DIED,

In this city, 30th ult, of consumption, Frank H. Bacon, aged 18. Although few at his age possessed a more active talent for business life, yet he submitted to a long and lingering sickness with patience and resignation. His disposition was amiable and affectionate—was seldom or ever heard to murmur or complain. His gratitude to his friends who were so kind to him in his sickness, seemed inexpressible; and although his flesh was wasted away, it seemed difficult for him to believe he had suffered so much. His greatest anxiety seemed to be for his widowed mother and two younger brothers, whose afflictions have been so repeated, who are left to mourn his loss, with numerous other relatives and friends. Great Labor-Saving Invention.

WHIPPLE'S PATENT SELF-ACTING NIPPER BLOCK AND HOOK.

THESE Blocks and Hooks command the admiration of all who have seen their operation. They hold fast all that is gained from pull to pull—gently lower down burdens, or keep them suspended at any height—work well by hand or horse power—are perfectly safe under all circumstances—afford a surprisingly advantageous lever power in connection with Triangles and Derricks—are applicable to a multitude of important uses on land or shipboard—have received numerous high testimonials from those who have tested them—and are warranted superior to every other kind of Tackle Block hitherto known.

Models of these Blocks and Hooks may be seen at the Franklin House, where the General Agent for the sale of Patents may be consulted for a few days.

CONGRESS.

THURSDAY, April 3.

SENATE.—The Senate passed the bill for the relief of the widows and orphans of the officers and seamen of the sloop-of-war Albany. Also, the joint resolution declaring the manner in which the pension laws for the benefit of the Cherokee Indians, shall be executed.

Mr. Collamer spoke on Kansas affairs.—Without concluding, he yielded to a motion to adjourn. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House was engaged in considering the Senate amendments to the deficiency appropriation bill. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The recall of Col. Wheeler, U. S. Minister to Nicaragua, is anticipated. Several reasons for this step are mentioned, one of which is that he has not kept our government posted on the affairs of that country; having neglected to write by several mails. The State Department sent out no despatches to him by Major Heiss.

This Col. Wheeler is the man whose slaves slid off into freedom at Philadelphia, and whose false affidavit brought Judge Kane into a bad position, when he took it all for truth.

PHILADELPHIA, April 30.—The boiler of the illfated ferry-boat New Jersey, was raised to-day. One of the furnace doors was found open. The U. S. Boiler Inspector examined the interior of the boiler, and found it to be very defective; several patches, where it had been mended, were actually burnt away. Numerous leaks were also found about the back legs of the boiler, sufficient, when acting upon the furnace, to fill the flues with steam, and force out a flame in front. The Inspector says it is a matter of astonishment that the boiler could have stood so long without accident. The plates, in many places, were reduced to one-third of their original thickness. The boiler was totally unfit, in every respect, for service, although the above was evidently not the cause of the destruction of the boat. It was also found that the plates and brick work under the boiler were open, through which the fire could rapidly communicate to the wood-work of the bottom of the boat.—The coroner's jury meet to-morrow, to form their verdict.

The New Haven colony of Kansas emigrants about whom the people of New Haven have been in a state of excitement for some weeks, have at last started on their mission for freedom. They number about eighty, are men of sterling character, and go out well armed. Their leave-taking was quite affecting. They were escorted to the boat by the Elm City Guards, and the Croton Engine Co.

Rev. E. A. Nevin, of Boston, and two other eastern gentlemen, have just purchased twelve thousand acres of land in the northeast part of Adair and south-west part of Adams counties, Iowa, on which they will colonize this spring one hundred eastern families, mostly from Maine and New Hampshire. It lies contiguous to three projected railroads, and a fourth runs directly through it.

On the 23d ult. Capt. Josiah Parris died in Buckfield, aged 95 years and 7 months. When about 16 years old he enlisted in the army of the revolution, and served through six campaigns. He was with Generals Green and Sullivan in the battle of Rhode Island, August 27th, 1778, and was supposed to be the last survivor of that hardfought contest. Capt. Parris was born in Pembroke, Mass., and settled in Buckfield in 1793. Of about 90 revolutionary soldiers who settled in that town, he was the last.

EMANCIPATION OF SLAVES.—The bill containing a provision prohibiting the manumission of slaves by will, etc., did not become a law as is generally supposed. It passed the House, but was tabled in the Senate, one or two days before the close of the session, while undergoing the amendatory process peculiar to that illustrious body.—Richmond Whig.

RAIN.—According to the Bath (Me.) Tribune, to-day makes the ninety-ninth day since any rain has fallen which could be measured—the last rain being on the second day of December, at which time the quantity of rain which fell measured nine-tenths of an inch.

THE NEXT NEW HAMPSHIRE CELEBRATION.—It is proposed by some of the "Sons of New Hampshire" residing in Boston to go in a mammoth excursion party to some favorite locality in the Granite State next fall, and then and there have their triennial celebration. Should this be determined upon, the "old folks at home" will doubtless give the "sons" a most joyous reception.—Boston Transcript.

A SLAVE BEAT TO DEATH.—We learn from Grenada, Miss., that Mr. H. Talbert, of that place, had a negro whipped to death by his overseer, on Thursday or Friday last. It appears the negro became guilty of some offence, for which his overseer attempted to chastise him, when he ran away, but was caught, perhaps the same evening. The overseer whipped the negro very severely, and repeated it until the negro was found to be dying, when the overseer left for "parts unknown."—Natchez Courier.

At Matilda, C. W., two men, a woman and a child, when crossing the river, were upset; the woman clung to the boat and held her child with her mouth till she was picked up, about two miles from the place of the accident. One of the men was drowned and the other swam ashore.

It is stated that Dr. Graham, who killed Col. Loring at the St. Nicholas Hotel, New York, and is now suffering the penalty of his crime in the State Prison at Sing Sing, is so ill that he is not expected to live. He has, during his incarceration, been acting as Apothecary.

Mrs. Anna Morris has brought a suit for divorce against her husband, Rev. William Morris, pastor of the African Episcopal Church, in New York, on ground of ill treatment.

A SINGULAR CASE.—In the fall of 1853, a young man about 22 years of age, named Grady, was sentenced to hard labor in the Connecticut State Prison for the crime of stealing. The term of his imprisonment expired last fall, but he begged the privilege of remaining till spring. The Warden kindly permitted him to stay, and found enough for him to do to pay his way. On Monday, the severity of winter being over, and the spring work about to commence, it was agreed that he should leave the prison and take care of himself, and he was furnished with $3. He came up to the city, but the world seemed dark to him; he felt that he was an outcast, and shrank from intercourse with it. In the evening he returned to the prison, and begged that he might be kept there during the remainder of his days! The Warden has taken the matter in hand, and is attempting to find a suitable place for him, where he can gain an honest living.—Hartford Times.

Many of our exchanges are giving currency to the rumor that, in the settlement of the estate of Cassius M. Clay, twenty-two of his slaves are to be sold. This is a mistake.—Mr. Clay does not own any slaves. Those alluded to in the advertisement of the sale do not belong to him, nor has he any control over them. If he had, they would not now be slaves.—Cleveland Leader.

The slaves were given, by a will, to Clay's children,—and he cannot dispose of them—but his lifetime right in them has been attached for his debts.

VIRGINIA FINANCES.—The Richmond Whig expresses a fear that the State is on the eve of bankruptcy. It says:

"With a debt of thirty millions, with taxes doubled, with repudiation staring us in the face, we hope the people will begin to think that there is something of more moment to their well-being than the distribution of offices among hungry politicians."

Great American and Foreign Office
For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal thereof by him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is now the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to any other agency, as evidenced by the testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him unable, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.—Patents secured in Great Britian, France and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

ACTNER 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

MAINE LEGISLATURE.—The Portland Advertiser's Correspondent at Augusta, under date of April 3, says:

The Liquor Law with the amendments adopted in the Senate, was before the House yesterday afternoon. It came up in due course, the amendments being first in order. Mr. Wedgewod of Cornish, moved the Yeas and Nays on concurring with the Senate in striking out the search and seizure clauses, and on taking the vote the House at first refused to concur. Yeas 68, nays 69. I have not seen so many blank faces in the House at any time this winter as there were in the Hall after the vote was announced. Immediately the Hall was filled by grave Senators, wise Counsellors, and liberal outsiders of all descriptions. Mr. Scammon of Saco, in the hope of nailing the matter, moved to reconsider the vote, and friends of free rum recovered their breath, which they had about lost, in the surprise occasioned by the vote, and began to cast about to see what could be done to retrieve their position. To gain time to send for the absentees, Mr. Irish of Union commenced making a speech, and in the meantime, the boarding houses were searched, and the lost ones hunted up. Great was the excitement for a few hours, the news spread into the streets, and the tavern-keepers and expunged rumsellers rushed to the capitol. Their carriages were put into requisition, and in good time the member from Hallowell and several other members were brought in, and the vote was reconsidered. Yeas 73, nays 70. Three or four Republican members were absent—one, Mr. Lyford at his lodgings sick, and the others, Chesley, J. B. Coffin and Hines away, home. Had these men been present, the vote for a reconsideration would not have been carried.

To the praise of those of the dominant party who voted with the friends of prohibition out his occasion, be it said that notwithstanding the earnest appeals of the liberal Senators, and all that was done, not one trod back, if I except Dea. Hasty of Limerick, who voted at first to strike out, and on the second vote dodged. The vote to reconsider was carried only by getting in the absentees—and the amendment to strike out the search & seizure clauses concurred in by the enterprise of Senators and hotel-keepers. Other amendments were adopted in concurrence; one adopted by the Senate, making it obligatory on the City and Town officers to license the sale, was not concurred in—the House voting to retain the permissive power, as originally reported by the Committee. Pending a motion, made by Mr. Dennett of Kittery, to amend the bill so as to give this power, to be exercised under such conditions and restrictions as the City and Town officers may prescribe, the House adjourned.

This forenoon this amendment has been discussed, and ably, by Mr. Wedgewood, in favor of the amendment, and against the grand principles of the bill.

Both Mr. Talbot and Mr. Levensaler oppose the adoption of amendment, and hint should it be sanctioned by the House, the passage of the bill is doubtful. Mr. Talbot says that the effect of its adoption would be to establish the Maine Law in many of the towns in the State, and he could not consent to any such principles.

It is impossible to predict the ultimate fate of the bill. Yesterday the probabilities were in favor of its passage, to-day there is more doubt. Two of the absent ones returned last night, and no one can predict with any certainty what will be done. All of the speakers thus far have been from the side of the dominant party, and I understand more speeches are to come from that side. Unless some trap is sprung, the vote will not be taken today, and if not, the further consideration of the subject will go over until next week.

The same evening, April 3, Mr. Dennett's motion was negatived, 72 to 74,—and under the operation of the previous question, the bill was passed 78 to 68.

TYPHUS FEVER IN RUSSIA.—A telegraphic despatch received in England, from Vienna, under date of March 11, says:—The reason why it is firmly believed here that peace will be concluded is, because the true state of things in Russia is perfectly well known. We are aware that the typhus has committed great ravages at Nicolaieff, but we are somewhat disinclined to believe that things are so bad as is represented in the following letter, which has been received by the Oesterreichische Zeitung:—

Odessa, Feb. 29.—A terrible complaint (the typhus) prevails in our city, and it is particularly violent among the troops. Above 20,000 are now in the hospitals, and thousands have died. Despite the greatest exertions, it is extremely difficult to find accommodation for so many patients. Hospitals have been established in the very midst of that part of the city which is established by the better classes, and thousands of patients occupy them, but physicians and proper nurses are wanting. In one week 12 military physicians and four medical men in private practice died. Among them were two Americans, who were about to return home. The typhus has committed terrible ravages in the whole of Southern Russia, and particularly in those place which are near the theatre of war. Bakshiserai, Simpheropol, Kherson, and Nicolaieff are almost empty. It is estimated that this pestilence has already carried off 100,000 men. It is gradually spreading over Bessarabia. There are 15 vessels off Kinburn, but they attempt nothing. The day before yesterday the news that an armistice had been concluded reached us, and we are more than ever persuaded that peace will be concluded.

EXETER.—Rev. Jona. Cole, of Salem, has accepted an unanimous invitation to become the pastor or the Unitarian Society in Exeter.

LOCAL.

CITY COUNCIL.

SATURDAY EVENING, April 5.

In Board of Aldermen—

Leave was granted to M. P. Jones to obstruct a portion of State street, for the purpose of repairing his house.

The Committee on Bills on their 2d reading, to whom was referred the Ordinance relating to the salaries of city officers, reported the same without amendment. The bill is as follows:

An ordinance in amendment of various ordinances and resolves establishing and regulating the salaries of city officers and for other purposes.

Be it ordained, &c.

SECTION 1.—That the City Clerk shall receive in full for his services, in addition to the legal fees and perquisites pertaining to said office, the sum of five hundred and fifty dollars per annum, in lieu of six hundred dollars.

That the City Marshal shall receive in full for his services, in addition to the legal fees and perquisites originating from said office, two hundred and fifty dollars per annum in lieu of three hundred and fifty dollars.

That the number of Assistant Marshals, Constables and Police Officers be reduced to four, and that they shall receive in full for their services, in addition to the legal fees and perquisites originating from said offices, the sum of forty dollars each per annum in lieu of fifty dollars.

That the Street Commissioner shall receive for his services the sum of two hundred dollars per annum, in lieu of three hundred dollars, which shall be in full for all duties performed by him upon the streets and sidewalks of the city within the limits prescribed for his superintendance.

That the City Messenger shall receive in full for his services as Messenger, and for assisting in the office of the City Clerk, three hundred and fifty dollars, in lieu of four hundred dollars.

That the Physician of the Board of Health Officers shall receive in full from the city for all services required of him as a member of said Board the sum of fifty dollars per annum, and that the other members of the Board shall each receive the sum of thirty dollars per annum, in lieu of fifty dollars—which respective sums shall be in addition to any legal fees to which the members of said Board may be entitled from any individuals or parties other than the city.

That the Clerk of the Common Council shall receive thirty dollars per annum in full for his services, in lieu of fifty dollars.

That the Clerk of the Spring Market shall receive the sum of thirty dollars per annum in full for his services, in lieu of forty-five dollars.

That the pay of the Stewards of engines shall be ten dollars each per annum in full for their services, in lieu of fourteen dollars.

That the pay of the City Watch shall be one dollar and twenty-five cents per night for each night employed during the months of December, January and February, and one dollar per night for each night employed during the months of March, April, May, June, July, August, September, October and November, in lieu of one dollar and fifty cents for the winter months, and one dollar and twenty-five cents for the other months of the year.

SEC. 2.—That all ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent with this ordinance be and hereby are repealed.

SEC. 3.—That this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, but shall not apply to any officer chosen or appointed prior to the fourth Tuesday of March last until the expiration of his present official year.

The bill being on its second reading—

Ald. Tucker moved to amend the bill so that the stewards of engines should receive $14 per annum, instead of $10.

The amendment was adopted—5 to 1.

Nay—Ald. Rundlett.

Ald. Goodrich moved to amend to bill so that the Watchmen should receive $1.25 per night for the summer months and $1.50 in the winter.

After debate, the amendment was adopted.

Nays—Ald. Rundlett and Tucker—2.

Ald. Rowell moved that that part of the bill relating to Assistant Marshals be amended by striking out the words "be reduced to four, and that they"—. [This, if adopted, would leave the number 7, as heretofore.]

Ald. Rundlett moved to amend the amendment, so that the number should be three, and the compensation $50.

As the proposed amendments affected different parts of the bill, the Mayor thought the matter could be simplified by first fixing on the number desired, and then taking up the compensation. He therefore put the question, "Shall the number of Assistant Marshals be three?"—which was decided in the affirmative. The compensation was then fixed at $50 per annum.

No further amendments being proposed, the bill was passed, and sent to the Council for concurrence.

The resolution of inquiry, sent up from the Council was concurred in.

Com. Council.—The report of the joint committee on retrenchment, accompanied by the amended bill, came down from the Board of Aldermen, for concurrence.

The report was accepted, and the bill being read twice, under a suspension of the rules, passed to be engrossed.

[The Council manifested but little interest in this matter. But one voice was heard in the affirmative, and the negative was not called for.]

Mr. Raynes offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That, if the Board of Ald. concur, a joint committee be appointed to inquire in what mode the city watchmen, firemen and other subordinate officers, ought by law to be appointed.

The resolution was adopted and sent up.

Mr. Odion offered the following Ordinance.

Be it ordained, &c. That the office of City Solicitor be and hereby is abolished.

The bill was referred to the committee on bills, a motion to suspend the rules so as to allow of a second reading this evening, being negatived.

MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.—The new Board of Officers elected last week, hold their officers for one year; and not for six months, as has been stated by some of the papers, as has been the case heretofore. This change is in accordance with the new constitution; which also requires the Treasurer to give bonds. The Association is flourishing. The Library contains upwards of 1200 volumes. Their Reading Room, though it has been in operation only one year, has paid all its expenses, including fixtures, and netted a small balance for the treasury.

LECTURES, &c.—As will be seen by the advertisement, Rev. T. Starr King is announced to lecture before the Mechanics' Lyceum, on Tuesday evening, April 15th; and Wendell Phillips, Esq., to close the course on the 29th inst.

The Mercantile Library Association's second course has just closed, most successfully. From the committee's report, made at the annual meeting of the Association, last week, it appears that the course netted to the treasury over $60. The same lecture committee, as far as possible, was re-elected for the ensuing year—from the list of which, in our report, we accidentally omitted the name of W. H. Hackett, Esq. One great cause of the unexpected success of this expensive course, has been the music—the Portland Band at the opening, and the Piano playing each evening afterwards. A resolution unanimously adopted by the committee, and voted to be sent to Mr. Pearson, evinces their appreciation of his services in this respect, and acknowledges their obligation to him for refusing all compensation.

The course of Sunday Evening Lectures, recently closed, owes much of its success to the singing. An acknowledgement of the services of those who made exertions to procure appropriate and acceptible music for this course, will be found below.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISITAN ASSOCIATION.—At a meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association on Wednesday evening, April 2, the following Resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That our Lecture Committee are deserving our warmest thanks for their efficient exertions to provide a course of popular and profitable Sunday Evening Lectures during the past winter, and that the successful manner in which that Committee have carried through that enterprise, is a matter of congratulation for them and the Association.

Resolved, That we tender our sincere thanks to all the clergymen of our city for the lively interest they have manifested in our lectures, and the successful efforts they have put forth in our behalf.

Resolved, That we return our grateful acknowledgements to the publishers of the Journal, Gazette, and Chronicle for the liberality evinced towards us in granting free use of their columns to advertise and notice our lectures and meetings.

Resolved, That we are under great obligations to the Volunteer Choir, whose excellent musical performances have so materially added to the interest of our lectures, especially to Mr. Amos Pearson who has kinly and skilfully presided at the piano-forte, and to Messrs. E. M. Brown and Frank W. Miller for their exertions in procuring singers, and also to the latter for the gratuitous use of his piano.

Resolved, That the thanks of the Association be presented to Oliver Hanscom and Iva N. Rogg for their assistance.

Resolved, that all our city Editors be furnished with a copy of these resolutions with a request to publish the same.

JOHN H. SLATER, President.
AMOS S. FOSTER, Recording Secretary.

THE GIFT CONCERT at the Temple in Portsmouth on Monday evening last, passed off finely. The house was filled to overflowing. The music, both vocal and instrumental was of the highest order, and the distribution of gifts were promptly and accurately made. Among the lucky ones was a citizen of this village, who drew a valuable gold watch.—Great Falls Advertiser.

The elegant gifts for distribution among the patrons of the Concert by Messrs. Satter and Thompson on Monday evening last, were received on Saturday morning on Saturday morning by Mr. J. H. Head, and attracted an admiring throng.—Gazette.

THREE DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

N W YORK, April 4.—The Cunard steamship Asia, from Liverpool March 22d, arrived here about half-past 2 this P. M.

It was rumored that the Treaty of Peace would be signed on Easter Monday. In the event of delay the armistice would be extended to the 30th of April.

The actual business of the conference is understood to be over, and a committee of one representative of each of the powers is engaged in drawing up the formal treaty of peace. The committe consists of M. De Bourqueney, (France) Lord Cowley, (Eng.) Count Buol, (Austria) Baron Brunow, (Russia) Count Cavour, (Sardinia) and Ali Pasha (Turkey).

Consols have advanced to 92 1-4 a 93 3-8; French Threes 72f 30c.

Cotton dull and drooping; ordinary qualities declined 1-8 and middling 1-16. Sales of the week 32,000 bales. Breadstuffs very dull—quotations nominal. Western Canal Flour 31 a 32. Corn 1s lower.

Provisions generally firm. Pork and Beef slightly advanced.

There has been great mortality among the French in the Crimea. The health of the French at Constantinople was improving.

The fortifications at Nicolaieff were being strengthened.

A letter from Kertsch says that the news of the armistice produced a profound sensation of joy along the shores of the Sea of Azof, and business became suddenly active.

The imperial foundry established on the west bank of the Don has been closed, and this would seem to confirm the news of the intention manifested by the Court of Russia to abandon its maritime establishments on the Black Sea.

On the 17th all the ships and allied batteries at Constantinople fired a salute in honor of the birth of Napoleon's son.

Gen. Codrington issued general orders of the date of March 2, forbidding to fire upon the enemy until the expiration of the armistice on the 31st.

FRANCE.—The Empress and son continue well, and the Tuilleries has been crowded with all sorts of deputations. The Emperor's replies have been generally purely comp imentary, but, in answering the deputation of the Congress, he made use of the expression:—"I am happy that Providence has sent me a son at the moment when an era of general reconciliation is announcing itself to Europe." These words are looked upon in Paris as a sort of confirmation of the general belief in peace. The stock market has, in consequence been firm, and prices buoyant.

An amnesty is declared to all political offenders who will return and take the required allegiance.

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY, April 4.

SENATE.—Mr. Seward gave notice of the introduction of a supplementary copyright law, but after debate it was postponed.

The House bill, appropriating $300,000 for restoring and maintaining the peaceable disposition of the Indian tribes on the Pacific coast, and $120,000 for gunpowder, passed.

Mr. Collamer resumed his remarks on Kansas affairs, and contended that the Missourians went into the territory to control the elections, fearing the free state men would triumph unless they interposed.

Mr. Douglas replied to some of Mr. Collamer's criticisms on the majority report, maintaining that the purpose of the free state men in Kansas was to resist the Federal government.

Adjourned to Monday.

HOUSE.—Mr. Evans of Maryland introduced a bill authorizing the construction of a Northern, Southern and Central Pacific Railroad and magnetic telegraph line.

The Senate amendments to the deficiency bill were taken up in committee.

Mr. Smith of Tennessee argued that the South is more conservative than the North; hence the accession of slave states has a tendency to preserve the Union. He spoke at length on pary politics, reviewing with condemnation, the American and Republican organizations.

Mr. Granger of New York, prompted, as he said, by a stern sense of duty, discussed the slavery question, arguing that slavery is incompatible with the Constitution, and therefore illegal. That instrument, he contended, not only in spirit, but in express terms, repudiates slavery, and positively bars its existence. Adjourned till Monday.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—I understand that the Union to-morrow will contain a letter from Hon. James Buchanan, dated Dec. 28, in which he declares that the Missouri Compromise is dead and gone, and asserts that the Nebraska bill is the only basis upon which the slavery question can be settled — that it must be adhered to at all hazards, and every storm faced that can be brought against it.

A letter from Savannah, dated 26th ult., says:—No language can express the delightfulness of this climate at this season of the year. Under a warm, genial sun, the whole earth is throwing forth, most luxuriantly, her foliage and flowers.

FRAUD.—J L. Eggleston, transfer clerk of the State Bank at Charleston, S. C., has been arrested for issuing fraudulent stock to the amount of $30,000.

There was a fire in Lynn, Wednesday afternoon, that burned a large two story dwelling house owned by Dr. Davis, and occupied by a great number of Irish families.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal throu h him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents; these, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey so Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.
Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons who stood in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitatiu in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

G. W. STONE'S
—AND—
Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effect of Cathartic Pills required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhea and Choleramorbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT: it needs but one other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

OLD FOLKS' CONCERTS.—We do not know where the first entertainment of this sort was given; but wherever the ancient harmony has been revived, the people have turned out in large numbers to hear. No concerts have been so successful as those by the Old Folks' Choirs; which is shown by the issuing of four editions of their music book in half-a-dozen years. A new, and to us objectionable feature, has recently been introduced into these entertainments—that of dressing the performers in antique dresses; which has, of course, the effect to turn the whole thing into a burlesque performance. Two large and undoubtedly talented choirs, the Reading Chorus Club, and the Chelsea Continentals, have been very successful in drawing crowded houses in Boston, several times during the last few weeks. Respecting one of Reading Club's concerts, Prof. B. F. Baker says, in his Musical Gazette:

A large audience was present, most of whom never were seen at a concert before, and having received the quid pro quo for their quarters, will not probably venture out again for the present. The singers on the occasion were clad in antique dresses, some were funny, and others uncouth; but the whole picture was a sublime exaggeration. The audience were deeply moved, and those who could not give adequate expression to enthusiasm through their heel-taps, indulged in outright, unrestrained laughter! We had supposed that these old folks' concerts—using as they do sacred words,—were designed to promote church music, as well as to edify the hearers; but we were impressed on the occasion with the idea, if Mrs. Partington had been there, she might have exclaimed, "that they made more fun than there was any necessary for."

As the first Old Folks' concert in this city, soon after commencing, the conductor requested that no noisy demonstrations of satisfaction be made by the audience; which request was complied with, at that and the succeeding concerts—very much to the satisfaction of all who could really appreciate the performances. And boot-heels have been at a comparative discount here, as accompaniments to concertizing, ever since—and we trust may continue so.

LIQUOR LAW IN MASSACHUSETTS.

BOSTON, Saturday, April 5, 1856.

This morning the special joint committee of the Legislature reported in the Senate, that it was inexpedient to legislate with reference to the several suggestions for repeal and modification of the existing prohibitory Liquor Law. This report will, doubtless, be accepted, as the Senate has a strong majority in favor of the existing state of things.

No effort has been left untried to influence the committee to report against the law of last year, constituting a liquor agency; and the consequence of one of these endeavors has been somewhat amusing. Mr. Williams, of J. Williams & Co., appeared before the committee, and testified concerning the operations of the State Agency, which he characterized as unjust to the trade, and productive of no benefit to the public. He even went so far as to plainly imply in his testimony that Mr. Mansfield, the State Commissioner for the sale of spirituous and intoxicating liquors for medical and mechanical purposes, on account of his want of knowledge of his business, (an entirely gratuitous assumption, by the way,) was induced to sell New York brandy, valued at 50 cents—the same being invoiced to him at $4 per gallon. A writer in one of our city papers took the pains to transcribe the imports of brandy on Boston account, at New-York and Boston, during the year 1855, and though the data supplied by the shipping lists discovered that, although J. D. Williams & Co. pretended to sell more pure liquor than any other establishment in the city, their imports for the year in question were only 57 packages, or about one two-hundredth part of the quantity imported by Messrs. Foster & Taylor of Custom House Street, Boston, by whom Mr. Mansfield, the State Commissioner, is supplied. Moreover, the same writer exhibits the receipt, by a certain liquor dealing firm at the moment its principal was testifying to the prejudice of Messrs. Mansfield and Foster & Taylor, of 20 puncheons of pure spirit, which is exclusively used for the adulteration of distilled liquors—each puncheon marked with a W in a circle, which fact has induced a certain wag to put upon the door of a monster rot-gut establishment a label containing the couplet—

"Does circle W Ever trouble you?"

This, among other facts, having been made public, and standing boldly above controversy, have induced the committee to report as they have done in respect to the commissionership remaining as it is. Some of the members were previously dissatisfied with its operation, on account of the rumors which had been assiduously circulated to its prejudice; but the statistical fact, that twenty times the aggregate quantity of pure liquors were imported by Messrs. Foster & Taylor than by all the other Boston importers, comforted those persons, and changed the views of the legislative committee decratory to the character of the commissioner, and prejudicial to the character of the liquors sold by him. He uses no liquors but what are taken by himself out of bond, with the exception of N. E. rum. He has never had but one complaint of their quality and that one was a falsely based one. Hundreds of town agents are willing to testify to the universally pure character of the liquor they purchase of Mr. Mansfield: and those who have attempted to villify him and his vocation must take another course, for in the respect in question his name is unimpeachable. HISTORY OF INTEMPERANCE.

The history of intemperance in one city or town of New England, is much like that of any other, of the same size and like occupations.

Our recollections of intemperance in Portsmouth, run back to a time when we had 250 drinking houses and shops, when almost every body drank rum, and when drunkenness was vastly more extensive than at present.

Our recollections of efforts of a moral kind to promote temperance, go far enough back to remember when men here were denounced as fanatical and righteous over much, for suggesting or admitting that a man could work without drinking rum.

And we have also a distinct recollection of a legal effort, not to prohibit sales, but merely to impose a moderate tax on licenses to sell. This was longbefore the Washingtonian effort, and before we had seen the word tectotal. The State of New Hampshire, by its legislature, passed a bill imposing a license tax. But the 200 liquor sellers of Poitsmouth, with a considerable corps of drinkers and hangers on, called a special town-meeting, and nullified the law by a vote for free rum.

Years rolled on; the evils of intemperance were, seen opposed, and denounced. Pledges, not to drink, give, nor sell, distilled liquors, were signed; and societies were formed on this basis. The evil began to diminish. Then came pledges to abstain from all intoxicating beverages; soonfollowed by the Washingtonian effort and excitement,which crippled the trade and diminished the evil still more.

After two or three years of this effort and excitement, as it was subsiding, and apparently losing its extraordinary power,—another class of our citizens, who had not taken an active part in the Washingtonian movement, but who saw its good effects, and wished to do something in their way, to promote temperance, called a public meeting, which was held in Dec. 1844. and which chose a committee of five gentlemen to procure information, make a report, and prepare resolutions. This committee consisted of Alfred W. Haven, Richard Jenness, Oliver Ayers, Joseph M. Edmonds, and John Knowlton.

They took time and pains, and made a thorough report, which they presented in April 1855. We now propose to bring it before our readers, in separate chapters, and invite particular attention to their REPORT. CHAPTER 1.

INTRODUCTION.

At a general meeting of the friends of temperance on the 23d of December last, a committee was appointed, "to ascertain statistics with reference to the amount of intemperance in this town, the amount of ardent spirit sold, the amount of pauperism and crime to be traced to intemperance, and any facts bearing upon the subject or tending to throw light on the proper mode of arresting the evil."

Having ascertained with much care the facts to which their attention was directed, the committee, with confidence, invite your reliance upon the accuracy of the following report.

DRINKERS.

The number of legal voters upon the check list of the town in the year 1844 was seventeen hundred and forty-three; ninety-five of whom cannot be traced, being probably men who resided here but a short time.

The remainder, with the exception of fifty who sell ardent spirit, we have divided into four classes, namely, the intemperate, the moderate drinkers, the temperate, and the totally abstinent.

We have not placed the fifty who sell ardent spirit, in either of these classes, nor shall we refer to their individual habits, but leave them to the sentence of the general law by which every one should be judged, who justifies by word or example, the indulgence of pernicious habits. Perhaps the attendant profit should not cause them to be regarded as differing in guilt from these who encourage vice without pecuniary advantage. To do the latter, would seem to argue greater depravity of purpose than to do the former, for indifference or aversion to the well-being of man must be presumed in this case, whereas the necessity of obtaining subsistence may be urged in the other.

It is not that we are anxious to apportion with exact justice different degreess of guilt, that we call attention to this point, but because its consideration must be involved in the question of the future mode of operation. Declamation and denunciation, remonstrance and entreaty, directed to the members of this small class, have been in vain; they in fact are but the branches of a poisonous tree whose roots extend beneath the whole surface of society.

The first class, then, according to the proposed arrangement, is that of the intemperate, or such as in common plain speaking are called drunkards. Two hundred and eighty nine belong to this division.

Four hundred are placed in the next class, viz. that of the moderate drinkers. From these are derived the recruits that from time to time enlist for life in the army of the drunkards; and many of them already require a very charitable construction, to save them from being placed in the list of the intemperate.

There remain nine hundred and nine who are either temperate or totally abstinent.

Four hundred and thirty-three of this number belong to the temperance class; if any of whom use ardent spirit at all, the fact is not known to the public, and the evil of bad example is not added to a bad act.

The remaining four hundred and seventy six abstain totally from the use of intoxicating articles; they balk not between two opinions, and do not turn aside from the path to which the finger of conscience directs them.

One hundred and five of this number, were once the slaves of intemperance; bound hand and foot, they awoke on the very verge of destruction, and with an effort greater than many an act that has called forth the applause of a world, broke their chains, and resumed the freedom and dignity of man.

Others there are who have not succeeded in their struggle for emancipation. Fifty-four who signed the pledge, have relapsed, and are counted in the number of the intemperate. Some of them probably never truly resolved to amend, and some may have delayed till all moral energy was lost. The former possibly may yet be saved; the latter are dead to all but physical existence.

LIEBIG ON BEER.—Prof. Liebig, the great German Chemist, in a recent lecture at Munich, Bavaria, on the nature and uses of Beer, introduced the important fact that this beverage contains very little material for supplying the waste of muscle, the nitrogenous portion of the grain being destroyed by the processes of boiling and fermentation. He estimated that a man who drinks eleven pints of beer per day, would get no more muscle-sustaining nutriment in a whole year, than a five pound loaf of bread furnishes.

THE COLORED POPULATION OF CINCINNATI.—The Cincinnati Sun says that the colored people of that city number about 5000 souls. Of their occupations and wealth it is stated—there are five physicians; one of whom has a very large practice among both whites and blacks; twelve grocers, thirty music and school teachers, five daguerreotypists, one patent roofer, five brick-layers and stone masons, two trunk makers, twelve dealers in market, five or six boot and shoemakers, a number of excellent tailors, blacksmiths and carpenters, and one hundred milliners, dress makers, shirt makers and tailoresses. Among them is Henry Boyd, one of the largest and best cabinet manufacturers in the city, who is worth at least $40,000; J. P. Ball, R. G. Ball, and J. C. Ball, who take as fine daguerreotypes as are taken in the world, and who are worth $30,000 at least. The names of 14 of these colored people are given, whose property is valued at $10,000, three $6000, five 5000, one $4000, one $3000, one $9000, one $8000, one $12,000, one $14,000, six $15,000, four $20,000, five $30,000, two $40,000. The names of twenty-five others are given, and it is stated that these and many others, whose names are not mentioned, have property ranging in value from three to twenty thousand dollars.

Poor fellows! what a pity it is they can not take care of themselves. What can they be thinking of, that they don't rush over into Kentucky, or down to New Orleans, to get under the wing of the blessed patriarchal institution? And why don't the Ohio people send them off to Liberia or somewhere?

PRISONER BURNT.—The Knoxville, Tenn., Register says the town of Sevierville was almost entirely destroyed by fire on Tuesday last. The fire originated in the residence of Duggan, Sheriff of the county, and was not subdued until it had destroyed jail, court house, store houses—in short, the whole town with the exception of three or four buildings. There was but one person in jail—a man committed last week—and he was burned to death—every effort to rescue him, havin proved unavailing.

Judge Conkling of New York, an old friend of Mr. Fillmore, has written a letter in favor of the Republican movement, and the Richmond (Va.) Whig lets out a curious scrap of political history concerning him, as follows:

Conkling was a Judge of the United States District Court of New York. The fugitive slave law was about to come before his Court, and serious apprehensions were entertained lest he should decide against the constitutionality of the act. Mr. Fillmore, with the forecast of a wise and patriotic man, knowing that Conkling could do no mischeif in Mexico, and, by deciding the fugitive act unconstitutional, at a time when popular excitement was very high, might do vast mischief at home, tempted him from the bench with the mission to Mexico. The thing was wisely done, and attended with happy results.

SPRING BONNETS.—The editor of the Philadelphia Sun, who sets up for a "ladies' man," says of the spring bonnets:—

"In our walks about town, to "see the pretty" which the stores are exhibiting, we find that the ladies' bonnets are to be worn this spring even smaller than before—if indeed they have not already reached the falling off place. They are in fact nothing more—certainly nothing less—than a full bordered cap—a wreath of flowers fastened on foundation muslin, or clusters of fruit. We must admit that they are very becoming to any pretty woman."

COMPLIMENTARY.—Horace Greeley speaks of Washington city as follows:—

"It has no commerce but that which ministers to her own immediate wants; no manufactures, but the manufacture of claims on the Treasury; no arts but the art of boring gimlet-holes into the public chest, and enlarging them to auger-holes as rapidly as possible."

SUICIDE.—We learn that a stranger, from New York, who arrived at Spring Vale, near Berwick, on Saturday night, committed suicide on Monday morning, by cutting his throat.

There are thirteen vessels now building in Essex. They are mostly to be added to the Gloucester fleet of fishermen.

THE BIRDS.—The birds have come! we hear the song of a robin as he hops about the leafless tree tops, heralding the coming of buds and flowers, in the midst of nature's desolation. It is inspiration to hear him. We hope no inconsiderate person, who may find himself with a gun in his hands on the coming Fast Day, will be so inhuman as to shoot this welcome bringer of glad tidings. S.W.C.

☞ On the first page of this day's paper, is a communication of Tremont, on the liquor law of Massachusetts. The time of the report, therein stated, was premature. Tremont now says:

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday afternoon, a man named Towle was at work at the Railroad Station at Cohasset, sawing, wood upon a circular saw propelled by horse power, when the harness broke and the horse attempted to back out of the tread mill. Mr. Towle sprang to stop him, when he slipped and found himself falling upon the rapidly moving saw. He reached out his hands to save himself, when he had one hand cut completely off at the wrist, and three fingers severed from the other.—Boston Traveller.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Gov. Clark yesterday pardoned Dr. R. M. Graham of New Orleans, who was convicted and imprisoned about a year ago for killing Col. Loring, at the St. Nicholas Hotel, in this city. FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OVER TWO MILLION ACRES

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska. Although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to this extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be bro't under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,
No. 78 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal throu h him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that WORK IS MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would abd that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides the extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey so Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.
Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the first Solicitors in the United States, and he no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure the grant of early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, E. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Try it! Try it! Try it!
G. W. STONE'S
—AND—
Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which are the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where a physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, in a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysenterry, Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,
Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the certificates of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others by W. Gibson, MD, Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, MD, Prof. Surgery, N. Y. Univ'ty. W. P. Dewees, MD, Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, MD, Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. I. Parke, MD, Pres. College Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Vallo, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Eourenco de Luz, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain. J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Parrons, Bt. Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geometric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers, Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copyright secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge.

Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them, by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

CIRCULAR.

To the Clergymen of the several Denominations in New Hampshire.

REV. AND DEAR SIR:—The State Temperance Committee wish to present a few facts for your consideration. The Temperance cause has been carried forward from its commencement by a great outlay of money and labor; while our hearts have been cheered from time to time in witnessing its progress, attended with the most gratifying results.—After a long continued struggle, a good Prohibitory Law has been secured, and which has been sustained by the sober second thought of the legal voters of the State; and more, it has the hearty support of hundreds of thousands whose voices cannot be heard at the polls.

We are now fully equipped, with moral suasion in the one hand and a Prohibitory enactment in the other to battle with the deadly foe. And now shall we go forth from our high position and push the victory to the final conquest?

There is great danger lest we become indifferent, sleep upon our arms, and lose the advantages we have gained. That, because we have a good law, we may conclude we have but little more to do. Not so; to be effective, the law must be executed, and to execute it, will require moral courage and persevering effort—the united effort of all its friends. Its efficiency and success will depend upon a correct moral sentiment in the community.

The friends of the cause are in no position now, to relax their efforts—on the contrary, we have reached a crisis, when every man is expected to do his duty; a crisis which demands the most judicious, decided and determined effort—and every such effort will tell. In no year in the past history of the cause, has there been that encouragement to labor, as is presented in the year before us.

In the present emergency, the State Temperance Committee look to the Clergymen for aid; they confidently believe that, as you ever have done, you will continue to lend your whole influence in favor of this cause.—You can reach and move the people—and we need prayers and sermons, lectures and exhortations, "line upon line, and precept upon precept," to keep the public mind awake and properly directed, and, with the blessing of Heaven, to secure an early and complete triumph. The eyes of thousands of wives, mothers and children are directed to you;—suffering humanity appeals to those who minister at the altar. And, Dear Sir, may we not rest assured that you will, in your individual and associated capacity, do all in your power in behalf of this blessed cause?

In behalf of the State Temperance Com.

STEPHEN M. VAIL, } Sub Com.
HIRAM WHITCHER,

Concord, March 27, 1856.

THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.—It seems to be the opinion in the best informed circles, that a Pacific railroad bill will pass Congress at its present session. There are many circumstances now favoring the project. It is understood that several, if not all the members of the Cabinet favor the scheme, and it finds a willing advocate in Jefferson Davis, the Secretary of War, on the very valid ground that it is necessary for the protection and defence of the Pacific coasts. During the existing controversy with England all have thought how little assistance the Atlantic States could render to California in case a war was carried to that quarter; and when at peace with the civilized world we are liable to have constant use for such a road in forwarding troops to suppress Indian troubles. But when patriotism and justice to all the members of the confederacy, does not have influence, selfish considerations may. Besides California there are several Western States interested in this matter, where its friends are sufficiently numerous to affect the votes of parties who favor or oppose the road, and therefore the presidential year, which is fatal to many operations, is the best time to agitate the question. The Republicans, if they should nominate Col. Fremont, will yoke this and the Missouri Compromise together, as their leading measures; and to secure strength the democrats might now be willing to commence a work that every body sees must sooner or later be performed.—Newburyport Herald.

The civic election in the district of St. John, N. B., took place on the 1st inst., and was more warmly contested than any one had been for several years. The points of contest were, the prohibitory liquor law and the project of supplying Carleton with water at an expense of some £25,000. The result was, the election to the new Council Board of eight prohibitionists, five anti-prohibitionists and one whose views on the question were unknown. The Morning Freeman says:—"the triumph of the prohibitionists was decided, although their majorities were small and the victory was hardly won." The water project was defeated.

The oldest newspaper in Holland, the Harlemsche Courant, had been published two hundred years on the 8th of January last. For more than one hundred years it has been owned by the family of the present editors, Johannes Ensched and Son. The paper was first started by Abraham Casteyn.

An exciting negro chase came off at Independence, Mo., the 17th ult. The negro had been sold to go south and attempted to escape; half the population turned out in pursuit; great many shots were fired at him, and he returned some of them, having procured a pistol before starting. He was at last brought down by a pistol shot, but died fighting desperately to the last. The Independence Dispatch hopes his fate will be a timely warning to others who incline to rebel. To reverse the picture, the editor of the New York Herald has been visited by a woman who had been freed by the contributions of the "nigger-worshippers," but had become tired of liberty and persuaded a kind hearted Virginian to take her back to her master, S. NEW HAMPSHIRE CHURCHES.

We have received from the author, Rev. Robert F. Lawrence, a well printed volume of 624 pages, entitled, "The New Hampshire Churches, comprising Histories of the Presbyterian and Congregational Churches in the State, with Notices of other Denominations—by Robert F. Lawrence, Pastor of the Congregational Church in Claremont."

We are glad to see the work, because it preserves, in a good form, a large mass of information, which must, without some such work, soon pass into oblivion. We have looked over those parts of it where we best know the ground, and do not detect, as yet, any errors, historical or typographical; though we presume errors there must needs be, in every work of this kind. Yet we run no risk in saying, that it must be regarded as a correct book.

We are particularly gratified with the admirable history of the Church in Hampton. The accounts of Churches in North Hampton, Hampton Falls, Seabrook, New Market, Greenland, Rye, Stratham, Exeter, New Castle, Gosport and Dover, are also well prepared and interesting.

The sketch of the North Church in Portsmouth is correct, (being that prepared by Mrs. Knight, for the North Parish Leves,) but, as it was prepared for a special purpose and not for this book, it very properly says nothing about the South Parish. But in this book, it is a singular and unfortunate omission, to ignore the existence of a Congregational Church and Parish, scarcely second to any in the State, whose ministers for more than a century were in full fellowship with the standing Congregational order in New Hampshire, and whose earnest call of Edward Payson made him hesitate for a moment between Portsmouth and Portland.

There is no notice of the Independent Church, (Father Walton's,) which existed about 70 years, and then became a Baptist Church. Nor is there any mention of the Pleasant Street Congregational Church, which failed and was merged again in the North Church.

We say these things, not by way of disparagement to the work, which, we repeat, appears to be correct; and reliable, so far as its statements go, being collected from good sources: but it is not complete, as indeed completeness is hardly possible in a work of this kind; and as this omission is at our own door, we must mention it, that it may be supplied.

The omission can be supplied in another edition, from Farmer & Moore's N. H. Gazetteer, Alden's Account of Religious Societies in Portsmouth, &c., &c.

The book deserves and will command a large sale among the people for whose especial use it is designed.

HISTORY OF INTEMPERANCE.

CHAPTER II.—SELLERS.

[We here give another chapter of the statistics of Intemperance in Portsmouth, in 1844-5. Chapter I. was published in the Daily Chronicle April 8,—and is on the 4th page of the Chronicle & Phenix for April 12.]

The next subject of inquiry, is, "the amount of ardent spirit sold."

In the year 1844, eighty-two thousand nine hundred and eighty gallons of ardent spirit and wine, equal to 2,205 barrels of 36 gallons, were brought into this town.

Large as the quantity may seem, we have authentic proof of the fact and are ready to demonstrate its truth. It must be presumed that the real quantity is even larger than we have stated, as some portion may reasonably be supposed to have escaped our notice; indeed attempts at concealment have been detected, and one dealer at least, has been found who practises the custom of marking his rum barrels with the name of a different article guiltless of alcohol.

From the quantity ascertained, one seventh part, being the wine, may be deducted, which leaves 71,126 gallons; to which add fifteen per cent. or 10,668 gallons estimated to have escaped our investigation, and the sum total will be 81,794 gallons, or, within a fraction, two thousand two hundred and seventy-two barrels. We disregard fractions of a gallon. The quantity which was brought into this port for the sloop-of-war is not included in this statement.

We are satisfied that 15 per cent. is not too much to add to the amount positively ascertained; for notwithstanding the prevalence of intemperance, the intemperate have but little influence upon public opinion, and there is a feeling that it is not reputable to deal in intoxicating liquors, and consequently a strong inclination to keep these articles, so far as is consistent with self interest, entirely out of sight.

It may be said that the question which concerns us, is, not of the amount imported, but of the quantity actually consumed in this town.

Passing over the consideration of the fallacy that makes a distinction between poisoning a man on this or that side of the town line, we hope to shew, to your satisfaction, the quantity that must necessarily be consumed in the town.

There are thirty-four shops and seven taverns in which ardent spirit is sold by the glass. From exact enquiry in each individual case as far as was practicable, and from a fair and impartial comparison where inquiry was not practicable, we find that the quantity annually sold by these shops and taverns, is, at least, thirty-six thousand nine hundred gallons, equal to 1,025 barrels, and making an average of twenty-five barrels to each. We have no doubt of the correctness of this estimate, and propose presently to shew some collateral evidence to convince you that no material error has been committed.

There are seven other shops in which spirit is sold by the gallon but not by the glass, excepting that some of them furnish regular customers in other articles, with a glass occasionally or periodically; their sales are estimated to average 50 barrels each. There are also two stores where the article is sold by wholesale, by barrel and hogshead; making an aggregate of fifty dealers in ardent spirit. So far as the consumption in town is concerned, the two wholesale dealers may be disregarded, because the amount of their sales will appear in the account of the retailers. It is not important whether the estimate of the quantity sold by seven shops that deal in gallons, be accurate or not, as we grant that a portion of it is sold to other towns, and will leave the remainder to cover medical and other justifiable uses in the town.

An allowance obviously too large, but which, from abundant liberality shall be conceded.

Deducting from 81,794 gallons brought into the town, 36,900 gallons which we state as the quantity used for the purpose of intoxication, and there remain 44,894 gallons, equal to 1,247 barrels, to be carried out of the town or used for medical and other proper purposes.

We propose now to offer some considerations fortifying our statement that 36,900 gallons are annually sold by the retail shops and taverns for the purpose of intoxication; and the first point is, that the retailers cannot obtain subsistence for themselves and their families from the sale of a less quantity. Thirty-four retail shops and seven taverns averaging 900 gallons or 25 barrels each, make a gross profit of $720 each. Allowing the prime cost to be forty cents per gallon and sixty glasses to a gallon at two cents per glass, the profit is eighty cents on a gallon; and 900 gallons at eighty cents profits, gives seven hundred and twenty gallons. Deduct from this sum shop rent, $70. As the consumer of this article is impatient of delay and will have the shop always open, or carry his patronage to the next neighbour whose doors are not closed, an assistant must be employed to tend the shop; his wages must also be deducted, and though a boy is usually employed, forty dollars is not a large sum to assume for this item. These two items amount to one hundred and ten dollars—add fifteen per cent. for loss by bad debts, which those who are familiar with the business, consider a very fair estimate, and which gives one hundred and eight dollars, making a total of two hundred eighteen dollars to be deducted from the $720, and there remains the sum of five hundred and two dollars. Now the men who receive this profit, do not live in the miserable manner of the wretched victims of intemperance; their houses abound in the comforts of life; their wives and families are well clothed; their children are found at school; while the dwelling of their victim too often exhibits signs of extreme poverty; his wife and family are in rags; his children, unless a kind providence severs their fate from his, are outcasts and vagabonds. When we contemplate this contrast, the picture of the cannibal who preys upon his kind, forces itself upon the imagination. The sale of ardent spirits is the sole resource of most of these establishments.

It can hardly be thought that five hundred and two dollars is too much to assume as the nett annual profit of the retailer, considering the manner in which he maintains his family; and when we consider that many of these retailers accumulate property, besides discharging their expenses, we are confident in this position. In order to realize this sum for each of them, the quantity of 36,900 gallons must be sold in the town.

The next subject of consideration to fortify our statement of the quantity sold by the glass, is, that of the number of consumers, and the amount used by each.

Our estimates on this point may be thought too large by those who are not familiar with the subject, but they are made partly from personal observation, though chiefly from the information of those who have practiced habits of intoxication, or who have been dealers of ardent spirits. These two classes are best qualified to judge, and the case hardly admits of better evidence.

Of the 289 intemperate men, it is estimated that 140 drink one quart each per day, making 12,775 gallons in a year, and the remaining 149 drink one pint each per day giving 6,798 gallons, (disregarding fractions,) in a year. The moderate drinkers are allowed half a pint a day on an average; there being 400 of this class, the result is 9125 gallons in a year; making the quantity consumed by these classes 28,698 gallons. Deducting which sum from 36,900 gallons stated as annually sold by the glass, and only 8,202 gallons remain. This balance is a small allowance for the intemperate and moderate drinkers, who are not included in our estimates, being such as are not upon the check list of voters, and comprising foreigners, boys under twenty-one years old, and females. We shall not attempt to estimate the number of females addicted to intemperance; it is not very small; but the subject is painful, accuracy in this point not very important, and the inquiry has not been pursued.

A WINTER CROP.—The Newburyport Herald says the farmers appear to have raised an abundant crop of potatoes this winter, which they are now selling at 30 cents a bushel.

CONGRES

MONDAY, April 7.

SENATE.—Mr. Mason, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, reported no further legislation necessary to put an end to the treaty with Denmark, touching the Sound dues.—The subject was made the special order for Monday next.

Mr. Cass—I desire to present a Memorial from persons composing the self-styled Legislature of Kansas, and move its reference to the Committee on Territories.

Mr. Cass moved that the report be printed.

Messrs. Butler and Bayard opposed the motion, and Mr. Seward demanded the yeas and nays.

Mr. Cass thought that the report would be interesting to a great many persons, and therefore urged its printing.

The subject was laid aside, and the Bounty Land bill taken up, which was also laid aside, after an argument by Mr. Foote in favor of its passage.

Mr. Geyer addressed the Senate on Kansas affairs, saying that his position in the Senate, as the sole representative of the State of Missouri, would not permit him to decline participation in the debate. He then proceeded to consider the constitutional aspect of the slavery question. Without concluding Mr. Geyer gave way to a motion to adjourn. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Mace, by unanimous consent, presented the Constitution of Kansas, together with a memorial of the new Legislature of Kansas on the subject. Referred to the Committee on Territories.

Mr. Mace's resolution to print 10,000 copies was referred to the Committee on Printing.

In Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union, the Deficiency Appropriation bill being in order, Mr. Keitt of South Carolina made a speech on political affairs, calling on the Democratic party and the conservatives of the North to crush the aggressive spirit of fanaticism directed against the South. There can be but two flags, the American organization being out of the question. The contest must turn on the Nebarska bill, the Democrats having accepted that issue. He condemned the one term principle as unwise in theory and practice, and declared his hostility to the doctrine of availability.

Mr. Milson spoke in favor of appropriating $1000 for filling up and grading the ground belonging to the Custom House buildings at Norfolk, Va. He said that humanity and mercy required it, in view of the efforts now making to avoid the recurrence, of yellow fever in that city. The Committee rose.

On motion of Mr. Humphrey Marshall, the Committee on Foreign affairs were instructed to inquire into the expediency of declaring the engagement of American vessels in the Chinese Coolie trade to be illegal, and a sufficient cause of forfeiture to the captors of ships engaged therein.

On motion of Mr. Pringle, it was resolved that the President be requested to communicate what information he may possess in regard to citizens of the United States being engaged in the slave trade, or in transportation in American ships, of Coolies from China to Cuba and other countries, with the intention of placing or confining them in a state of slavery or servitude, &c. Adjourned.

CONNECTICUT ELECTION. — A Hartford dispatch of the 7th, says;

As far as heard from the Democrats have elected 39 Representatives, and the opposition 50. Returns yet to come in are expected to be favorable to the opposition, making the House probably sure, and the Senate doubtful.

There is no election of State officers by the people.

New Haven, 8th.—One hundred and nine town heard from elect 69 opposition and 67 democratic Representatives; 44 towns to be heard from.

RHODE ISLAND ELECTION. — The following is the vote for Governor at the recent election in this State. Hoppin, American Republican, 9,946; Potter, Administration, 7,096; Scattering, 15. Am. Republican majority 2,850.

NORFOLK, April 7.—Schooner Roanoke, on Saturday night, when off the mouth of the Delaware, ran into and sunk schooner Sidney, of Philadelphia. One man was drowned. The steamer was considerably injured.

The schooner Maryland, of New York, was seized in Hampton Roads yesterday and brought into this port, together with the officers and crew. The Captain of the Maryland refused to allow his vessel to be searched for slaves, in compliance with the State law recently passed. Runaway slaves were believed to be on board of her, and a company of militia was sent after her. The Captain and crew are in prison. Great excitement exists here.

It is all under fence, except at the southern end, where there is no fence. Upon it are two or three never failing springs of water, and altogether, no thirty-two acres in the neighborhood can be found, better, or more eligibly situated, than are these. MELANCHOLY DEATH.—The Australia Times of Dec. 3d, printed at Ballarat, appeared in mourning, on account of the death of a number of persons by the burning of the United States Hotel in that town, Adam's & Co's Express office, the Adelphi Theatre, and a number of other buildings, on the 1st of December, involving a loss of about $250,000. At the hotel, several sleeping persons were burned to death, and others had narrow escapes. Among the victims was Albion H. Nichols, landlord of the United States Hotel. He was rescued from the burning building, badly injured, and died the same day. Mr. Nichols went from Boston, and has a widowed mother, a sister and brothers, who reside in Temple street. He was formerly agent of steamer Admiral, and was exceedingly respected at his new home, and his funeral was very largely attended. Rufus Smith, formerly of Boston, was a part owner of the hotel and some of the other buildings burnt. His loss is stated at $30,000, without insurance. He was in partnership with Mr. Nichols and Mr. Moody, a young American.

CORN SPECULATORS BITTEN.—Since the incoming of the corn crop this season, speculators and dealers have been largely engaged in making purchases along the Ohio and Wabash Rivers. They commenced operations at comparatively high figures, and soon the river banks were lined with huge piles of corn in sacks, awaiting shipment, but prices almost immediately declined, and holders in a great measure ceased shipping, as the price in foreign markets would not warrant the cost of transportation. A steamer arrived at Louisville from Henderson last week with one thousand sacks of corn for distillers at Carrollton. It is the first receipt of a purchase by them of about 22,000 bushels of corn. It was bought in Indiana early in the season, and the price paid varied 40 to 42 cents per bushel. Subsequently they proffered the farmers ten cents per bushel to take the corn back, and rescind their contracts, which they of course refused. Other buyers entered more largely into the trade, and very many of them bought corn by the hundred thousand bushels, or agreed to take the entire standing crops of the farmers, anticipating high prices. The market everywhere, as fast as corn began to arrive, declined and prices went down to 25 cents, at which rate speculators are again buying largely.—The crop is a large one. Last season, owing to the drought, it failed, and prices everywhere ran up to 90 cents and $1 per bushel, but from present indications, the Louisville Courier says that there is no likelihood that they will exceed half those rates this season.

G. W. STONE'S

ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little children. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

G. W. STONE'S

LIQUID CATHARTIC,

AND

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually on the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes the habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhœa and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE Machines have long sustained the highest reputation in the United States.

The First Prize—A Gold Medal,

Has recently been awarded to them at the Palace of Industry in Paris, and thus they have the WORLD'S VERDICT OF SUPERIORITY.

The inventor has just added to these superior Machines an improvement whereby they can work on any kind of

FAMILY SEWING,

From a coarse Cotton fabric to the finest Linen Lawns, in such a perfect manner as no other Machine professes.

They will also Bar and close all kinds of Kid Boots and Shoes, and stitch the finest Gaiter Boots in every part without a slip—making them the most desirable for girls to use at home, or for any who wish to do more than one kind of work.

These Machines are warranted to do all kinds of work in a manner far superior to any other machine in use.

They run without noise, with ease to the Operator, and at double the ordinary speed, so that

The greatest Shoe Manufacturing and Clothing Establishment in the country use these Machines exclusively, having tried other Machines and found them entirely unfit for their use.

They are simple, and cost scarcely anything to keep them in repair; and can be operated by a child twelve years old.

THOMAS S. NOWELL,

Colonel Freemont was born in South Carolina—a good State for raising Freesoil Presidential candidates.—Lowell Courier.

Sarah Grimke and Angelina Grimke Weld were also born in South Carolina. Neither they nor Colonel Freemont own slaves, so far as we know, nor do they hunt slaves, or encourage the extension of slavery. — Boston Chronicle.

CORONER'S VERDICT. — The New York papers of the 7th say;

The Coroner's jury upon the bodi s of the persons killed by the burning of the ferry-boat "New Jersey," on the Delaware, returned a verdict last night, in which they declare that the deceased came to their deaths by the inefficiency exhibited by the Inspector, in the dilapidated boiler, and by the negligence of the Directors of the Ferry Company in allowing an unfit and unsafe boat to be employed in transporting passengers, and failing to make suitable provisions for escape in case of emergency.

☞ Hon. N. B. Baker left Concord in the forenoon train, on Monday last, with his family, for the West. The Statesman says:

As papers abroad, at the time it was announced last autumn that Ex-Gov. Baker was about removing hence, and also this week, have been drawing very largely upon their imaginations, it is now a suitable time to remark, that all the statements which represented that large numbers of people would leave Concord with Mr. Baker, to settle in the West, are not warranted by the facts. Last autumn, the number was set as high as one hundred. This week we see it stated that "thirty, from Concord and vicinity" accompanied Gov. Baker. As to the number from the "vicinity" we can not speak, but the number who left Concord did not exceed four.

The only purpose in making this statement, is to show, what is warranted by the facts, that no place is less affected than Concord by the spirit of emigration.

BAD MONEY.—The Washington Star cautions the public against spurious quarter eagles, which have made their appearance in Philadelphia, Baltimore, and other cities.—They are dated 1854, and in point of execution are calculated to deceive, though in color they are as light as brass, as well as deficient in weight. The various shades of color of the genuine coin will assist in the passing of the spurious, but when compared with the genuine the difference in weight is easily perceived. An examination and comparison will cost but little trouble, while it may prevent considerable loss.

The pretence then, that a gold currency is safer from counterfeits, than paper, is not founded in fact.

An interesting suit for freedom has lately been decided in California. Two families of slaves were brought thither in 1851 by their master, who is about to return to Texas, and wished to take them back to that State and slavery. Judge Hayes of the First Judicial District has decided that the colored persons are free, and the former owner cannot take or decoy them back to Texas without making himself liable to punishment as a kidnapper.

LUMBER PROSPECTS.—From the fact of the diminished lumber operations the past winter on the Penobscot waters, as well as in other quarters, and the improbability of all that is cut being got to market, it is thought that the supply here will be limited, particularly choice sorts in the latter part of the season. It is thought that the whole supply for the ensuing season will not reach one hundred and twenty-five millions, which will be a deficiency from the usual amount of about one hundred millions.—Bangor Journal.

Cornelius McAuliffe, a book pedlar, committed suicide at New York on Saturday, by taking essential oil of almonds. The act was thought to have been prompted by a reverse in circumstances and a too free use of intoxicating drinks.

AS SEEN THROUGH ITALIAN SPECTACLES. —An Italian gentleman who recently made the tour of the United States, said on his return, that he would not live there to be owner of them; adding: "What an unhappy people, if their faces express their feelings! I never saw a man in the street that didn't seem uneasy, and walk as if driven; nor scarcely a woman in the house without a care-worn and fidgety air. If I went into an office or counting-room, the man of business handed me the morning papers, and excused himself; and if I dined with him, his abstract looks and hurried eating made me feel as uncomfortable as he appeared."

INSTRUCTIVE VERDICT.—A cause was tried yesterday in the City Court, Brooklyn, before Judge Culver and a Jury, against Thomas Toynbee, for selling liquor on Sunday. Mr. Winslow conducted the case for the City and S. D. Morris (County Judge) for the liquor seller. The defense raised every objection—but the Jury, after a short absence, returned a verdict against the defendant for $800. It is believed a few such verdicts would suppress the Sunday traffic in that city.—N. Y. Tribune.

ROBBERY. — A tin box, containing $43,000 in drafts and notes was taken from the office of Norman Jackson, a bill broker in New York, by a stranger who entered the office on Saturday morning, and sent the boy away on a short errand.

MONTREAL, April 7. — Gas Explosion. — The purifying house of the Montreal Gas Works exploded yesterday morning with great force. Three men were severely burnt, one of them dangerously so.

THE SLAVE TRADE AT HOME.—The New York Journal of Commerce, and Express, of Saturday, had editorial articles calling public attention to the enormities of the Coolie trade, as practiced on board English and American vessels.

The first communication that appeared in the Boston Transcript denouncing this traffic was from a noble-hearted ship master, who has all the high qualities of his class. He was answered, and the Coolie trade defended, by a gentleman whose name rarely meets the public eye except it is connected with some Christian association or organization for church purposes! Thus the vestry justified what the quarter deck pronounced to be cruel and inhuman.

The New York Express has the following remarks:

It is a very remarkable fact,—that while some of these Northern States make so much noise about slavery in the Southern States, we direct little or no attention to the slave trade at our doors—especially that of our ships lawfully engaged in the Coolie trade, or unlawfully sold to be African slavers. It should be the especial business of the purists, who attack others, first to purge themselves, but it is known, and well known,—that it is Northern shipping that are used for slavers on the coast of Africa, and Northern and British shipping mainly engaged in the Coolie trade, which turns out to be about as bad as the African.

The British Government, in abolishing the African slave trade, substituted for it the Coolie trade. We have Chinese slaves now instead of African, not exactly Chinese chattels,—but Chinese redemptionists, Chinese serfs, Chinese peons, &c., &c. For a long time the British shipping monopolized this business—but the demand for Chinese labor in Cuba, and on the West Coast of South America, where African slavery has been abolished, and for which Coolie slavery is about to be substituted, have led our Northern freighting ships largely into the trade.—We do an immense business in Coolie transportation, and sometimes do it horribly,—as in the case of the Boston vessel with its "Calcutta hole" tragedy, noticed some time ago.

The ship Sea Witch was the last vessel named in connection with the trade, as she was lost on the coast of Cuba. The vessel was owned by Howland & Aspinwall, of New York, and is insured for sixty thousand dollars in Wall street. Her voyage has been a tragical one; her captain was murdered—eighty of her human cargo died on the passage, and now the vessel is a total wreck!—Boston Transcript.

LOUIS NAPOLEON IN AMERICA.—The National Intelligencer publishes a communication, which assumes to correct the current misapprehensions in relation to the character of the present Emperor of the French, during his residence in this country. Rev. Charles Stuart, chaplain of the navy, called with other gentlemen on Louis Napoleon immediately on his arrival, not supposing that anything but a mere formal acquaintance would be the result. But the stranger was heavy hearted, and felt the need of a friend, and he so attached himself to Mr. Stuart that a mutual friendship grew up between them. They spent many hours together, and the writer asserts that Louis Napoleon was not, during his residence in America, either intemperate or dissolute in his habits.

This is directly contrary to all the current reports and statements;—and Rev. Mr. Stuart must be a strong man to stop the current.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—In Boston on Tuesday forenoon, Jeremiah Prescott, Esq., Superintendent of the Eastern Railroad, and Henry L. Holland, a clerk of the railroad company, were on their way to Cambridge in a chaise, when on of the wheels of the vehicle caught in the groove of the horse railroad, and capsized the chaise. The horse was by some means thrown down and fell upon Mr. Prescott. With great presence of mind a hack driver, who was near the scene of disaster, seized Mr. Prescott's horse by the head and kept him quiet until he was removed.—Had the horse sprung up Mr. Prescott must have been killed. As it was, it was thought he was dead when he was rescued, but he revived and was conveyed to his house in Somerville. One of his arms was broken, his legs so badly bruised and jammed that he could not use them, and he was otherwise injured. Mr. Holland escaped any serious injury. The horse was a young and spirited animal, and we are told smashed up a vehicle last week.

The Five Cent Savings Bank in Newburyport, has declared a semi-annual dividend of three per cent. This bank is doing a good business, and has now in deposits about fifty thousand dollars.

☞ George W. Hayden, an Englishman, was arrested in New York on the 9th, for robbing Messrs. Ball & Black's Jewelry store, and the whole plunder, $60,000 worth, is recovered. He was about to leave for England.

Rev. Mr. Vermilye, of the Federal street church, has declined to receive an increase upon his salary, which had been voted at the annual meeting of the parish, for this year.—Newburyport Herald.

HISTORY OF INTEMPERANCE.

CHAPTER III.—EXPENSE OF DRINKS.

Nothing more need be said of the quantity; and we propose now to consider the pecuniary cost.

The 34 retail shops and seven taverns, presuming our premises to be correct, realize a gross aggregate profit of $29,520. Estimating the average profits of the nine shops which sell by the gallon, at three hundred dollars each, or $2,700, and the sum total of profit is $32,220 transferred from the pocket of the purchaser to that of the seller. But as both are citizens of the town, money paid from one to the other will not be considered as lost, and the real loss or waste must be found by a different calculation.

In the first place the prime cost of the article, is a total loss; for it will hardly be disputed that it were better the money paid for ardent spirit should be thrown into the sea, than that an article so pernicious should be accepted in exchange. The prime cost of the different kinds of spirit and wine may be 40 cents per gallon, and upon the 82,980 gallons is $33,192. We do not deduct the small quantity of wine, because it may at least be called useless, if not pernicious: let it suffer for being found in bad company; if not evil in itself, it is the occasion of bad example and therefore a prolific source of evil.

To the prime cost must be added the loss of time attending the sale. Thirty-four retailers live by this business; they would turn to some other employment but for the profit of this. Of the other sixteen dealers comprising the gallon men and the taverns, it may be fairly computed that half are supported by the same means, and that their time is occupied in this proportion. This will give us forty-two citizens whose whole time is employed in the business. Estimating their time at one dollar each per day, and excluding Sundays, when indeed some of them do more work than on any other day, and we have $13,146—which added to the loss of the prime cost, gives the sum of $46,338. It is reasonable to calculate that the time lost by the purchasers, including years of the latter part of their lives in which they generally are perfectly useless and very often a burden to society, amounts to double the time lost by the seller. This will add $26,292 to the sum, and make the amount $72,630.

The indirect and incidental loss, by the ruin of the industry of families, the cost of supporting paupers, of executing the laws against transgressors, becoming such through intemperance, and numerous other attendant evils, surpasses the power of imagination to conceive. We do not give these calculations of pecuniary loss as exact, but they are at least correct enough to shew the enormous cost of intemperance to the town, and to give you the shadowy outlines of this monster.

CHAPTER IV.—PAUPERISM AND CRIME.

The next subject of enquiry is, the amount of pauperism and crime to be traced to intemperance. In Dec. 1844, the number of inmates in the Almshouse was 105, viz: 54 males and 51 females. Forty-three of the males and thirty-six of the females were there in consequence of the intemperance either of themselves, or of those whom the law entitles them to look for maintenance. Thus 79, or full three-quarters of the whole number, were reduced by this vice to dependence upon public charity, and only twenty-six, or about one quarter, were the victims of all other evils united.

The out door paupers were 125, of whom 76 are known to have been brought to want by the effects, direct or indirect, of intemperance. The causes of the poverty of the remaining 49 are unknown, but probably many of them can trace their sufferings to the same origin.

There was one committal to jail for crime, the technical offence was burglary, the true sin was intemperance.

The number committed to the house of correction in the same year was twenty-five—all for one, the same offence, namely, public drunkenness.

Such is the brief and true record of the effects of this vice upon pauperism and crime. All the natural evils incident to our race, sink into insignificance when compared with this one evil of our own creation; and it would almost seem that Paradise was again proffered to man, upon the old, original condition, that he should not taste the fruit of one forbidden tree.

☞ Putnam's Monthly, for April, is received from Fetridge & Co., Boston, via J. F. Shores, Jr., of this city. The table of contents embraces 18 articles.

The first is upon Religious Freedom in America—and entirely uses up the exclusive modern claims, for Lord Baltimore, that he was the only friend to religious freedom, or indeed any friend at all. Some of the historical facts cited are very curious.

The second is, How I counted Lulu—in seven tableau; being the bones of a novel, which the reader can cover with laughter or tears, or both by turns.

There is a very good article upon "Popular Songs." An article upon political affairs is entitled "The Real Question," and argues that the troubles in Kansas are but the struggles of slavery and freedom for the mastery, and that the best way to end the dispute is to admit the Territory as a State at once. On the whole, this is a capital number of Putnam. Terms $3 a year, two copies $5; five, $10.

☞ We have received, from the publishers, the Proceedings of the Grand Divisions of the Sons of Temperance, in Canada East, and in the State of New Jersey. Both these bodies passed resolutions in favor of prohibitory laws, and of the best use of existing laws. Both appear earnest and hopeful.

LAND IN ILLINOIS.—In our advertising columns on the 4th page, the reader may see set forth the peculiar advantages, to the emigrants, of lands in Illinois, over those farther west or in other localities; and also the terms of purchase and payment. It is worthy the attention of those bound westward.

LOCAL.

FAST DAY,—A relic of the customs of our Puritan forefathers,—venerable, but in the eye of the public, lightly esteemed. Keep the day—as a day of humiliation and self scrutiny—as a day of rest from toil—a day of trust and thought—of any thing rather than pernicious, enfeebling and belittling dissipation.

☞ Publishers of daily papers generally keep Fast Day, so far as to abstain from labor on that day; and thus omit one publication. The Daily Chronicle will not be issued on Friday.

☞ Prof. Clark, the accomplished Organist of the North Church, and a successful and diligent teacher of music, is to give a Concert in that Church this evening, which has unusual claims on the attention and patronage of the musical public.

Great attention and labor have been bestowed on the preparation and rehearsal of the music, and some novelties have been introduced. The Storm Piece, as rehearsed last evening, is an attractive feature, worth more than the price of admission.

SOCIAL ASSEMBLY, THIS EVENING.—Mr. Lamprey will give a grand social assembly at Congress Hall on Fast night (Thursday) April 10th. Mr. Knight of Newburyport, will play the Bugle and Cornet. Tickets one dollar, to be had of Mr. Lamprey and at the door.

☞ Minute Guns were fired at the Navy Yard on Wednesday, in honor of Com. McKeever, recently deceased. Those fired on Saturday last were for Com. Conner.

Work will not be suspended at the Yard today. This is the first instance within our recollection, that work went on at the Navy Yard, on Fast day, either in New Hampshire or Maine.

☞ On Friday April 11th, and on Monday April 14th, the train on the P. & C. Railroad will leave Portsmouth at 7. 20 A. M., in order to accommodate persons desirous of attending the Court at Exeter.

☞ The weekly Chronicle & Phœnix, for the week ending April 12, will contain, republished, in full, the Statistics of Intemperance in Portsmouth, prepared a few years since, and eminently worthy of a re-perusal at the present time.—The closing appeals, the resolutions, and some remarks of our own, are deferred to the next paper.

☞ It gives us much pleasure to observe, by articles in the Boston papers, that Miss Abby C. Plumer, formerly of this city, has been well received in Boston as a singer—having creditably sustained prominent parts at secular and sacred concerts, given under the direction of Mr. Bruce, the well-known music teacher, and chorister at Bowdoin Street Church. The Courier says that Miss Plummer and others, "acquitted themselves with much credit in their different solos."

☞ Hunt's Merchant's Magazine, for April, contains 6 Articles, besides its usual large mass of statistical and other information.

The Articles are:

I. Improved Condition of Labor,—a valuable essay, by Geo. M. Weston of Maine. II. Commerce and Resources of Australia. III. The Foreign Commerce of Russia in 1854. IV. Guano, and the Guano Trade. V. Commerce of the United States. VI. Statistics of the Guano Trade.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT SOUTH FRAMINGHAM.—The Depot, Machine-Shop, &c., Destroyed.—We learn from Leonard's Express that at about 1 o'clock Tuesday morning the depot buildings at South Framingham, on the Boston and Worcester Railroad, were entirely destroyed by fire, with all their surroundings. A new machine-shop, in which was a stationsteam engine, with wood sheds and about six hundred cords of wood, were burned. The wind blowing from the north, the hotel and other buildings in the vicinity were saved without difficulty. The trains this morning have not been delayed, but the Express mail train from New York, due in this city about two o'clock A. M., was detained between two and three hours. The loss cannot fall much short of $10,000.—Boston Trans.

PORTLAND, April 8.—Municipal Election.—At our city election to-day, James T. McCobb (liberal) was elected Mayor by a vote of 2115, against Mr. Willis, (Republican) who had 1837. Six liberal Aldermen and one republican, have been elected; 20 liberal Councilmen; republican, none; undecided, one.

NEW HAVEN, April 8.—Connecticut Election.—We have returns for representatives from all the towns in the State but Hartland. Result:—Administration 99: opposition 127. Opposition majority 28. The Senate stands, eleven opposition majority, without Cutler, who is believed to be elected. Whole number of Senators 21. The democrats give up the State. The vote is one of the largest ever cast in this State, and was hotly contested.

NEW YORK, April 8.—The Slaver Falmouth Condemned.—In the District Court today, Judge Ingersoll ordered that the schooner Falmouth, seized as a slaver, be condemned and sold, together with her cargo. No claim for her was put forward on behalf of any party.

CONGRESS.

TUESDAY, April 8.

SENATE.—The bill remitting duties on merchandize destroyed by fire was passed.

Mr. Sumner introduced a supplementary act, to limit the liabilities of ship-owners; and Mr. Mason, a bill making further provisions for the satisfaction of Virginia land warrants.

Mr. Geyer resumed his remarks on the Kansas question, and expressed the opinion that, had it not been for the Emigrant Aid Societies, Kansas would be a free State.

Mr. Seward obtained the floor, and the Senate Adjourned.

Mr. Hughston argued against the extension of slavery.

Mr. Waldron earnestly condemned the violation of the Missouri restriction.

Mr. Boyce argued that Great Britain had violated our neutrality in the enlistment case. Adjourned.

OUTRAGE IN KINGSTON, R. I.—We learn from the Providence Journal that on Thursday evening last a brutal attack was made upon Mr. Elisha D. Perce, of North Kingston, by an Irishman named John Harryton, to whom he had given lodgings for the night upon his hayloft. During the night the Irishman raised the cry of fire, and Mr. Pierce rushed out to the barn, followed by Mr. John Wilcox and Andrew Magoon. No fire was found, and upon interrogating the Irishman he stabbed Mr. Pierce in the face and side several times, inflicting bad wounds. He also stabbed Mr. Wilcox in the side, and dealt Mr. Magoon a powerful kick in the stomach, throwing him several yards. Harryton was secured and examined before a justice, and bound over for trial. He says he arrived at Boston about a week since from Liverpool.

SUICIDE.—A widow lady in Byfield, near the Rowley line, named Pearson, aged about 60 years, hung herself with a skein of yarn, on Saturday morning. She had been low spirited for a few days, but no cause is assigned for the act.—Newburyport Herald.

MONTREAL, April 8.—The weather here is quite warm, and the ice opposite the city is giving indications of soon breaking up. The river is open from Three Rivers to Quebec. Also above Prescott.

G. W. STONE'S

Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal. It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have used it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 25 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company
IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL
OF
FARMING LANDS,
In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credit, at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the produce of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population and transportation, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A team with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2 50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1 50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, roads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses, the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which has to be borne by the settler, in the reduced price of their products; and to this extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially as the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the other annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's commutation, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the other annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's commutation, &c. Contracts for Deeds will be received for lands.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere on the Road, $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the meantime, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the costs of farming, including price of land, breaking, harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

WASHINGTON'S TOMB.

MT. VERNON, March 14, 1856.

To Mrs. Maria S. Wofford:—Madame—I have received your letter of March 6th, respecting the purchase of Mount Vernon by the ladies of different parts of the United States.

In reply, I respectfully inform you that Mt. Vernon is not for sale.

I am, most respectfully, your obedient servant, JOHN A. WASHINGTON.

The Virginia papers, in answer to this epistle, publish the official correspondence between Mr. Washington and Gov. Johnson, of Virginia, that took place last year, in which the former offered "200 acres of Mt. Vernon, embracing the tomb of Washington, mansion, gardens, grounds," etc., for $200,000, to the State of Virginia, and named the terms of payment and other details, and closing with this additional proposition:

It has sometimes been suggested that the State might wish to purchase a larger tract of land, in order to establish a model farm and agricultural school here. Should such be the case, about 800 acres more of adjacent land on this estate can be obtained at $100,000, to be paid in cash or State stock, as above, at the option of the State.

I am, sir, with the utmost respect,
Your obedient servant,
JOHN A. WASHINGTON.

The Petersburg (Va.) Express publishes the South Carolina letter of Mr. Washington, with these comments:

For some time past, unfavorable suspicions of Mr. Washington's good faith in the matter of the purchase have been whispered about, and the exorbitant nature of his original demand, of two hundred thousand dollars for a piece of property whose market value cannot exceed one-tenth of that amount, lent some probability to the suggestion that he was disposed to make the most of the sacred ashes entrusted to his keeping. Can it be possible that he designs at this moment to recede from his quasi contract to dispose of the land, with a view of fixing a yet higher price upon it, and drawing still more largely upon the patriotism of the country, now likely to be stimulated into unwonted fervor by the glowing eloquence of Edward Everett?

We cannot believe this of any man bearing the name of Washington, and in any degree, however remotely, related to Pater Patriæ.

A Washington Correspondent of the Boston Telegraph, shows up this Mr. John A. Washington in not a very enviable light. It says, "he is descended from the family of Lady Washington, and is not a blood relation to him whose estate he has inheirited."

It is a pity that something cannot be done to rescue Mt. Vernon from the decay into which it is falling, or rather has fell. Its present proprietor is an "F. F. V.," (first family of Virginia) of the first water, which is to say that he is too poor to keep his plantation in repair, and too proud to sell off one portion of it to keep up the rest; too poor to emancipate, fit out and colonise any of his negroes, and too proud to sell them; too proud to enter into any business except politics, for which he is not fitted. The natural consequence will be that finally he will be sold out at auction unless he resorts to some means to reimburse his disordered finances. A considerable income is now derived from the exhibition of the tomb, as the steamboats that ply between Mt. Vernon and the city are obliged to pay to the estate 50 cents for every person they land there. The tomb of Washington is the Mecca toward which every patriot turns; so immense numbers visit the spot every season, and the income is accordingly large.

To this exaction of tribute, great objection is made, and the cry of speculation is raised: we see no objection to a sufficient sum being raised in this way to keep up the necessary repairs: But the repairs are not kept up!—The wharf has fallen to peices; the once smooth lawns are encroached upon by the underbrush; the fine breeds of cattle are running out; even the tomb itself is crumbling away. What is done with the capitation tax? Horace Greeley was there the other day and said of the place in a letter to the Tribune, that nothing looked thriving but the large number of black slave children, whom he doubted not were destined for the Southern market. Can it be that the home of Washington, whither he retired for relief from his arduous service in the wars of his country and at the helm of State; can it be that this spot that should be held sacred as the shrine of that liberty that Washington won for us; can it be that this of all places has become a slave breeding establishment? Let us hope for better things.

Fishing, from small boats, on the ledges and sands near the mouth of the Merrimac, has not been so successful for twenty years, as the last season. Three of the boats from the south-end, having practiced fishermen, have made $450 each. Where the whole capital required for the business is not more than forty dollars, $225 to a man, in four months, where they are not employed more than half the time, is very fair pay. There were others of course of less energy, less skill, and less experienced, as in all kinds of business, who did not make so much; but all have been well paid; the fish have been plenty, and the prices high. Since shoe making has been introduced so generally, the number of winter fishermen has fallen off, and where there were 60 or 70 boats, there are not more than 15 or 20.—Newburyport Herald.

SATURDAY, APRIL 12, 1856.

MR. SHORTER'S SPEECH.

In the House of Representatives, at Washington, on Wednesday, Mr. Shorter of Alabama made a speech, contending that Massachusetts, by her conduct relative to the Fugitive Slave Law, has placed herself outside the Constitution, and ought not to be represented in Congress. The South, he said, had been victimised every time a compromise had been made, and he, therefore, hoped no further compromises would be made with the North.

"Mr. Shorter said not only Alabama, but every Southern State, is resolved, that should the government fail to protect them in their constitutional rights, they will take the remedy into their own hands. They will stand on the Georgia platform. If the Democratic party, which is the true exponent of State rights principles, should triumph in the Presidential election, the Union will be saved.—But if Black Republicanism prevails, the history of our Confederacy will have been written. The only way to preserve the Union is for the true conservative men of the North, now represented by the sound national Democracy, to unite with the South and wage unceasing war on the fanatics, who would tear down the pillars of our Republic."

By the pillars of the republic, he means slavery and the props which have been built around it to keep liberty from making any further progress.

Gov. Cobb, in his speech in New Hampshire, told us very plainly what his Georgia platform was,—viz. that if New Hampshire would choose Mr. Wells for Governor, and thereby sustain the institution, as a National and Religious obligation, then Georgia would stay the Union—but if not,—"then where's your Union?"

Georgia has not gone, however; which shows that Gov. Cobb was rather fast in his talk. Possibly Mr. Shorter is rather too short and sudden, when he undertakes to speak for every Southern State. The sober second thought of the good people at the South, as well as at the North, is sometimes, and we believe generally, quite a different thing from gaseous talk, like that of Shorter.

B. P. Shillaber, Esq., (Mrs. Partington) has bidden the Boston Post farewell, and will be hereafter engaged in the office of the Saturday Evening Gazette, one of the most popular and largely circulated of the Boston weekly journals. This arrangement will add to the high reputation of the Gazette, and be more in accordance with Mrs. Partington's tastes than the routine incident to a daily political newspaper. We copy the following from the Post.

FAREWELL—BY WIDESWARTH.

Farewell to thee, my Post!—'tis a long time
Since thou and I brought our two heads together—
Since first I launched my little bark of rhyme,
To sport along cheered by the summer weather!
We have been friends — we still are friends—old Post,
The tie is all unbroken, though we sever;
And even now my heart regards thee most,
Just when we separate, perhaps forever!
Again farewell! and should my fortune prove
A fatal chapter in a dismal story,
May some kind hand, imbued with olden love,
Carve on the Post some brief memento mori—
Some little tribute to the spirit fled;—
But just remember—I am not yet dead.

"Wideswarth," with a tear in his eye, dropped the above and the tear into our lap yesterday evening, and left our office for that of the Evening Gazette, via Saunders's patent railway. But to be serious, Mr. Shillaber, alias "Wideswarth," alias "Mrs. Partington," has been associated with the Post for several years, and we trust the connection has proved as agreeable to him as it certainly has to our readers and to ourselves. As a writer, reporter and lecturer, he has won honorable distinction, and we congratulate our neighbors of the Gazette upon the occasion which adds to their corps so valuable an auxiliary. His duties on a weekly paper will be more congenial with his tastes than the rough and tumble business of a daily journal, and afford him that desired opportunity for literary labor in another sphere which he could not enjoy in an establishment like the one from which he has just taken his leave. We wish him all the happiness and prosperity his kind disposition, strict integrity, and rare ability so fully merit.—Post.

The compositors of the Post, for the purpose of testifying their esteem and regard for one who has been connected with that journal for upwards of fourteen years, surprised Mr. Shillaber by presenting him with an elegant silver goblet, bearing an appropriate inscription. The presentation speech was made by Mr. W. H. Gill, the senior of their number. Mr. Shillaber, who was much affected at first by this evidence of good feeling, responded in an appropriate manner. The occasion was a most interesting one and creditable to both parties.—Boston Gazette.

☞ The Maine Legislature has adjourned. The Address for the removal of Judge Davis, passed both branches on Wednesday! In the Senate, the vote was twenty-five to three; in the House, 80 to 61.

CONGRESS

WEDNESDAY, April 9.

In the Senate, this morning, several bills from the Court of Claims, making appropriations for the payment of certain claims therein named, were passed.

The discussion on the Kansas memorial was resumed.

Mr. Butler opposed the motion to print, on the ground that, being arrogant in its language, to permit it would be a violation of the rules of the Senate. He had no objections, he said, to Kansas coming into the Union, either as a free or as a slave State, but he wanted her to enter honestly through the gate; and not by climbing over the wall, or creeping under it.

Mr. Mason thought the memorial ought not to have been received at all, and should now move to lay it on the table.

Mr. Seward desiring to be heard on the main question, the subject was postponed, and the special order resumed.

MR. SEWARD ON KANSAS.

Mr. Seward then took the floor, and went into an extended review of the whole Kansas difficulties. He first considered the peculiar relations of Kansas to the Union, and the pledges given by Congress, when the territory was organized, that the people there should be left free to establish or exclude slavery, as they should decide for themselves, under the protection of the United States.

Mr. Seward recapitulated the acts of the Border Ruffians and their usurping Legislature, and proceeds: These high-handed transactions were consummated with the express purpose of establishing African slavery as a permanent institution within the territory by force, in violation of the natural rights of the people, guaranteed to them by the Congress of the United States. The President of the United States has been an accessory to these political transactions, with full complicity in regard to the purpose for which they were committed. He has adopted the usurpation and made it his own, and he is now maintaining it with the military arms of the Republic.

Thus Kansas has been revolutionized, and she now lies subjugated and prostrate at the foot of the President of the United States, while he, through the agency of a foreign tyranny established within her boders, is forcibly introducing and establishing slavery there, in contempt and defiance of the organic law. These extraordinary transactions have been attended by civil commotions, in which property, life and liberty have been exposed to violence;—and these commotions still therein not only the territory itself, but also the adjacent States, with the calamities and disgrace of civil war. I am fully aware of the gravity of the charges against the President of the United States, which this statemrnt of the condition and relations of Kansas imports. I shall proceed without fear and without reserve, to make them good.

The maxim that a sacred veil must be drawn over the beginning of all governments, does not hold under our system. I shall first call the accuser into the presence of the Senate, then examine the defences which the President has made, and lastly submit the evidences by which he is convicted. The people of Kansas know whether these charges are true or false. They have adopted them, and on the ground of the high political necessity which the wrongs they have endured and are yet enduring, and the dangers through which they have already passed, and the perils to which they are yet exposed, have created, they have provisionally organized themselves as a State, is now here by its two chosen Senators and one Representative, standing outside the doors of Congress, applying to be admitted into the Union as a means of relief indispensable for the purpose of peace, freedom, and safety.—Sir, this new State is the President's new accuser. The President of the United States, without waiting for the appearance of his accuser at the Capitol, anticipated the accusations, and submitted his defence against them to Congress. Mr. S. then examined the President's annual message of December 30, 1855, and his special message of the 24th of January 1856, commenting with great severity upon the statements therein put forth, and contrasting them with the historical facts as recorded and verified in many instances by the President's own friends. He defended the Northern States against the charges of the President, that they were sectional agitators, and enemies to the Constitution, and closes this part of his speech as follows:

"I challenge the President to the proof in behalf of Massachusetts, although I have only the interest common to all Americans, and to all men in her good fame. What one corporate or social evil is there of which he is conscious, and conscious also of inability to heal it? Is it ignorance, prejudice, bigotry, vice, crime, public disorder, poverty, or disease, afflicting the minds of the bodies of her people? There she stands. Survey her Universities, Colleges, Academies, Observatories, Primary Schools, Sunday Schools, penal codes and penitentiaries. Descend into her quarries, walk over her fields and through her gardens, observe her manufactories of a thousand various fabrics; watch her steamers ascending every inlet and river on your own coast, and her ships displaying their canvass on every sea; follow her in their adventurous voyages from her own adjacent bays to the icy ocean under either pole, and then return and enter her hospitals, which cure or relieve humanity in every condition and at every period of life, from the lying-in to the second childhood, and which not only restore sight, hearing to the deaf and speech to the dumb, but also bring back wandering reason to the insane, and teach even the idiot to think.

Massachusetts, sir, is a model of States, worthy of all honor, and though she was most conspicuous of all the States in the establishment of Republican institutions, here she is more conspicuous for the municipal wisdom with which she made them contribute to the welfare of her people, and to the greatness of the Republic itself. In behalf of New York, for whom it is my right and duty to speak, I defy the Presidential accuser. Mark her tranquil magnanimity, which becomes a State for whose delivery from tyranny Schuyler devised and labored, who received her political constitution from Hamilton; her intellectual and physical development from Clinton, and her lessons in humanity from Jay. As she waves her wand over the continent, trade forsakes the broad natural channels which conveyed it before to the Delaware and Chesapeake bays, and to the Gulfs of St. Lawrence and Mexico, and obediently to her command pours itself through her artificial channels into her own once obscure seaport. She stretches her wand again, toward the ocean, and the commerce of all the continents concentrates itself at her feet, and with it strong and full floods of immigration ride in, contributing labor, capital, art, valor and enterprise, to perfect and embellish our ever widening empire.

When and on what occasion has Massachusetts or New-York officially and illegally intruded herself within the jurisdiction of sister states to modify their institutions? No! no, sir! Their faults have been quite different.—They have conceded too often and too much for their own just dignity and influence in federal administration to the querulous complaints of the states in whose behalf he arraigns them. I thank the President for the insult which, though so deeply unjust, was, perhaps, needful to arouse them to their duty in this great emergency. Mr. Seward then defended at much length the doings of the Kansas Aid societies, and justified their efforts, and those of the Kansas settlers, to keep slavery out of the territory. He attacked the President with much severity for his complicity with the border ruffians, and in a paraphrase of the Declaration of American Independence, impeached him as a tyrant whose usurpations and oppressions, if suffered to go unredressed, the Senate would make its own. The inconsistency of those who cry out against the agitation of the slavery question at the very moment when they are striving to plant slavery in territory now free, was next commented on, and Mr. S. closed his speech in the following words:

"He who found a river in his path and sat down for the flood to pass away, was not more unwise than he who expects the agitation of slavery to cease while the love of freedom animates the bosom of mankind. The solemnity of the occasion draws over our heads that cloud of disunion which always arises whenever the subject is agitated. Still the debate goes on more ardently, earnestly and angrily than ever before. It employs now not merely logic, reproach, menace, retort and defiance, but sabres, rifles and cannon.

Do you look through this incipient war quite to the end, and see there peace, quiet and harmony on the subject of slavery? If so, pray enlighten me and show me how long the way is that leads to that repose. The free states are loyal, and they will always remain so. Their foothold on this continent is firm and sure. Their ability to maintain themselves under the present Constitution is established. The slave states have also been loyal hitherto, and I hope and trust they may ever remain so. But if disunion could ever come, it would come in the form of a secession of the slave-holding states, and it would come then when the slave holding power, which is already firmly established on the Gulf of Mexico, and extends a thousand miles northward along both banks of the Mississippi, should have fixed its grappling irons upon the foundations of the Rocky Mountains and the shores of the Missouri;—then that power would either be intolerably supreme in this Republic, or it would strike for independence or exclusive dominion. Then the free states and slave states of the Atlantic, divided and warring with each other, would disgust the free states of the Pacific; and they would have abundant cause and justification for withdrawing from a Union productive no longer of peace and safety and liberty to themselves, and no longer holding up the cherished hopes of mankind.

Mr. President, the Continental Congress of 1789, on resigning the trust which it had discharged with signal fidelity, into the hands of the authorities elected under the new Constitution, and on taking leave of their constituents, addressed to the people of the United States this memorable injunction:—"Let it never be forgotten that the cause of the United States has always been the cause of human nature." Let us recall that precious monition; let us examine the ways which we have pursued hitherto, under the light thrown upon them by that instruction. We shall find in doing so that we have forgotten moral right in the pursuit of material greatness, and we shall cease henceforth from practising upon ourselves the miserable delusion that we can safely extend empire when we shall have become reckless of the obligations of eternal justice, and faithless to the interests of universal freedom."

After Mr. Seward's speech, Mr. Clay obtained the floor, and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—The Deficiency Appropriation bills were discussed.

The Senate's amendments, appropriating $50,000 for engraving maps and drawings were discussed. An ineffectual effort was made to confine the appropriation within proper limits, excluding illustrations fitted only to adorn books of travel and natural history. The amendment to that effect was rejected, and the House adjourned.

THURSDAY, April 10.

SENATE—The question of printing the Kansas Memorial was discussed.

The Chair decided that the motion to print must go to the Printing Committee.

Mr. Benjamin believed the document to be an impudent forgery.

Mr. Rusk did not believe the memorial had ever seen Kansas.

Mr. Cass said that within a few minutes, he had had an interview with persons who handed him the memorial to present, and it was only necessary for him to say that he was not satisfied the paper was one which ought to be acted upon by the Senate.

Mr. Hale said, if he was satisfied, the paper was not genuine, he would be the last one to take any advantage.

Mr. Seward in reply to several Senators who essayed to involve him in the alleged fraud regarding the memorial, said he had seen the gentleman who had handed the paper to Mr. Cass for presentation, Col. Lane, who authorized him to say that before he left Kansas, he saw a paper, he did not say the identical paper in chirography, but he saw a memorial of which this is the substance and text, signed by all the members of the Kansas provisional legislature and this is a true copy.

Mr. Mason said no one stood up to vindicate Mr. Lane as a fair and honorable man.

The vote by which the memorial was referred to the Committee on Territories, was reconsidered by the following vote—yeas 32; nays 3.

The memorial being thus brought again before the Senate, Mr. Cass asked and obtained leave to withdraw it, and to return the same to Col. Lane. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House engaged on the contested seat of one of the Illinois delegation, and the resolution was adopted—only 5 in opposition, declaring Samuel S. Marshall, sitting member from the Ninth District of Ill., duly elected over Mr. Turner.

Both Mr. Fourke and Mr. Turner were allowed mileage per diem to date.

Adjourned.

EXETER, FRIDAY, April 11.

Wednesday was mostly spent in the discussion of law questions. Cases No. 19, F. T. Pickering v. J. A. Pickering, and No. 20, F. T. Pickering v. J. A. Pickering and J. B. Pickering, were placed on trial, but afterwards taken from the jury and continued.

Case No. 22, J. W. Tappan v. N. Tappan, J. L. Tappan and G. S. Tappan, was then then commenced, and is still on trial.

☞ Prof. Clark's Concert of Sacred Music, on the evening of Fast Day, at the North Church, was attended by a genteel and tasteful audience, as numerous as can generally be collected here for a sacred Concert. The performances of the Choir and Organist were worthy of the conductor's previous reputation and his careful training of the singers. The storm piece was much admired. The pulpit exercises were appropriate, brief, and well received.

☞ Mr. Amos Abbott, the faithful and vigilant City Missionary, is to leave his occupation in Portsmouth, on the 25th of the present month, and repair to Andover, Mass, there, (Deo Volente,) to spend a year in study and preparation, and then to go out to India, his former field, as a Missionary of the American Board, under whose patronage he is to engage in these studies preparatory to his ordination as a missionary preacher.

His preparation, in a knowledge of Eastern Languages and Manners, which he acquired in early life, is especially valuable in his prospective employment.

We are not able to say exactly what will be done, in the way of providing a successor in the City Mission.

☞ The small one story building in the rear of Mr. Gregory's Daguerreotype Room, got on fire on Thursday afternoon, from some defect in the chimney. Had it not been discovered and extinguished before making much headway, a destructive conflagration must have ensued, there being a high wind at the time.

☞ To accommodate persons attending Court at Exeter, the first train on the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad, on Monday morning, will leave Portsmouth at six o'clk; and not at 7:20, as previously announced.

We have returns from every town in the State for Governor. The whole vote is 66,600, the largest vote ever cast in the State.—Ingham, the Democratic candidate for Governor, lacks 1554 of an election by the people. The House stands 104 Democrats to 127 opposition, one to hear from. The Senate—9 Democrats to 12 opposition. The American state ticket will be elected by the Legislature on joint ballot. The Legislature will be strongly anti-Nebraska.

This Legislature, now chosen, will also elect a Senator to Congress, in place of Mr. Toncey, whose term expires next March.

ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous nostrums advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the north-east, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to 8 feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water-courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. At a cost equal the purchase of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not such inviting investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is for at least every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the interest must be paid annually in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and sleeping room, and one dairy, complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to place himself in a position before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. If it has been required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known individuals, in the immediate vicinity of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally, by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

For the Chronicle.

MODERN SCHOOL FOR THE PIANO FORTE, is the title of a new work published by Nathan Richardson, Boston, which well deserves the extensive popularity which it has already acquired. I have recently examined it, and can conscientiously recommend it as the best thing of the kind I have ever met with. It contains many of the most valuable suggestions of Thalberg, Liszt, Dreyschock, and others of equal celebrity. The arrangement of exercises is such as to enable the pupil who will follow them carefully through, to execute the most difficult compositions. Aside from the regular exercises, are anatomical descriptions of the bones, muscles, and ligaments of the hand, which alone are worth more for giving the learner a correct idea of practice, than all the instruction books heretofore published. Another new feature in this work, is a practical course of modulations in all the major and minor keys, particularly useful to those who intend becoming organists, or extempore performers. I look upon Mr. Richardson as a benefactor, in presenting so valuable a work to the musical public. With the use of it, under the guidance of competent teachers, students cannot fail of becoming excellent performers. P.

RESIGNATION.—Rev. John Pierpont, who has been settled for the past seven years over the Unitarian Society in Medford, Mass., has resigned his pastoral charge of that pulpit, and on Sunday preached his farewell sermon. His text was from 1st Thessalonians, 5th chapter, 23d verse: "And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless, unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ." Mr. Pierpont has labored zealously to establish the freedom of the pulpit, and he thanked the society for having left him unfettered in this respect during his ministration with them, and earnestly entreated them to allow his successors the same privilege. He is now 71 years of age, and retires from the society with the good wishes of all its members and of the citizens of Medford, where he is still to continue his residence, and we trust to enjoy many years of peace and happiness among them.—Boston Transcript.

LIQUOR SEIZURE.—Five casks of liquor were seized on complaint in due course of law by Dept. Sheriff Holt, at South Keene, one day last week. The casks were left at the Depot in South Keene, and were marked "W. W. Burto." A fictitious name without doubt. The owner of the liquor is not known. We understand that liquor has been left at the same place before, and with the same marks and brands, and has been carried away in the night, in a lumber wagon, drawn by a white-faced old mare, driven by an individual unknown to the Depot Master.

The liquor is deposited at the Town Agency for safe keeping, and will be put through a course of law whether Mr. Burto appears or not.—Keene Sentinel.

GIFT ENTERPRISE OPERATORS CONVICTED.—The Grand Jury, at Dover, N. H., lately found three indictments against Albert J. Hildreth and Charles P. Lord, of Lowell, for disposing of books with prize gifts, in violation of the statute prohibiting lotteries, and the court fined them $100—Exchange.

The Lowell Citizen says:

The above statement is entirely incorrect.—Mr. Lord was discharged, and Mr. Hildreth settled, at the solicitation of the parties who got up the prosecution, by paying the costs, and the case never came before a higher court, to which the defendants were ordered to appear.

The ice which has floated past the city for the past two days, is all dammed up between Van Wie's point and "Nine Mile tree." The ice is very stout in the vicinity of Hudson.—On Saturday a drove of sixty oxen crossed at Oak Hill.—Albany Knickerbocker.

A MAN BURNT TO DEATH.—On Monday morning, about 1 o'clock, the watch-house of the town of East Cambridge, Mass. was discovered to be on fire, and it was consumed.—The worst part of the story is that the fire, it is supposed, commenced in the cell of an Irishman who had been arrested for drunkenness several hours before, and when discovered had attained such headway that all attempts to save the unfortunate man were vain, though his cries for help were heard for some time.

NORTH RIVER STEAMBOATS.—There are to be three daily steamboat lines between New York and Albany this season, and one between New York and Troy. All these, in competition with two or three lines of railroad, may be expected to accommodate the travelling public at a fair price in money.—How much human life is to be thrown in, time only can tell.—Boston Chronicle.

Two Germans who were scuffling in a lager beer brewery at Williamsburg, fell into a vat of hot beer, and were so dreadfully scalded that their recovery is doubtful.

FIRE.—The State House of Louisiana, at Baton Rouge, took fire March 13, but the flames were speedily checked, although much damage was done to furniture, &c., by water.

LIQUOR AGENCIES.

Messrs. Editors:—It would give me great pleasure to give our excellent prohibitory law a thorough examination in your columns.—For want of time for that I will try to select one feature of it that has been the mark for much obloquy, and that is the Agency system.

Were it necessary to consign to oblivion those arts to which alcoholic liquors are indispensable, or to submit to the scourge of intemperance—nay to consign to the grave all those whose lives could be saved only by them, or see this curse bring to a drunkard's grave generation after generation of our kindred, our minds should soon be made up to sacrifice everything to rid us of the bane.—But this is not necessary. The sale of such alcoholic preparations as are necessary for medicine and the arts, can be so regulated as to produce so little harm that the physician is justified in demanding them, and the friends of temperance ought to yield.

Of course they must be sold by authorized persons only. There is then a choice of two ways; to let a suitable man conduct it on his own responsibility, with his own capital, to repay himself with the profits, or to establish town agencies. The last is the best every way. It is said that the town should not enter on commercial speculations. Why not? Because they are best when conducted by individual enterprise. What if they are?—Grant that an individual could make more by a grog-shop, than the town by an agency, does that settle the question? We have decided that the business must not be open to competition: shall it be a monopoly to be managed for one man's benefit or a town matter?

True the town cannot make so much: well the town does not wish to make money that way. But there is this in it; as the agent has a fixed salary, he has no inducement to make large sales. As it is nothing to him at what prices the liquors are bought, he has no motive to procure cheap and adulterated kinds. If he is dishonest, he can steal money easier than make it by the sale of bad articles, and more safely.

The rum trade has a particular indignation at town agencies, because they interfere with its ill-gotten gains. A typhoid case where a pint of brandy a day was necessary to save a valuable life, was always a great comfort to these wicked souls, whose ordinary doings were evil, and only evil, and that continually; and thus would keep its memory green if possible, till another occurred. But now all opportunities of usefulness are departed forever, and when they would do good, evil is present with them. Add to this, they lose the profits on selling flavored corn-alcohol for brandy distilled from wine. Hence the Town Agency never will be without its enemies as long as the illegal traffic lives.

But towns are not obliged to establish agencies, for if the selectmen refuse to do so there is no penalty for it. Or if they appointed an agent they could give him a dollar salary or order him to make one pint last him the whole year. A very drunken town near me has had no Agency the past year, and no one has complained of the neglect.

Again much depends on the instructions of Agents as to the effects of the agencies. No other medicinal spirits for internal use ought to be provided but the best brandy and the strongest alcohol. Wine, forsooth! green indeed must your doctor be if he hopes to buy real wine in these parts. The patient who needs wine can hope nothing better than a preparation of alcohol compounded to suit his case. For external use it is obvious that a coarse, strong article, made totally unpalatable would be sufficient. To whom shall these be sold? I answer none of them to drunkards. Very few need alcohol for mechanical purposes, and any case demanding such medicines needs also medical advice. But it belongs to the selectmen to adapt these principles to their respective towns, and herein lies one excellence of the law.

Upon the whole then I do not see any improvement of which the seventh and eighth sections of the law are susceptible, except to change shall into may, and say that the selectmen may appoint an agent, &c.

It should not be forgotten, as it has been in some places, that the agent is to report at town meeting, and I would suggest whether a monthly report of the number of sales, and the names of purchasers, and the uses for which purchased, might not be printed and circulated with great advantage. I would like to hear the report of some town that had tried this measure.

Thus I have tried to refute all objections I have ever heard raised against this provision of the law. If any one knows any valid objection that I have left untouched I hope he will send it to the Chronicle, and that you will give it a place there. And as to the other provisions of the law, I hope some person of more leisure, and more ability, may be stimulated by these lines to give them a candid examination in your paper.

Yours truly, WINNIPISIOGEE.

THE DETECTED JEWEL ROBBER, at New York, is George W. Hayden, an Englishman, 22 years of age, who had been in the employ of Messrs. Ball, Black & Co. two years, and was considered perfectly honest. He asked permission of one of the firm a few days since, to sleep in the store, which was refused. During the last three nights he had managed to stay, contrary to instructions. He was in the clock department, and attended principally to the outdoor business, putting up clocks, &c. When he engaged with Ball, Black & Co., he left $800 on deposit with them, but lately has drawn the amount of these funds down to $500, and a few days back made a final draft of the balance. He made application Tuesday morning for a ticket to leave New York by the steamer for Europe, but was refused on account of his suspicious demeanor. Six other clerks were in the habit of sleeping in the store—three up stairs and three down—and on rising Tuesday morning found the goods missing from the cases and the store door unlocked. The stolen articles consisted principally of light goods, such as necklaces, brooches, ear-rings, finger-rings, &c., which could be easily conveyed about the person.

During the early part of Monday evening, Hayden invited his fellow clerks to join him a some claret, which they declined on account of its peculiarly bitter taste. The bottle was found after the robbery, and on examination the wine proved to be heavily drugged with laudanum, which was doubtless intended to stupefy the clerks. There is no escape for such fellows, little or big, and they might as well give it up before they try.

FIRE.—In Boston, on Saturday afternoon, the extensive five story building known as Gerrish Market, fronting on Portland, Sudbury and Friend streets, took fire in the attic about 1 o'clock, and the whole upper portion of the building was very soon a mass of flames, which raged till the building, with most of its contents, was destroyed.

The upper stories were used for mechanical purposes.

The printing office and book-bindery of Sanborn, Carter & Bazin, were totally destroyed—heavy loss, partly insured. Their hands, 60 in number had a narrow escape.

Boyle's sewing machine rooms, employing about 100 girls, entirely destroyed; Barnard & Dillingham, chair painters, also burnt out.

A large portion of the end wall on Friend street, fell about 2 o'clock, but no one was injured. A three story wooden building, adjoining, was crushed by the falling wall.

ODD IDEA OF HAPPINESS.— There is no accounting for tastes; and the taste indicated in the following announcement is one of the most unaccountable:

A family residing in the country will be happy to take charge of a lady or gentleman addicted to intemperance. Apply to H. M.

☞ At the Federal street (Presbyterian) church, in Newburyport on Fast day, the rite of baptism was administered to thirteen adults and children; and twelve persons were admitted to the church.

☞ The Soap Manufactory of D. & B. Wilson, at Manchester, N. H. was destroyed by fire on Friday morning. Loss $3,500; insurance $2,300.

☞ There was a fire at Shaker Village, Enfield, N.H., about noon on Fast Day, which consumed eleven buildings (no dwellings) valued at $600 or upwards.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Julia Redmond, wife of Thomas Redmond, living at 49 High St., Boston, on Tuesday, was found dead in her room last evening. Coroner Smith was called, but in view of the well known intemperate habits of the woman, he deemed an inquest unnecessary.

This is the third woman, within a week, recorded in the Boston papers, as dying from this cause.

IS HE NOT TO BE PITIED?—A correspondent of the Boston Telegraph, writing from South Danvers, under date of April 9th, says:

This morning the Chairman of the Overseers of the poor of South Danvers, was called upon by one of our citizens for an order to admit him to the Almshouse, that he might be out of the way of temptation for drinking rum. The above person is a good mechanic, with constant employment and quite a family to support, and is considered respectable, as a peaceable citizen when free from liquor. Who says that liquor selling don't make business?

B. E. Fifield, Esq., has been appointed Postmaster at Salisbury, in place of Enoch Fowler, Esq., deceased. It is about one year since Mr. Fifield was removed from the same office, as most persons of that neighborhood believed, and as this new appointment would indicate, without any real cause. He has served in the office for many years, is a popular Postmaster, and a good man, and we are glad of his re-appointment.—Newburyport Herald.

LOCAL.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

EXETER, Saturday, April 5.

Cases numbers 19 and 20, which we stated Saturday were taken from the jury and continued, were referred to W. W. Stickney, Ira St Clair, and W. H. Y. Hackett, Esquires.

Case, J. W. Tappan vs. N. Tappan, J. L. Tappan, and G. S. Tappan, has occupied the attention of the Court to-day also.

☞ The numerous friends and admirers of Mrs. Emma A. Wentworth, the talented and popular vocalist, will be gratified to learn that this lady, with able assistance, will probably give her annual entertainment in Portsmouth, some time during the present month. Mrs. Wentworth meets with high favor wherever she sings, and always receives a cordial welcome here in her own native city. We do not know who will accompany her; but we should be pleased to hear the Quartet Club Orchestra, and Mr. Satter as pianist, who have appeared with her in other places.

☞ The Temperance meeting this (Monday) evening, at the Temple, will be addressed by Rev. Dr. Peabody and others.

FOOT RACE.—A couple of young men in this city, George Runnells and Robert O. Shannon, tried their speed over Portsmouth Bridge, on Friday afternoon last. The length of the bridge, we are informed, is half a mile, less two rods; and this distance was run in two minutes eleven seconds—Runnells coming out a little ahead, though Shannon made the shortest time on the first half of the race. We think this sort of racing is altogether more manly and humane, than the driving of horses to death. There is soon, we understand, to be more sport of the same kind.

☞ Just received, a few nice Oysters, from a fresh arrival in Boston, which will be sold at retail by Allen Freeman, 38 1-2 Congress, corner Chesnut street.

IRON FENCE WORK.—We examined the other day some beautiful specimens of Ornamental Iron Fence work, that had been manufactured by Mr. Phineas Drake, Jr., of this city, who is now largely engaged in the production of this kind of work. For front yard s, cemeteries and other places where a fence is desired combining beauty and durability, this article will bear the highest recommendation. We very cheerfully invite public attention to it.—Journal.

THE NEW YORK LEGISLATURE. — The Legislature of New York, having been in session the hundred days for which pay is allowed members, adjourned on Wednesday night, leaving a vast amount of work unfinished.—The Tribune sums up the condition of things at Albany as follows: "The usual Appropriation bills were not passed, and the State is left without funds to pay its way. The Code was not even thought of. The House License bill failed to pass the Senate; and the Senate's Prohibitory law died in the House. The New York Police bill is dead, and so is the new charter for the city. The repeal of the Railroad Commissioners law was smothered by the Senate Committee.

The Apportionment bills are also left over. Almost the only bill of public importance that went through, was the Albany Bridge bill. The Governor informed them that he would not call an extra session, and that if the Supply bills were not passed, the responsibility must rest with the Legislature. As the Apportionment bill must be passed before the next election, it is probable that the Governor will convene the Legislature again.

OFFICE BLOWN UP!—On Saturday evening about 10 o'clock the law office of F. A. Kingsbury, Esq., at Weymouth Landing Ms., was blown up with gunpowder, causing great excitement in the village as well as doing considerable damage to Mr. Kingsbury's property. Mr. Kingsbury, in his official capacity of Justice of the Peace, has recently ordered the destruction of several parcels of liquor which were brought before him under the liquor law, and it is supposed that the outrage of Saturday night arose from this fact. We hope the persons who committed this outrage may be discovered and punished.

SHOCKING DEATH.—Capt. William Eaton of Wells, Me., met with a most shocking death on Monday last. He was engaged in his mill, sawing logs, when by some means not known, he was thrown across the carriage which supports the logs, and directly in front of the saw, and was sawn completely through, part of his body falling through the mill into the stream below. Capt. Eaton was very much respected, and his sudden and shocking death has caused a profound sensation in the town. He was about 66 years of age. He was alone in the mill at the time.—Portland Advertiser.

DROWNED.—Mr. Caleb Chaplin of Georgetown, (Byfield Parish) aged 73 years, went a fishing on Thursday morning, on Parker river, just back of what was formerly Newbury Almshouse, but not returning home at night, search was made for him, and on Wednesday, he was found in the bottom of the stream.—He was a man of good habits and very respectable character.—Newburyport Herald.

The ice has disappeared from Cape Cod Bay, and in taking its leave uncovered great numbers of quohaugs, on the flats. The people in that vicinity expect to secure a thousand bushels of this splendid shell-fish.

The Crocus, the first flower of Spring, has been in bloom several days, which is earlier than the average of the last fifteen years.—Newburyport Herald.

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY, April 11.

SENATE.—The Senate passed forty-eight private bills, including one for relief of officers and soldiers of the Army who sustained losses by the San Franscisco and Winfield Scott disasters. Adjourned till Monday.

HOUSE.—The House passed the bill to compensate ex-Minister John S. Pendleton for extra diplomatic services. Adjourned till Monday.

ONE OF THE ANCIENTS.—The Dover Enquirer mentions the death, in Middleton, April 3, of Elizabeth, widow of the late George Roberts. The subject of this notice was born in Dover, August 21st, 1762, and was consequently nearly 94 years of age.—She was the daughter of John and Mary Horne, and was married to George Roberts January 17th, 1781, by Rev. Jeremy Belknap, and removed to Middleton about the year 1796, where she lived till her death. She was connected with the Free Will Baptist Church more than 50 years, was a woman of strong physical and mental powers, which she retained to a remarkable degree to the day of her death, remembering incidents in the history of the country previous to the war of the Revolution, with many circumstances connected with it, such as the rejoicing in Dover when news arrived of the Signing of the Declaration of Independence, and the joy or sorrow for the alternate success or defeat of the American Arms during that momentous struggle.

PHILADELPHIA, 11th.—Great Conflagration.—The Artisan building, an immense structure situated in the rear of Chesnut and Fourth streets, was totally destroyed by fire last night. Every portion of the premises was occupied by artisans, and the loss in the stock and fixtures is very large.

Printers, lithographers, bookbinders, &c., were the principal sufferers. The aggregate loss is about $200,000.

FALL OF A METEOR.—Belfast, April 11.—At 9 o'clock this morning large meteor fell to the south of Belfast, striking the buildings in this city, and was distinctly heard in Rockland, and neighboring towns. The noise resembled the explosion of a powder mill. It is not known where it fell.

NEW YORK, April 11.—The schooner Maryland, recently seized in Hampton Roads for an alleged violation of the laws of Virginia, has been searched, but no fugitive slaves found on board. Capt. Speight was taken to Norfolk on Monday evening, but as it was thought that the court there had no jurisdiction in the case, he was conveyed back to Hampton Roads on Tuesday to be tried.—Meantime the vessel is held in custody until security can be given for the payment of the penalty of $500, incurred by the captain, in consequence of his refusal to have the schooner searched. She belongs to persons in this city, and it is said her owners intend to test the validity of the law.

CHATHAM FOUR CORNERS, N. Y., April 11.—Rail Road Accident.—A young man named Samuel Sumner, fell from the cars on the Hudson and Boston Railroad, at this place this morning, and two cars passed over one of his legs, breaking it in three places, so that amputation was necessary, but he died about an hour after being taken off the track. He is about 22 years of age, and resident in East Stockbridge, Mass.

PHILADELPHIA, April 12.—The total loss by the burning of the Artisans' Building, was about $232,000. The whole amount of insurance amounts to $93,000.

ALBANY, April 12th.—The Court of Appeals has decided the case of the Mechanics Bank v. the New Haven Railroad Co. against the railroad, thus making the over issued stock a valid claim, either as stock or a draft of its value.

Selling off at Cost!

THE SUBSCRIBER begs leave to announce to his friends and the public, that he has taken Rooms in the Mercantile Library Association Building, Summer St., Boston, and will close business in Portsmouth. PICTURES, RETICULES, PORTE MONNAIES, TOYS and FANCY GOODS, will be sold, wholesale or retail

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of timber, and with timber. The Road runs from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of the Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed out, nor even picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference in transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every dollar's worth of the produce of those lands is carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and this extra tend precisely the incoming from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $8 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be bro't under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be erected on the shortest days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in money, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the course of a few years, the settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and point out the different lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German. TUESDAY, APRIL 15. 1856

CONCORD, NEW HAMPSHIRE.

DR. BOUTON'S HISTORY.— Dr. Bouton's history of Concord—774 pages—just issued from the Press, is a useful work, which will be interesting not only to the inhabitants of that city, but to the people of many other parts of the State. The book, containing many engravings and a map of Concord, must have required great labor and research. The author deserves great credit for his invaluable work. Concord, at first called Pennacook, afterwards Rumford, was first settled by inhabitants chiefly from Massachusetts 128 years ago—the original proprietors obtained a charter for a township from the government of Massachusetts—the latter contending for many years that their jurisdiction extended over the western part of New Hampshire, including the territory bordering upon the Merrimac river, to its source. New Hampshire, with the exception of a few localities, was a vast wilderness, less than a century ago, and the first settlers experienced hardships and sufferings of which most of the present generation have but little conception. We now see what is the effect of free labor and human skill. But we now turn to this history merely to make some extracts relative to the weather.

Page 377. 1820, April 25th.—"Notwithstanding the high grounds in the vicinity of Concord are covered, and the snow remains two or three feet deep in our forests, the thermometer stood in the shade, on Tuesday and Thursday last, at 84° in this town!"

May 30th.—Last Friday the fields in our vicinity exhibited the novel spectacle at this season, of a mantle of snow extending as far as the eye could reach. The storm was from the northeast and cold.

Page 402. 1826, Feb. 4.—"On Wednesday morning, the thermometer was at 26° below zero, which is the lowest that has been noticed for the last eight years."

1827, May 3.—The hill in Canterbury, and the tops of Kearsarge and Cardigan, in sight of Concord village, were covered with snow which had fallen two days before.

Page 434.—In 1835, a meeting of the citizens was held in Concord, at which Ralph Metcalf, Esq., presided, to organize as a mob, to prevent an anti-slavery speech from Hon. GEORGE THOMPSON, a member of the British Parliament. Only 20 years since! What a change has come over the people in 20 years!

The history alludes (Page 577) to Joseph Wheat, a person of some wit and good humor. We now record a fact perhaps not generally known. Prior to 1804—6 the same Joseph Wheat was the only person that drove a stage through Concord from Dunstable to Hanover once a week. It was an old rickety carriage, covered with canvass, without any lining. And once, in particular, his horses and carriage were attached for debt at Salisbury, and the passengers (the writer being one) for Hanover were obliged to hire a private coach.

In 1807, the venerable Judge Walker, son of the first minister at Concord, informed the writer that he kept a store during the Revolutionary war—that the popular fever ran so high against tea, that he dare not sell it openly. It would expose a trader to the charge of being a tory. He therefore secreted his tea in the attic, and sold it to those only in whom he could place entire confidence.

The population of Concord has doubled within a very short period. The railroads are the chief cause. It is now a place of very considerable trade, and manufactures.—The puritanical character of the original settlers will soon be lost by intermixture with immigrants from other sections. X.

In an action for libel and conspiracy, Enoch Cobb, a Baptist preacher, claimed $75,000 damages from ninety-six of the most respectable citizens of Wayne, Duplin and Lenoir counties, N. C., for an alleged combination to drive Cobb out of Duplin, they allegeing as a reason that he had incited slaves to house burning, causing very serious and alarming destruction of property. The jury returned a verdict against ten of the defendants for $1000—that is $100 each. There was no evidence to convict the defendants on the count for conspiracy.—Eastern Argus.

This is a droll verdict; and on the whole a droll story. If the allegations of these respectable citizens were true and proved,—the pretender should go to the State's Prison.

But he did not go to prison, which shows the respectable men could not prove the allegation.

Next, he sues them for conspiracy — of which there was no evidence, says the paper—yet the jury gave him a verdict against ten of the respectable men—for what?

Probably they did something — that is they drove him out of the State, or tried to do so, but without any conspiracy!

Prof. Silliman, of Yale College, has degraded himself by taking part in an abolition meeting, and giving vent to a fanatical abolition speech.—New Orleans Crescent.

PROVIDENCE, April 13. — The election to fill ten vacancies in the General Assembly, was held in this city on Saturday. The Fusion ticket was elected, 7 Americans and 3 Republicans, by majorities of from 234 to 757.

The Rhode Island election, by its result, shows how much can be accomplished by union on the part of the opponents of the administration. Only those were chosen State officers, whose names were borne on both the American and Republican tickets. Those who ran on separate tickets could do nothing, and nothing could be done for them. Union of the opposition was absolutely necessary to effect anything of a striking and a useful character. Governor Hoppin's re-election, by a very heavy majority, was due to his having made such responses to the Republicans as enabled them to vote from him. If the opposition could be united, the Democrats could not make a respectable show in any of the free States, and would be rudely shaken even in the South; but because there happens to be some difference of opinion on matters of secondary importance, the opposition divided, may be defeated.—Boston Chron.

FIRE AT ENFIELD, N. H.—A fire occurred on the 10th inst., at the Shaker Village in Enfield, N. H. The fire broke out about 10 o'clock A. M., at the machine shop at the extreme west end of the village, while all the Shakers were attending private worship (it being the annual Fast in New Hampshire.)—The wind blew a gale—almost a hurricane—all day, in the very direction of the range of the whole of that beautiful village, extending one mile and composed principally of wooden buildings. The machine shop, in which were two hired workmen, was enveloped in flame before even these men discovered it. They had to jump from the windows to effect their escape, when the alarm was given.

The wind blew so furiously that the bells were heard hardly beyond their own village. But by the use of expresses to every part of the town and to Lebanon, in a very short time thousands were on the ground. Then, without engines or water, what was to be done? Lines of men and women, Shakers and neighbors—promiscuously—were formed, each with a wooden pail, from the fire to the lake, about forty rods, and the fire, which had just entered a large barn containing about twelve tons of hay, was stayed in the very centre of the North Family. Eleven or twelve buildings were consumed; but the fire was stayed about 2 o'clock, P. M.

Immediately after, the Muscoma Fire Company from Lebanon, a distance of six miles, arrived, having drawn their beautiful engine through the mud and snow without horses.—The smouldering ruins were soon well drenched. The dwelling house and inmates were all saved, and no accident of any magnitude occurred. The damage is estimated at $6000 to $7000. The Shakers manifest the most profound thankfulness to all their townsmen as well as to those of Lebanon for their timely and efficient aid.

At the time of the fire, says the writer of the account in the Boston Courier, the wind blew so hard that it was almost impossible for a man to stand. The fire took in many places through the whole length of the village,—on the roofs of the highest buildings, in dooryards, in piles of lumber, &c., for a distance of one mile, simultaneously. It was often remarked during the day that one hundred Shaker Sisters were worth more to fight fire than two hundred common men, except in scaling buildings. They passed along the pails of water for whole hours, without relaxation or change, as would seem beyond human endurance.

For the Chronicle.

GUANO ON POTATOES.— Peruvian Guano is a highly profitable fertilizer for potatoes — In 1853 H. C. Ives, Esq., of Rochester, N.Y., planted 4 acres of potatoes — 2 without manure and 2 dressed broadcast with 600 pounds Guano.

The former produced	238	bushels,
the latter	410	"
increase 172 bu. at 50c	86	dollars
600 lbs. Guano, including labor of planting, cost	25	"

In another instance an unmanured plot

manured with superphosphorate of lime	110 2-3	"
with Guano	156	"

These are facts which should attract the attention of our farmers. And in buying Guano—be sure and purchase the pure Peruvian. Mr. Shores at No. 1 Congress Block receives it direct from the Peruvian Agency.

DR. R. GREEN, OF BOSTON, whose Card appears in our paper, to-day, is probably the most successful Physician of the age. In his practice, both science and talent are united in the proper use of the natural or Indian remedies. His success is truly wonderful. Send to his Office, 36 Broomfield street, and get a Circular giving a description of his mode of practice. X.

☞ In our columns, this morning will be found the Business Cards of many of the most reliable dealers in Boston. Persons visiting Boston for the purpose of buying goods will do well to look over the list.

HANGING IN ALABAMA.—The Montgomery Mail says the Sheriff of Franklin county, in that State, has hanged a man in spite of a reprieve from the Governor of the State, pronouncing the document to be a forgery.

LOCAL.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.—The Court was occupied throughout the whole day, Monday, in hearing the arguments of the counsel in the case No. 22, Tappan v. Tappan & als., which was commenced last week. Judge Sawyer charges the Jury this (Tuesday) morning. Wells for Plff.; Christie and Marston for Defts.

☞ The Piscataqua Association of Ministers, meeting in this city to-day, Tuesday, will hold a public religious service in the meeting house of the North Parish this evening at half past seven o'clock.

Rev. Mr. Anthony, of Great Falls, is the Associational Preacher.

☞ The lecture before the Mechanics' Lyceum this evening is to be delivered by T. Starr King, of Boston.

☞ The time for the starting of trains on the Eastern Railroad are incorrect on our outside today. The second train leaves for Boston at 12 1-4, and the last train at 7 1-2 P. M. The first train for Portland leaves at 10 A.M, and the last at 7 1-2 P. M.

"EARLY IN THE MORNING." — An Irishman in the employ of a lumber-dealing firm in this city, as teamster, was charged on Saturday night, to deliver a load of timber at the Concord depot early Monday morning, without fail. From some cause or other, sleep o'ercame him the next day, Sunday; and he indulged in a nap, at home, till nearly sunset. Thinking, when he arose, that it was the 'next morning," he made all speed to harness his white steed into his lumbering trucks; and did not find out his mistake, till he had landed his load at the depot. On being told of the wrong he had done, he said, "An' faith, but the sun were jist up in the west, an' I knew it were the morning."

☞ A tornado on the night of Saturday April 12, did much mischief in Philadelphia. It unroofed 150 houses in different sections of the city, but there was no loss of life so far as heard from. Two large brick churches and three factories in Kensington were unroofed. The large boiler house of the Franklin Iron Works, 150 feet long, was totally demolished. The Trenton Railroad depot at Kensington was partially unroofed. The Western telegraph lines are all down, and it will require two or three days to get them again in working order.

CHANGE OF CLERKS. — We understand that the Justices of the Superior Court, and of the Court of Common Pleas have, at a recent meeting, revised the provisional appointment of Clerks, made at the organization of the New Judiciary System, and that the names of the Clerks, as now definitely settled, are as follows;

Rockingham, Charles G. Conner,
Strafford, John R. Varney,
Belknap, Charles S. Gale,
Carroll, Wm. M. Weed,
Hillsboro', Perley Dodge,
Merrimac, Nehemiah Butler,
Cheshire, Leonard Bisco,
Sullivan, Thomas W. Gilmore,
Grafton, Jonas D. Sleeper,
Coos, Daniel C. Pinkham,

Of these, five were Clerks under the old system, and five are new men. The present Court is manifestly endeavoring to avoid even the appearance of partizan politics in their appointments. The new Clerk for this County, Mr. Conner, a citizen of this town, is a young gentleman of fine character and scholarship, and his appointment cannot fail to be highly acceptable and popular with the legal community.—Exeter News Letter.

We learn from the Worcester Spy, that the body of Timothy Morissy, An Irishman, who had been missing from the Globe Village, in Southbridge, for about a month, was found dead in the west part of Dudley, on Tuesday, the 1st inst. Morrissy had been to Webster on a drinking spree, on Sunday, March 2, with two other Irishmen, and started for home with one of them named Murphy, about midnight. On their way, Murphy's hat blew off, and they both got out of the sleigh to recover it, when the horse started off and left them. It was a severe night, and Murphy wandered about and did not reach home till near noon the next day. Search was made for Morrissy, but without success, till his body was accidentally found, as above stated.

The committee on elections in the U. S. House of Representatives have decided that Mr. Fuller of Maine, the sitting member, was duly elected over Mr. Milliken, and recommended that the latter receive per diem and mileage from the commencement of the session.

NEW YORK, April 14.—The squall on Saturday night did considerable damage in Brooklyn. The scaffolding of the new church in President street was blown down and several houses unroofed.

British bark Alliance, arrived at New York, reports that when in latitude 37 28, longitude 71 47, saw the top of a steamship's paddle box, painted black, with a new board in it.

Father Morris, the Catholic priest arrested at Tamaqua, Penn., for improper attentions to the wife of one of his parishoners, did not appear for trial, but Rev. Mr. O'Keefe stated the delinquent had left the country, and the prosecution had been dropped on condition that he would never return.

Cream Curling Fluid,

PRICE TWENTY-FIVE CTS.

THIS is a new and valuable discovery, and is more highly prized than any other preparation in use. It has already become a leading article of the Ladies' and Gentlemen's Toilets; and will become more so, as its great value becomes known.

It contains no ESSENTIAL OILS, or other Drying and Poisonous articles, such as Nitrate of Silver, Sulphur, &c., but is a simple distillation from a VERY VALUABLE HERB. We do not offer it to the public as an article of Cologne, or Perfume, though its odor is very fragrant and agreeable, and especially so to the sick, who prize it much; but we say, that as a Medicated Hair Tonic, its equal, for beautifying and strengthening the hair, has never been discovered. It is a new article and its preparation is only known to the Proprietor.

It will assist to curl the hair in a most beautiful manner, without any glutinous substance whatever; will give the hair a fine glossy appearance; will remove all dandruff from the head and keep the scalp healthy and clean, and thereby render those who use it less subject to diseases of the brain; will prevent the hair from falling off, and cause it to grow where it has already fallen off by disease or age; will keep the hair healthy, soft and thick set; will relieve the headache in a very short time, and hence it is greatly prized by those troubled with this complaint. Where the hair has been changed to White or Grey, by sickness, fever, &c it will so act upon the roots as to restore it to a healthy condition, and in a short time it will assume its natural color and remain so.

☞ Observe—It is not a hair dye, and we do offer it as such. We recommend this article for what it is, and not for what it is not. A little hair oil should be used once a week, as this article is not oily.

4 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE

By the arrival of the steamer Washington at New York, we have four days later news from Europe Liverpool dates of 25th.

Nothing definite had transpired at the Paris Conference; the peace treaty had not been signed, owing to a demand put forth by Prussia at the meeting on the 22d, in which she was supported by Russia. The opinion prevailed that the Conference would ultimately resolve itself into an European Congress.

Peace, however, is considered substantially certain.

The Times Crimean correspondent says the war party still cherish hopes that the negotiations may break down. It may suit the French to make concessions, but it ought not to suit us. They doubtless consider they have done enough for honor and glory, and to revenge the reverses of 1812; moreover they cannot afford war as England can, and their army, however numerous on paper, dwindles sadly; scurvy and fever are playing havoc in its ranks.

The British Admiralty have sent out the the steam frigates Tartarus and Desperate in search of the Collins steamer Pacific.

Mr. Buchanan had gone to Paris, and would vist the Hague, prior to his departure for home in the steamer Arago, on the 9th of April,

A proposal has been submitted to the Copenhagen Conference, fixing 35,000,000 rix dollars as the minimum indemnity which Denmark claimed for the Sound dues. The United States having declined taking part, the question would be settled without their co-operation.

The Allies had commenced demolishing the enclosure lines around Sevastopol. The mortality in the French army, from scurvy and fever, was stated at 120 per day.

Frequent disturbances and assassinations had taken place in the city of Parma, Italy, and the place had been again laid under siege. The cattle murrain was said to be spreading all over the continent, causing great alarm.

The Cotton market was dull, but previous prices were sustained. The market for Breadstuffs was also dull, with a slight decline.

The steamer Cambria, with three days later news, is now in her sixteenth day out, and may be hourly expected.

THREE DAYS LATER NEWS.

ARRIVAL OF THE CAMBRIA.

HALIFAX, April 14.—The steamship Cambria, from Liverpool 29th ult, arrived this forenoon. The news is three days later than that received by the Washington, but presents no feature of decided importance.

The difficulties reported to have presented themselves in the Peace Conference, just prior to the Washington's departure, are understood to have been removed, and it is confidently expected that the treaty of peace would be signed in a few days.

Liverpool Cotton Market was quiet at about the same quotations as were advised by the Asia. In Breadstuffs there had been a general decline from the prices of the previous Friday, particularly of the lower descriptions.

BELLOWS FALLS, VT., April 12.—Two Boys Drowned.—Two boys, one a son of Silas Boutwell, railroad conductor, and the other named O'Brien, were drowned yesterday, while playing on some logs in the canal.—Their bodies were discovered late at night, after diligent search, in which most of our citizens took part.

The last number of the Florida News states that Gen. Churchill, Inspector General of the United States Army, passed through Jacksonville last week on his way to Tampa. He has been seat out by the Secretary of War, to inquire into the true condition of the Indian affairs, and devise, if possible, some means of removing the remnant of the Seminoles from Florida.

ADAMS'S
CORSET WAREROOMS,
Removed from Washington Street to 28 WINTER STREET,
BOSTON.
The Corset Warerooms of Thirty Years, (Established in 1825.) Also, the Inventor of ADAMS'S PATENT ABDOMINAL SUPPORTER, And the only place where the genuine article can be obtained.

MRS. ADAMS has recently returned from Europe, where, among the looms and weaving rooms of France, she has devoted the best part of a year in re-arranging and symmetrizing the best features of the French Woven Corset, adapting it to the necessities of the peculiarly delicate structure of the American women, and is happy to say that in these efforts she has been eminently successful; and since presenting her experiments, the increased demand has been continued. Thinking it best to introduce these beautiful and easy fitting articles by some other than formidable name of Stay or Corset, she calls them Bonons. They are so constructed as to give a sustaining brace to the back, shoulders and abdomen, at the same time inducing an expansion of the chest never before attained in anything of similar purpose. The next consideration is the price, it being as low as the most ordinary and ill-shaped of other manufacture, whilst the style and quality of texture surpasses other goods hitherto disposed of at most exorbitant charges.

MRS. A. would invite the attention of dealers, and would assure them that an investment in these goods, at the fixed low prices, is the same as gold already twice told. All orders promptly and judiciously attended to.

MRS. Adams has no store on Washington street, nor are her goods for sale by any Agent, or at any other place than the

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL
OF

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very abundantly. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $3 to $3.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern markets.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in those States, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted navigation communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course the value of their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be constructed for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of farm harvesting, &c. &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

NEW SHOES.—The Salem Gazette says, by the following paragraph it appears that an improvement has been made, which must eventually work a great revolution in the shoe trade. The manufacturers of metallic rubber shoes have been cutting the throat of their own business, for a year or two past, by depreciating the quality of their shoes.—When first introduced, they were the cheapest and best article ever made for their purpose. They contained a great portion of rubber, and were very durable. But the Para rubber, which at that time could be bought for thirteen cents per pound, has at some times since been as high as a dollar a pound, and this change has stimulated the manufacturers, with more regard to present profit than permanent reputation, to lessen the proportion of rubber until it has almost entirely disappeared, and the quality of the shoes has suffered in a corresponding ratio.

IMPROVED SHOE.—The new Shoe Manufactory at Ballard Vale, although in operation for a short time, has been constantly expanding until nearly two hundred persons are employed. It is managed by a company of capitalists who have the means to carry it on upon as extensive a scale as the demand shall require. The shoes are made by an entire new process, which makes them superior to rubbers. The stock used is similar to that used in the manufacture of other shoes, but the whole work is put together by a composition made of Gutta Percha and other articles without any sewing. Some kind of preparation is also made upon the upper leather or cloth, which renders them impervious to water. The strength of the composition attaching the sole to the upper, is superior to rubber, and is so easily worked that the wearer may remove the sole with pleasure, by simply heating it, and replace it firmly in the same manner. Another advantage claimed, is the durability over any other shoe. —Andover Advertiser.

AN EVIL. — The Newburyport Herald makes the following remarks, which contain altogether too much truth, and have far too general an application:

We noticed yesterday, not less than forty young men, natives of this city, and who should be the pride and life of it, returning from their Fast visit to parents and friends, to their places of business in Boston. That is not as it should be; there should be no necessity for their going abroad; and there would not be, but for two reasons; first, that the mothers of the rising generation are not willing their sons should learn mechanical trades, and therefore so many are obliged to seek clerkships and enter business, where nine out of ten must be bankrupt before they die; and the second is that we do not give the needed encouragement to our boys at home It is the ruin of any city to have its sons leave as fast as they are able to act for themselves, and such a city must be thriftless and poor forever.

Now although "the mothers" may have many foolish notions about the respectability of labor, we don't believe they alone are to be blamed—the fathers must share with them. And something must be allowed for the opinion which is sadly prevalent in all communities, that he or she who does nothing, (or at least nothing useful) is more genteel or more happy than though they lived to some purpose. There must (at present at least) be traders— between-men, who live on the labor and necessities of their fellows; but let not all aspire to this state, but swell the ranks of the producers, and all will be improved thereby.

Alfred Woodly, the free colored man from New York, who was tried in the Bertie county Superior Court, convicted of concealing a slave with a view to his escape, and sentenced to be hanged, has had a second trial before the Supreme Court of North Carolina, and been acquitted by a jury who own at least 400 slaves. Woodly's lawyers defended him without fee from him, and took great pains to procure the second trial.—Boston Post.

It is delightful to be able to record a thing so complimentary to human nature suffering under bad laws as the above. If we were told that he was acquitted notwithstanding his guilt, the pleasure would be complete. We are a little afraid he was acquitted because he was found not guilty of so humane a crime. But be that as it may, we agree with the Post that the paragraph is pleasant and worth publishing.—Boston Chronicle.

☞ At the late burning of the Artisan's Building in Philadelphia, the houses on Chesnut street were in danger, and during the fire, Miss Mary Ann Christie, who resided on resided on Chesnut street, just below the U. S. Hotel, became so terror-strickea that she died soon after.

☞ The Old Folk's Concert at Newburyport was attended by some 1200 persons, and 500 more would gladly have been present if seats could have been obtained. Everybody was pleased, nay, delighted—and there is a general wish that the exercises should be repeated. So says the Herald.

The Republicans at Washington, have withdrawn their call for a national convention at Philadelphia, to give place to a general convention of all the opponents of the administration, in hopes thereby to unite all on a presidential ticket.

☞ The losses and mishaps, in a great fire, like that of the Gerrish market, in Boston, are, some sad, others ludicrous.

The attic of the market was occupied by Miss E. Boyle, for the manufacture of clothing for many of our Boston wholesale dealers. She employed about sixty seamstresses, who were not aware of their danger until alarmed by people on the outside. Miss Boyle had just completed three thousand prs. of pantaloons, all of which were waiting to be sent home. A large amount of this property, some 800 pairs of pants, was saved, and taken to the office of the chief of the police by officer Dunn.

The only accident of severity, sufficient to endanger life, was occasioned by the fall of a portion of a chimney on the Merrimac house, to which a telegraph wire was attached and was broken by the fall of the wall of the market. Two little girls, Emma Dyke, aged 10 years, and Sarah Adams, aged 13, were standing on the sidewalk beneath the chimney when it fell, and both were very seriously injured, the latter dangerously so, her skull being fractured.

The heat from the fire and the escapement of gas from the pipes connected with the building, and which collected in the sewers under the street in such quantity that it must somewhere find vent, caused an explosion to occur near the corner of Friend and Market streets, by which the plank coverings to two cesspools were thrown high in the air. One man, who made off so rapidly after he lighted that the reporter could not overtake him, and so does not know his name, was standing on the top of one of these at the time of the eruption, and was blown into the air some ten feet, but came down without damage.—As we have said, he left at once.

None of the fresh meat in the Market was saved; the butchers thought the fire would be checked, and so did not remove their stock.

GENERAL CASS.—The Richmond Enquirer, alive to the risk which the peculiar institution must run, in a war with England, speaks thus of Senator Cass:—

While reasonable men would soothe the public mind in the present controversy with Great Britain, General Cass is irritating the sensitive pride of our people by indiscriminate denunciation and exaggerated representations of the national wrongs. The country is prepared for an equitable settlement of the dispute, but he is zealously laboring to prevent a pacific adjustment, by extortionate demands and obstinate objections.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING. — Long & Brother, 121 Nassau street, New York, have just sent a new book of 140 pages, entitled "Lardner's One Thousand and Ten Things worth knowing. A book clearly explaining how to do rightly almost everything that can be necessary in the Kitchen, the Parlor and Dressing-room, and disclosing all the most valuable information, receipts and instruction, in the useful and domestic arts. Everything of which is of practical use to everybody.—To which is added Employment for all; or, A Hundred Ways to make Money."

Price 25 cts.

☞ Godey's Lady's Book for May, contains a beautiful frontispiece, The Child's Sorrow, colored and uncolored fashion plates, patterns, &c.—Also a rich and varied table of literary good things. One of the best, is a provokingly short chapter of Marrying a Planter.

We have not yet received the number for March.

A man calling himself Nathaniel Caldwell, was arrested, in Newburyport, on Thursday, by Marshal Brown, on suspicion of larceny. He had made several attempts to dispose of a watch and other valuables, and his conduct gave rise to suspicions. Upon taking him to the lock-up, it was found he had in his possession three bank books containing evidence of deposits to the amount of about $1700 — certificates for six shares in the Grocers' Bank, Boston, a gold watch, $30 in cash, and other articles. His stories were very contradictory, and Mr. Brown detains him to satisfy himself of his true character. On Thursday night he attempted to commit suicide by hanging himself in his cell, with his handkerchief, but was discovered in season to prevent any bad consequence.—Newburyport Herald.

A LIQUOR LAW AFFRAY.—On Sunday of last week, as a Mr. Colwell of Crossingville, Pa., was attempting to arrest a man named Gilbert Cutler, of the same place, for a violation of the liquor law, an altercation took place, in which Colwell was badly beaten with clubs and stones, and Cutler was shot in the abdomen, the ball lodging in the spine. It is feared that both will die from the effects of their injuries. Colwell is said to have since become insane.

A single lady in Lee, Mass., advertises for a husband, hoping that her little fortune of several thousand dollars, the fruits of her own exertions, will enable the happy man who weds her to overlook a certain personal defect, "which might otherwise render her undesirable for a wife," but she does not advertise what the defect is.

Capt. Charles Kerman, who, in the summer of 1854 was sentenced in Boston to imprisonment in the County Jail three years, and to pay a fine of $1000 for being concerned in the fitting out of the schooner "Glamorgan" for the slave trade, has received an unconditional pardon from the President of the United States.

LOCAL.

☞ The lecture before the Mechanics' Lyceum on Tuesday evening, was by Rev. T. Starr King, on Sight and Insight. The audience was one of the largest for the season, and the lecture one of the best. Any person who has read "Eyes and No Eyes, or the Art of Seeing," can form some idea of his treatment of the subject, which was striking and practical. The Quaker idea of the Light within; and the old proverb The Things Unseen do not deceive us,—though not quoted by the lecturer, were yet suggested, and happily used in religious, political, and moral relation.

☞ The Piscataqua Association of Congregational Ministers, met in this city on Tuesday. About twenty clergymen, pastors or stated supplies, were present. The general representations were, that public worship is well attended; and that an increasing and encouraging interest is felt on the subject of temperance.

Public services were held at the North Meeting House in the evening, when a sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Anthony of Great Falls.

☞ The Piscataqua Missionary Society held its annual meeting in this city on Tuesday, at the Vestry in Fleet street. The officers for the ensuing year are—

Rev. Asa Mann, President;
Rev. Alvan Tobey, Secretary;
Daniel Knight, Esq., Rev. Edward Robie, Rev. B. F. Parsons, Rev. E. E. Atwater, Rev. John Dinsmore, Trustees;
Daniel Knight, Treasurer.

The funds of the Society are about $3,700; the annual appropriations about $240.

☞ Mr. William Moses, the newly elected Superintendent of the Alms House and City Farm, commenced his official duties on Monday afternoon.

RUM.—We are informed that a few young men, residing in Exeter, not having the fear of the law constantly before their eyes, ventured on Saturday evening last, to indulge in intoxicating drinks, and as a natural consequence, soon lost their usual self-possession. They sallied forth from the shop and staggered through the streets, until at last they reached a house standing at the outskirts of the town. This house was inhabited by a man and his wife, and "just for the fun of the thing," they concluded to trouble the gentleman a little. So they commenced, and ceased not till they had knocked down the door. This roused the anger of the good man of the house somewhat, and quietly taking his gun, charged with shot, he fired—the charge entering the legs of one of the assailants. The severe wound with the accompanying days of pain will be the price of the young man's experience—sufficient, probably to teach him to "beware of the wine when it is red."

It is a singular fact, that for more than two hundred years past, no French monarch has been succeeded by his son. Louis the XIII, was the last son of a French king who ascended the throne, and this was in 1609.

BALTIMORE, April 14.—Christ Church and Francis's carriage factory were destroyed by fire at Richmond, on Sunday.

☞ PHILADELPHIA, April 14.—Accounts from towns in the vicinity of this city give additional information of the ravages of the tornado. A lady was killed at West Chester by a shutter, while she was endeavoring to close the blinds. Innumerable dwellings and barns have been unroofed in every direction.

A train of loaded freight cars, standing near the depot of the Pennsylvania Railroad, in West Philadelphia, was blown from the track. Ten loaded cars on the Reading Railroad were driven an hundred yards from the place where they were left, and five of the number were blown off the track.

PHILADELPHIA, April 14.—Col. Hughes, special agent of the Post Office Department, arrested this morning Geo. W. Townsend, who broke jail at Newcastle while waiting sentence for stealing a letter from the Wilmington Post Office. After a hearing, he was remanded to prison to await a requisition from the U. S. authorities in Delaware. He had three revolvers on his person, and every barrel in them charged. When he escaped from prison he liberated seven other persons.—Townsend is 20 years of age.

CONGRESS

MONDAY, April 14.

SENATE.—Mr. Harlan presented an affidavit made by Col. Lane, on the Kansas memorial which was presented to the Senate by Gen. Cass, and returned by the Senate.

Mr. Harlan said that respect for the Senate called upon him to explain. If the paper is a copy of the original memorial, the establishment of that fact is proof of its authenticity. He thought it would be a little strange to argue against the authenticity of the Bible, because we are unable to lay our hands on the original parchment as they came from the hand of the patriarchs, prophets and apostles, although these parchments had been copied millions of times, and had been translated into various languages. There were few who doubted the genuineness of the Scriptures on that accounnt.

Mr. Harlan then proceeded to speak of the character of James H. Lane, saying he had been a Democrat from his youth; his father, Amos Lane, was twice speaker of the Indiana House of Representatives, elected by the Democrats; and when a member of Congress he was the wheel-horse of Gen. Jackson's administration. The career of James H. Lane was then traced by Mr. Harlan, from his appointment as Postmaster by Mr. Van Buren down to the present time, alluding to his services as Democratic elector for Pierce and King.

At 1 o'clock the Pacific Railroad bill being in regular order, came up, and the consideration thereon postponed.

Mr. Harlan concluded his remarks in favor of receiving the memorial.

Mr. Douglass stated the reasons why he objected, because the document had been materially altered since its authors saw it.

Mr. Wade replied to Mr. Douglass.

Mr. Pugh spoke against receiving the memorial.

Mr. Hale said Col. Lane had been accused of fraud and forgery and should be heard in his defence.

Mr. Wilson said Mr. Douglass had indulged in partisan catch-words unworthy of the Senate.

Mr. Douglass replied, saying he used the word subdue as applicable to the traitors and rebels in Kansas. He used the word black to designate Republicans, because every clause in their platform relates to the negro question; it is a fitting term for a sectional party.

Mr. Wilson said he had addressed a large meeting in Delaware on Saturday, distinctly avowing the principles of the Republican party and the sentiments were assented to.—Republican principles are national.

Mr Dougless said the Democrats in the coming election will take issue with the Republicans on the slavery question and will go for the country, upholding the Kansas act and the doctrines it involves.

Mr. Wilson said he didn't disown the name of Abolitionist—J. Q. Adams, Washington, Jefferson, Jay, Hamilton, Franklin, and men of the revolution were Abolitionists—the Republican party oppose slavery everywhere, but will not interfere in the States.

Mr. Stewart deprecated the discussion of such an exciting question by the men whose armed object is to grasp the reins of power. At the instance of Mr. Stewart the motion to receive Mr. Lane's petition was laid on the table.

Mr. Lane explained that the draft was made by a committee appointed by the Kansas Legislature and the rough draft originally adopted, but the committee was empowered to correct the phraseology; Mr. Lane prays the Senate to receive the memorial.

Adjourned.

HOUSE.— The Committee on Elections were discharged from the further consideration of the memorial of Mr. Faber of Louisiana, contesting the seat of Mr. Custis.

Mr. Cobb of Georgia asked leave to submit a resolution, closing the present session of Congress on the 4th of July.

Mr. Washburn of Maine said this movement was intended to smother the Kansas Investigation.

The House refused to suspend the rules for the purpose of receiving the resolution by a vote of 85 against 57, two-thirds being necessary to suspend the rules.

Mr. Hall asked leave to introduce a resolution looking to the overthrow of polygamy in Utah, but the House refused to suspend the rules.

The deficiency bill was then debated til the adjournment.

Something New for Ladies and Gentlemen.

50,000 BOTTLES ALREADY SOLD.

Cream Curling Fluid,

PRICE TWENTY-FIVE CTS.

THIS is a new and valuable discovery, and is more highly prized than any other preparation in use. It has already become a leading article of the Ladies' and Gentlemen's Toilets; and will become more so, as its great value becomes known.

It contains no ESSENTIAL OILS, or other Drying and Poisonous articles, such as Nitrate of Silver, Lac Sulphur, &c., but is a simple distillation from a VERY VALUABLE HERB. We do not offer it to the public as an article of Cologne or Perfume, though its odor is very fragrant and agreeable, and especially so to the sick, who prize it much; but we say, that as a Medicated Hair Tonic, its equal, for beautifying and strengthening the hair, has never been discovered. It is a new article and its preparation is only known to the Proprietor.

It will assist to curl the hair in a most beautiful manner, without any glutinous substance whatever; will give the hair a fine glossy appearance; will remove all dandruff from the head and keep the scalp healthy and clean, and thereby render those who use it less subject to diseases of the brain; will prevent the hair from falling off, and cause it to grow where it has already fallen off by disease or age; will keep the hair healthy, soft and thick set; will relieve the headache in a very short time, and hence it is greatly prized by those troubled with this complaint. Where the hair has been changed to White or Grey, by sickness, fever, &c it will so act upon the roots as to restore it to a healthy condition, and in a short time it will assume its natural color and remain so.

☞ Observe—It is not a hair dye, and we do offer it as such. We recommend the article for what it is, and not for what it is not. A little hair oil should be used once a week, as this article is not oily.

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credit, at low rates and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the northwest extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from two to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, pork, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses than those of this company, it is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially when taken the incidental benefits by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.
